[illegible] Pittsburg Post.

[illegible], Pa., Oct. 31.—The Democratic enthusiasm is increasing with the [illegible] of the election. Yesterday all [illegible] towns in Schuylkill county [illegible] by Mr. Singerly and [illegible] with the special car party, [illegible] they were greeted by [illegible] many evidences of in-[illegible] unprecedented [illegible] waged under [illegible] of Chairman Stran-[illegible] general impression among [illegible] in these towns is that [illegible] demonstrations have made [illegible] of Congressman Reilly certain. [illegible] Schuylkill county has been [illegible] Republican majority the [illegible] next Tuesday it [illegible] to the Democratic [illegible] South Bethlehem [illegible] in the staunch Demo-[illegible] Northampton, and Al-[illegible] almost equally reliable [illegible] were visited by Mr. [illegible] who were given [illegible] everywhere. [illegible] descended in tor-[illegible] falling until noon [illegible] greatly with the first [illegible] but notwithstanding [illegible] atmospheric con-[illegible] house was crowded [illegible] Democrats, many of [illegible] distances in [illegible] attend the meet-[illegible] that which [illegible] its four [illegible]

The [illegible] a meeting, [illegible] had congregated [illegible] the Democratic candi-[illegible] that the doors of the [illegible] were thrown open, [illegible] people flocked into the [illegible] Mr. Singerly, who made [illegible] address amid tumultuous [illegible]

[illegible] the audience on the [illegible] the Democratic party is [illegible] a common platform on the [illegible] while years ago Democrats occupied all kinds of po-[illegible] Mr. Singerly referring to [illegible] at which three men, in mak-[illegible] discussed the subject from [illegible] different standpoints. At the close [illegible] demonstration three rousing [illegible] were given for Singerly, after [illegible] audience was given an opportunity to shake him by the hand.

[illegible] and waffle supper was given [illegible] American hotel, in Bethlehem, while enjoying the repast Chair-[illegible] Stranahan, who was billed for a [illegible] South Bethlehem, arrived, and [illegible] with three cheers. After [illegible] Mr. Singerly and party were [illegible] to Allentown in a gaily-deco-[illegible] trolley car, and after a big parade [illegible] great pyrotechnic display, Mr. Singerly addressed an immense meeting at the Academy of Music, in which 3,000 people were packed. Before any of the [illegible] had reached the hall it was crowded, and to accommodate the [illegible] overflow, a meeting was held in the court house, which was soon filled with enthusiastic Democrats.

Mr. Singerly met with a remarkable ovation as he was introduced by Judge Edward Harvey. He confessed that the [illegible] audiences had "swollen his [illegible]." As many of the furnaces in the [illegible] valley are idle, he dwelt [illegible] on the free ore question, claiming that if the duty on the article were removed their industries would be again started under prosperous conditions. Samuel Gustine Thompson, appointed a judge of the supreme court a few years ago by Governor Pattison, and James Beck, also made addresses. Mr. Singerly also spoke in the court house.

To-morrow meetings will be held in Carbon, Luzerne and Lackawanna counties. Before the close of the week Mr. Singerly will have made about 70 speeches.

[illegible]TS CONTRACT HOLDS.

[illegible] Which Recognizes Political Campaign Committees.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—In the district court here to-day the injunction restraining the daily "World-Herald," a Democratic newspaper, from violating [illegible] contract with the Republican state central committee to print campaign [illegible] was made permanent. The [illegible] the court, the committee's attorney contended, was sufficient to compel [illegible] performance of the contract, [illegible] was no justification for the [illegible] had taken place. Attorney for the "World-Herald" urged that [illegible] bringing the action were not [illegible] standing in a court of equity. LIBEL HOPKINS'S CHARGE.

Chicago's Mayor Has Chairman Tanner Arrested.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—John R. Tanner, chairman of the Republican state central committee, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Mayor Hopkins, charging him with having committed criminal libel in making the assertion in campaign literature that Mayor Hopkins had "levied blackmail on the vices of the city." The warrant having been issued by Justice John K. Prindiville, Mr. Tanner was taken before that magistrate and, waiving examination, was held to the criminal court in bonds of $300. Bail was given as soon as the order of the court was made, the bondsmen being State Senator Henry H. Evans, of Aurora; Wm. Thieman, Republican representative for the Seventh senatorial district; John M. Clark, ex-collector of customs, and Wm. J. Campbell.

Mayor Hopkins said to-night: "The libel has been industriously circulated throughout the state. I am accused of a vile crime, and the intent is to injure the Democratic ticket. The people have a right to know whether I am guilty. If I am, I should be impeached. I shall respectfully insist that the case be heard at once. I do not care what day this week, but it must be this week."

FRAUDS IN NEW CASTLE.

Two Hundred Names Alleged to Be Illegally Registered.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 31.—Alleged attempts at illegal registration in the First and Fourth wards of this city are said to involve more than 200 names of men who have no right to vote in the districts where they are illegally registered. There is a widespread impression that the "discovery" of the alleged frauds is merely one phase of the work of "practical politics" incidental to the bitter contests being waged in Lawrence county this fall.

Attorney A. H. Gregory has petitioned the court for a rule on the county commissioners, assessors, etc., to show cause why the names in question should not be stricken off the lists. Judge Hazen will decide the matter of granting or refusing the petition to-morrow afternoon. Particularly in the judicial contest, the campaign has developed the fiercest and most acrimonious struggle in the history of the county.

HIS NAME ON THE BALLOT.

Center County Will Give Savage the Full Democratic Vote.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 31.—It was thought at first that the name of Matt Savage, Democratic candidate for state senator, would have to be printed on a separate ballot, but the form [illegible] held open by the printer [illegible] telegram from Har[illegible] the decision of the [illegible] the name [illegible] is in [illegible] form [illegible] ballot [illegible]

Port Jervis, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Senator Hill arrived here at noon, and spoke at the opera house from 2 o'clock until 4. His speech was devoted to state issues, federal election laws and the tariff. He said that the friends of the administration were giving him a cordial support everywhere, burying past dissensions, for which he thanked them. The Hill party left on the 4:30 train for Newburgh, where Senator Hill spoke to-night. He also made 10-minute speeches at Middletown and Goshem en route.

Challenge to McKinley.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 31.—Chairman C. L. Baker and H. L. Moore, of the Democratic city and county committees, have challenged the Republican chairman to permit Hon. D. C. DeWitt, a tariff reformer of national reputation, to meet Governor McKinley on the stump upon the occasion of his visit to Erie on Friday morning of this week. The Democracy ask for only an hour for their speaker. As yet the Republicans have not answered the request.

A Tammany Hall Rally.

New York, Oct. 31.—Tammany held an enthusiastic meeting to-night. The wigwam was crowded to its utmost capacity, and everyone present appeared confident of the outcome. George B. McClellan presided, and speeches were made by Colonel Fellows, John D. McMahon, General Sickles, De Lancey Nicoll, Amos Cummings, Thomas F. Grady, Francis Bartlett and others. Overflow meetings were also held.

Big Meeting of Farmers.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

Columbiana, O., Oct. 31.—Hon. Edward S. Raff, of Canton, O., and John H. Clarke, of Youngstown, last evening addressed 600 farmers at North Lima, O. This immense gathering at this village is indicative of the progress Candidate Raff is making, as only a few nights ago the Republican candidate addressed an audience of but 35 at the same village.

Barnes Opens His Campaign.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

Barnesville, O., Oct. 31.—Monday night the Hon. A. O. Barnes, candidate for congress in this district, made his first speech in this county at the hall here. He spoke to a good-sized audience for two solid hours, speaking upon the silver question mainly. His speech was argumentative and convincing, and will without doubt strengthen the cause of Democracy here.

MRS. COVERT AGAIN.

She Is Accused of Abduction and Beating a Board Bill.

A woman who gave her name as Mrs. A. Prentice was committed to jail last evening by Alderman Anderson on a charge of obtaining board by false pretense. When she arrived at the jail Warden McAleese recognized her as a woman held in jail five weeks this summer on a similar charge, made by the authorities of the Monongahela house. There she registered as Mrs. John Covert, of Cleveland, with a maid named Ella Russell. At police headquarters the woman said her name was Valeria Morris, and that she had escaped from a sanitarium in Cleveland where she had been sent for the cure of the morphia habit. Her board there had been paid one year in advance by her father, who she said was wealthy and lived in Salem, O. She stayed there four months, got tired and left, inducing the maid to accompany her. The women were held for court, but the grand jury ignored the bill.

Then the ladies connected with the Florence mission took the women in and kept them a few days. Miss Russell went to Cincinnati and her mistress disappeared. Until yesterday Mrs. Covert had been forgotten by the police.

She was found at a house at Sheridan station on Tuesday night by Constable Z. T. Coulter, of Coraopolis. He accused her of abducting a girl named Linnie Swoger from Coraopolis last Saturday, and also of defrauding him of $7, which she owed him. He found Miss Swoger there too. The girl was turned over to her parents, while the woman, who was known to Constable Coulter as Mrs. Annie Prentice, was given a hearing before the justice at Sheridan. She was discharged, but Constable Coulter kept her in custody, brought her to the city, and, taking her before Alderman Anderson, preferred a charge against her of obtaining board by false pretense. In default of $300 bail for a hearing to-morrow, Alderman Anderson committed her to jail. Her father is a physician at Salem, O. He used to live in Allegheny.

COLONIZING WEST VIRGINIA.

Republicans Making Desperate Efforts to Defeat Wilson.

James Hood, a prominent machinist in Wilkinsburg, who returned last Saturday from West Virginia, where he had been stumping the state for William L. Wilson, said last night that the Republicans were making every effort to defeat the tariff reform champion by questionable schemes.

"I went there merely to talk to the working classes," said he, "and in them I found enthusiastic advocates of Wilson and his policy. They told me, however, that Senator Henry G. Davis and his son-in-law, Stephen B. Elkins, the magnates of the state, had been bringing northern and Republican labor into the district. They have all been brought in within the last year, and are principally from Pennsylvania. They said even if they thought it proper to vote for Wilson the fear of losing their positions would deter them. They said they were continually being annoyed by their employers as to their position in the great contest. They revealed their position, however, when they told me if Pittsburg could furnish a reform tariff mechanic they could vote for Wilson with safety. The Democratic managers are watching the alleged colonization of the district very closely, and it is the intention of Chairman McGraw to prevent anyone from voting who is not entitled to cast a ballot."

BETTER ARMS FOR SOLDIERS.

General Flagler's Report to the Secretary of War.

Washington, Oct. 31.—In his annual report to the secretary of war, General Flagler, chief of ordnance, makes a strong point of the insufficiency of the appropriations for arming and equipping the militia. He says there is an urgent demand from most of the states to have their arms changed for a later and better model. The efficiency of the National Guard in actual service demands this, and the present appropriations render it impossible to effect the change of more than a small percentage of arms each year. The report sums up under different heads the work accomplished during the year, and the present state of development of the various military weapons and [illegible] under the [illegible]

[illegible] Imperial Vice-Chancellor.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—The "Lokal Anzeiger" says that Dr. Miquel, Prussian minister of finance, has been appointed imperial vice-chancellor, to assist Prince von Hohenlohe.

London, Nov. 1.—The correspondent of the "Standard" at Berlin telegraphs that he believes that the statement that Dr. Miquel has been appointed imperial vice-chancellor, is unfounded. He adds that the appointment of Baron Marschall von Bierberstein, imperial foreign minister, to a position without portfolio, in the Prussin ministry, insures the continuance of ex-Chancellor Caprivi's commercial treaty policy. A dispatch from Rome to the "Standard" says that the appointment of Prince von Hohenlohe as imperial German chancellor is not favored by the vatican, as he is an adversary of papal infallibility, and adverse to the pope's interference in politics.

THE COOKS SCATTERED.

They Have Completely Outwitted Indian Police.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 31.—There are no new developments in the Cook outlaw situation. The Indian police have returned, after a week out, without making any progress toward locating the gang. They are to-day reported to be on Blue Creek, about 12 miles from here, but the origin of the report cannot be learned, and it is only partially credited, though a force of officers have gone out there to see about it. The gang has about quit depredations, and has scattered in all directions. They are not likely to be captured soon.

Firm Not Insolvent.

Steubenville, O., Oct. 31.—The Jewett car company has made a deed of assignment to C. D. Beebout. The firm was not insolvent, but the affairs needed readjustment. All liabilities will be paid in full, and the company will resume work shortly.

NEWS OF THREE STATES.

The 5-year-old son of Timothy Davis, of Parkersburg, W. Va., was burned to death in the destruction of his father's house while the housekeeper was absent shopping.

Miss May Wein, of Akron, O., was so badly frightened by a dog jumping at her Tuesday night that she fell in a faint, is still unconscious and her life is despaired of.

The electric light plant of East Liverpool, O., was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, entailing a loss of $10,000, with insurance of $5,000. Last night the city was in darkness.

Hiram P. MacKnight, serving a term in the Ohio state prison at Columbus for forgery, will be taken to Washington, D. C., next Saturday to plead in his own behalf for a pardon.

John Gillett and Henry McLain went fishing Tuesday in the Tuscarawas river, between Bolivar and Massillon, O. Both being intoxicated, the boat was upset and McLain drowned.

While Bowden McCreery and his son were loading logs, near Huntington, W. Va., Tuesday evening, one of the timbers slipped and crushed father and son so badly that the former was killed instantly and the latter died last night.

At Salem, O., the Central district and printing company, in conjunction with the American telephone and telegraph company, has completed its long-distance lines, connecting Salem with the principal eastern and western cities.

Through the use of a mixture of insect powder and tobacco, Tuesday night, Wm. McConnell, of Warren, O., came very near effectually curing himself of the smoking habit, but after several hours' hard work the physicians now promise his recovery.

Burglars broke into Ferguson & Bros' store at Altoona, Pa., Tuesday night, poisoned the watchdog and blew open City Treasurer Ferguson's safe. A large sum of money had been removed from the safe on Monday, and the robbers secured only $10 and a diamond ring. Suspicion points to an alleged ex-convict named Ward and two of his pals, who were caught yesterday morning.

ACCUSED ON THE STAND.

LAWYER GOFF CHARGES THAT SHEEHAN IS A DEFAULTER.

HARD WORDS USED IN COURT.

The Startling Evidence Which the Lexow Counsel Produced.

COMPTROLLER MAHONEY'S STORY.

New York, Oct. 31.—Chairman Lexow, of the senate police investigating committee, intimated at the opening of to-day's session that should Commissioner Sheehan show further recalcitrancy Mr. Goff would be likely to take him off the witness stand and certify the matter to the grand jury. James W. Boyle, a Tammany leader, of the Ninth assembly district, was first placed on the stand to-day.

"Did you send out a notice," asked Mr. Goff, "calling for a list of people who are under police protection?"

"I did not."

"When a saloonkeeper wants a license, do you not force him to join Tammany hall?"

"I ask him, but use no threats."

Commissioner Sheehan was called to the stand.

"Did you ever hear that some one, acting in your name, had news stands suppressed which sold papers politically opposed to your organization?" resumed Mr. Goff.

"I heard something about it. The man had no authority to use my name."

"Did you know that certain newspapers had to establish a special delivery system in your district?"

"I heard so. It was a filthy sheet. The people in my district are sick of reading it, I suppose."

"What is its name?"

"I am not prepared to say."

"Are you afraid?" The commissioner colored and shifted in his seat, and said in a low tone:

"No, I'm not afraid of newspapers."

"What is its name?"

"I am not prepared to say."

"The witness must answer," ruled the chair.

Then occurred an exciting scene. Senator Cantor spoke up excitedly:

"Don't put that down, stenographer." Then to Chairman Lexow: "Why don't you put the question to vote? You are not the whole board." The chairman attempted to cut him off with his gavel. "You can't drown me," shouted Senator Cantor. Then Mr. Goff caused additional excitement by saying in a high pitched voice:

Court Room Packed.

"Information has reached me that [illegible] is packed with [illegible] [illegible] it must be taken," said the chairman.

"I want the spectators removed," demanded Mr. Goff. "There is a clique here. While I cannot believe Senator Cantor has passed these men in, they are here."

"They must not make any demonstration or they will be ordered out," said the chairman.

"There are only three Pequod club members here," broke in the commissioner.

Then Counsel Goff asked for the commissioner's bank books. The commissioner refused to give them up. He would let Mr. Goff look at the books at any specified date, but he would not let him have the free use of them.

"What did you do with the $6,000 Policeman Townshend paid you to be promoted to a sergeantcy, when he received $10,000 from a railroad company as indemnity for his parents' death?" The commissioner said he had never received the money.

After recess Mr. Goff went into the reported visit of Commissioner Sheehan to Wall street to sell, advance information as to the decision of the court of appeals in the sugar trust matter. The witness denied that he was a "huckster of decisions," as charged by a local paper.

"You would not appoint a man who had committed a crime?"

"No."

"You are a defaulter, though?" exclaimed Mr. Goff.

"I am not," the witness said quietly. "I can explain what you are getting at."

Mr. Goff produced papers and documents bearing the witness' signatures, for the purpose of proving that Commissioner Sheehan misappropriated $4,000 while comptroller of the city of Buffalo. The commissioner told how he had requested the mayor to have his accounts examined, and when a shortage was discovered he refunded the amount, $4,100. He claimed that his coupon and trust accounts became mixed.

An Alleged Misrepresentation.

Mr. Goff asked: "Did you turn over to your successor the accounts of the trust fund; the whole of them?"

The witness did not answer positively.

"Did you turn over $86,319 84, the amount of coupon tnd trust accounts?"

"I turned over the amount on the paper you have in your hand."

"Do you claim," asked Senator O'Connor, "that the balance of the trust account was withheld with the coupon account?"

"I do, sir."

"Now, sir, is it not a fact that you misappropriated that $3,690 24?"

"It is not true, sir."

Mr. Goff read the following document, dated November 9, 1883:

"Received from John C. Sheehan the sum of $5,900 in payment of any deficit that may be in his accounts on a proper examination.

(Signed) T. J. MALONEY,
SCHUYLER EAGAN."

Mr. Goff read another letter dated December 8, 1893. It was addressed to T. J. Maloney, and read as follows:

Dear Sir—You are hereby authorized and requested to use and pay and put the money paid by me for the purpose of making good the shortage which was in my account at the time I turned over the comptroller's office to you.

(Signed) JOHN C. SHEEHAN."

Commissioner Sheehan stepped down to give way to Timothy J. Maloney, ex-comptroller of Buffalo. Mr. Maloney identified the coupon receipts, and the trust fund receipts.

"Who gave you these receipts?" asked Mr. Goff.

"Mr. Sheehan's brother, William."

"I told Will," said he, "that I would not sign the receipts for money which I had not received, and asked him to tell John to come and see me. He came in later, and I told him to pay up as soon as possible."

"Did he say that the coupon account was mixed up with the trust account?"

"No."

COW IN THE CHIMNEY.

Halloween Prank That Was Cruel. Several Boys Arrested.

Someone bent on a halloween joke put a cow in the chimney at Cornelius McLaughlin's home on Garfield avenue. The house is an old-fashioned, one-story structure, with a very large chimney, accessible from the hillside. The police had to help him remove the animal, which was considerably singed.

John Terankin, aged 13, was the only halloween offender arrested on the Southside. He was locked up for pulling a shutter off a house on South Twenty-ninth street.

In Allegheny three arrests were made. The prisoners were J. H. Hall, who tore a shutter off a Rebecca street house; Albert McFarland, who tore up part of a boardwalk on Perrysville avenue, and John Richardson, who did likewise.

CHANGES STREET GRADES.

Allegheny Committee Recommends a Batch of Ordinances.

The committee on surveys, of Allegheny, met last night and recommended the following ordinances to be printed for the use of councils: Widening of Hanover street to 50 feet from Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad tracks to Preble avenue; widening Grand avenue from Brighton avenue to Central avenue; changing the grade of Wilson avenue from Pennsylvania avenue to Drum street; changing the grade of Sumner street fom Winifred street to Wolfe alley; changing the grade of McDonald way from Marshall avenue to Halsey place. The last ordinance recommends the low grade, and is the one H. L. Graham, who owns property on McDonald way, has been fighting so long. Mr. Graham favors the low grade.

Charged With Embezzlement.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 31.—One week ago Assistant Cashier Charles Wilkinson resigned his place at the national bank in this city, on a demand made by the bank officials. To-day a warrant was issued for his arrest, charging him with embezzling $3,600 of the funds of the bank. He is trying to settle the matter with the bank and escape arrest. He is a son of the late William Wilkinson, who was sheriff of Wayne county, and has been very popular in society circles here.

Decision Favors Employes.

Baltimore, Oct. 31.—Judge Morris, of the United States court, to-day handed down his decision in the Baltimore & Lehigh railroad wages cases. This gives them nearly $20,000, for which they have been making a hard fight against the bondholders.

JAMES HERDMAN DEAD.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK OF THIS CITY PASSES AWAY.

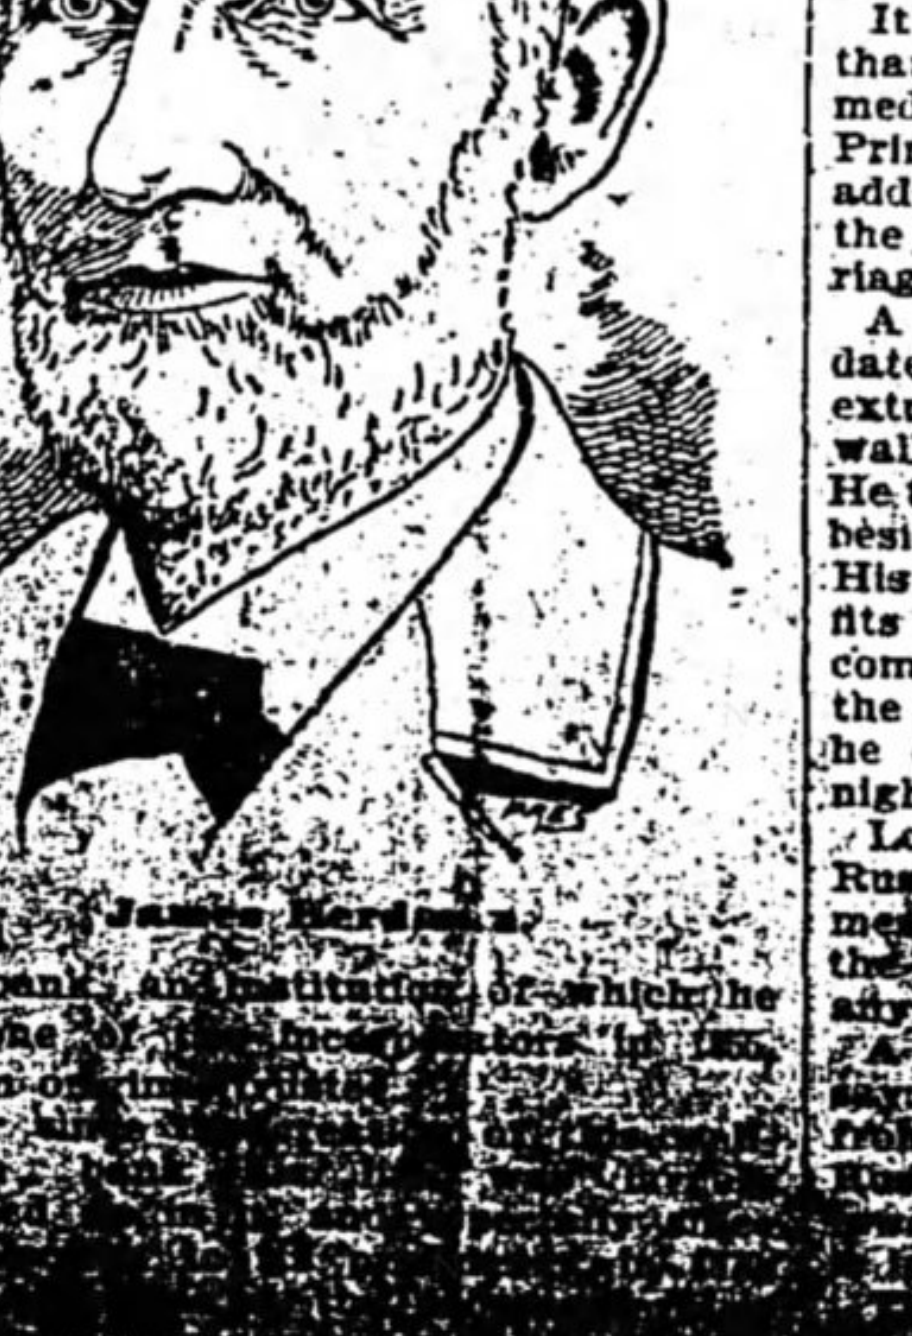
AN ILLNESS OF SOME WEEKS.

A Brief Sketch of His Long Life in Pittsburg.

HIS CONNECTION WITH MASONRY.

James Herdman, president of the Dollar savings bank of this city, died at 7 o'clock last evening, at his residence, No. 30 Arch street, Allegheny city. His fatal illness had its inception in pneumonia several weeks ago, but other complications of a grave character followed, and for a week or more his friends had understood that his recovery was practically out of the question.

Mr. Herdman was born in Washington county, Pa., November 26, 1815. He was one of a family of six brothers and six sisters. Mr. Herdman came to Pittsburg in early life and engaged in the leather business, having his establishment at Diamond alley and on Wood street until September, 1870, when he was elected president of the Dollar savings bank, an institution of which he was one of the incorporators in 1855. [illegible]



James Herdman.

[illegible] president until his death. He was, moreover, president of the Peoples insurance company, and connected less prominently with other financial institutions of this city. He was a long-headed, clear-sighted financier, and his association with institutions of the character here named was solicited by those who were identified with them and who knew his sagacity and capacity.

When he took charge of the Dollar savings bank as president in January, 1870, the deposits at that date were $2,361,479, and the number of depositors was 7,833. These figures disclose the gradual growth of the business of the bank in the 15 years that had passed since 1855. When Mr. Herdman ultimately became identified with it as its chief officer he brought to its development all his financial acumen, business sagacity, and well-established commercial methods. The result was that on the 1st of June, 1894, the deposits of the bank amounted in round numbers to $14,635,000, and the number of depositors was 34,681.

Mr. Herdman had a marvelous capacity for hard work, an attribute of all men who have acquired any distinction in public or private life. This quality, with his care and wise judgment, materially aided in making the Dollar savings bank what it is. He passed on all securities, and made absolute safety the prime pre-requisite of all loans. No chances were risked. Although the bank's dividends are but 4 per cent annually, they could easily have ben made 6 by a less conservative management.

Under the direction of Mr. Herdman the management of the bank was never permitted to lose sight of the fact that it was designed especially as a savings institution, for the benefit of the poor, and not of the rich. This is disclosed by its rule regulating deposits. The bank receives no single deposit in excess of $1,000, nor will it allow any depositor to place in the aggregate more than $10,000 with the bank, so that the highest individual deposit in the bank now is $10,000. The bank pays 4 per cent dividends, and many wealthy people, to secure this income, would gladly deposit with the bank sums of from $100,000 up; but they are prevented by the policy which restricts deposits to $10,000. Thus it is seen that the bank is in fact a savings institution for the peculiar benefit of the poor, and is not in any respect designed to forward the prospects of the wealthy.

Mr. Herdman was an active, conscientious member of the Masonic fraternity for nearly 50 years, and held many offices of honor in that order, including a membership on the finance committee of the grand lodge of Philadelphia. He was prominently identified through his connection with Masonry, with the building of that noble specimen of architecture at Philadelphia known as the Masonic temple.

His life-long devotion to this fraternity has greatly endeared him to his fellow-workers. He was a member of Milnor lodge, and since 1886 has acted as treasurer of that body. While on the committee of finance of the grand lodge of Pennsylvania, where he served with distinction for many years, his counsel and advice were always solicited, and in most cases acted upon. In all his business undertakings in Masonic circles he paid particular attention to details, and every matter in which he had a hand was always transacted with such clearness that no question was ever raised concerning it. He had been in his time an active member and officer of all the various Masonic bodies, and was elected to the highest office, or thirty-third degree, of the A. & A. rite.

Mr. Herdman was one of the organizers of the Consolidated charity fund. He was up to the time of his death one of the trustees of the Masonic fund society, which owns the Masonic temple on Fifth avenue. He was the last of the charter members of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite in this city, and it was largely through his leadership that it became recognized as one of the strongest in the Union.

He also served as a member of council from the Third ward of Pittsburgh for many years, being in this capacity a contemporary of Alex Speer, James McAuley, Alex Bradley and others. He was also a school director, and a member of the railroad sinking fund commission.

The deceased was no politician in any sense, but was a life-long Democrat. He served the Dollar savings bank, the city, and the people, faithfully in every duty to which he was called. The death of such men is a public misfortune.

AN INSURANCE DODGE.

Companies Made Policy-Holders Pay the State Tax.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

Columbus, Oct. 31.—State Insurance Commissioner Hahn has discovered that a number of life insurance companies doing business in this state are requiring policy holders to pay the 2½ per cent tax upon gross receipts which the state collects by deducting the amount when paying the policy. He issued a ruling against this to-day, and will revoke the license of any company hereafter reported to be engaged in the practice.

GROWING WEAKER.

CZAR SINKING FAST, AND COLLAPSE HOURLY EXPECTED.

The Czar's Disgraced Cousin Unable to See His Majesty.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The official bulletin issued from Livadia at [illegible] o'clock this evening says:

"His majesty has taken little nourishment. The congestion of the left lung continues. The breathing is difficult and the pulse is weak. The general weakness of the patient is greatly increased."

A semi-official telegram from Livadia says that there has been a sensible increase in the general weakness of the czar, and in the weakness of his pulse. The congestion of the lungs continues.

It was semi-officially announced to-day that all the reports regarding the immediate marriage of the czarowitz to Princess Alix are unfounded. It is added that it was never proposed since the illness of the czar that the marriage should take place hurriedly.

A letter received here from Livadia, dated Monday last, says: "The czar is extremely weak and hardly able to walk, but he has not abandoned hope. He tries to reassure the czarine, who is beside herself with grief and anxiety. His majesty has frequent somnolent fits which he does his utmost to overcome. He often refuses medicine, and the sentries outside the quarters which he occupies, hear groaning during the night."

London, Oct. 31.—The officials of the Russian embassy received a telegraphic message to-day saying that the end of the czar's life may be expected at any moment.

A dispatch from Berlin to the [illegible] says that Prof. [illegible] from Livadia [illegible] Russian [illegible] incurable [illegible] was an increase in the spitting of blood with violent shivering. His limbs were numb, his breathing was oppressive, and his legs were swollen more than ever.

Yalta, Oct. 31.—The czar suffers fits of suffocation. To-day he was unconscious for several hours. The day was warm and the sky cloudless. Early this morning his majesty tried to read state dispatches, but he was too weak. During his violent fits of coughing particles of lung were brought away.

It is alleged that there has been a serious quarrel between Prof. Leyden and Dr. Zacharin, the former reproaching his colleague with aggravating the czar's illness by his brutal frankness. Dr. Zacharin, it is said, retorted angrily, and was prevented from leaving Livadia only by the interference of General Tcherevin, who threatened to forcibly detain him.

Grand Duke Alexis Michaelovitch, cousin of the czar, who was disgraced and banished to the Caucasus several years ago, arrived here recently, wishing to see the czar and ask his pardon before he died. The czar declined to see him, and the grand duke departed after seeing his other relatives. The newspapers have been prohibited from mentioning the visit until the grand duke's father shall have ordered the censor to allow the fact to be published.

The czar's treatment by his physicians is unchanged. He takes digitalis and aconite, and drinks a great deal of milk.

Hogs Dying by Hundreds.

Janesville, Wis., Oct. 31.—The hog cholera is raging with fearful fatality in this section, hundreds of hogs dying in a few hours after the disease is noticed. State Veterinary Surgeon Frank G. Toussaint claims to have a sure remedy for the hog cholera. Last evening he inocculated a horse, and three hours later killed the horse, feeding the carcass to the diseased hogs. He claims that the hogs will recover after eating this inocculated meat.

Miners Killed.

Nanticoke, Pa., Oct. 31.—William Jones and George Buckland, miners, were drowned by a rush of water from an old working while they were cleaning up a gangway in the mines of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company on the Hanover and Nanticoke town line to-day. George Jones, also a miner, was killed by a fall of rock to-day in the mines of the same company at Auchincloss. He leaves a wife and six children.

Topolobampo No Failure.

Mexico City, Oct. 31.—Colonel Owens, the founder of the Topolobampo colony, on being interviewed here said the dispatches from Abilene announcing the failure of the Topolobampo colony were false, and sent out by parties who were hostile to the company.

HELP THE DEMOCRATIC CAUSE.

You can do no more effective work in behalf of the Democratic party and its candidates than to do what you can toward inducing your neighbor to subscribe regularly for THE POST. If he is a Democrat he ought to take it anyhow. It is head, shoulders and trunk above any other penny paper in the city of Pittsburg, a statement which anyone can verify for himself simply by comparing this paper with the others. If your neighbor is a Republican it would do him good to let into his mind some solid truth on the tariff question; and THE POST is absolutely the only paper in Pittsburg, in whose columns that truth is to be found.

Therefore help your party, help yourself, help your neighbor, help us, help everybody by helping THE POST.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

New York, Oct. 31.—As the close of the campaign draw near the [illegible] for Democratic success grow [illegible] brighter. Senator Hill's canvass [illegible] under a cloud. His party was [illegible] there seemed scant hopes for [illegible] and against him was a man of [illegible] wealth and colorless character [illegible] would not arouse Republican [illegible] and was certain to draw out [illegible] ing strength. But Senator Hill [illegible] fighter. No one understood the [illegible] aging circumstances better than [illegible] when the nomination was [illegible] him and he decided to accept [illegible] gan that strong, earnest, [illegible] paign which more than once [illegible] the united Democracy of New York [illegible] around him and brought glorious [illegible] to the ticket. He has never [illegible] feated yet, and conditions [illegible] changed since the Saratoga [illegible] that at the present time the [illegible] for Democratic victory next Tuesday [illegible] as good as they were in either [illegible] previous campaigns when he ran [illegible] was elected governor.

At every place he has appeared [illegible] enthusiasm has been unbounded [illegible] plain people of the state have [illegible] around him in a way that has [illegible] his most sanguine expectations. [illegible] a brief visit to this city [illegible] ing at 8:25 a. m. from [illegible] leaving an hour later for [illegible] where he was booked [illegible] morrow he will [illegible] brief conference with [illegible] and go in the afternoon [illegible] where he will [illegible] This gives a fair [illegible] doing.

There was quite [illegible] gers in the depot [illegible] They gave [illegible]

[illegible] Democratic candidates [illegible] majority. "Governor Flower [illegible] has been through the state, and [illegible] tive that the Republican vote against Hill will not be greater than it was against Mr. Flower when he was elected," continued Mr. Thacher.

All arrangements for the reception of Governor Flower and Speaker Crisp on Saturday night in Brooklyn have been made. Governor Flower will arrive in Jersey City at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, and will go to Brooklyn via the annex boat, arriving at the armory while Speaker Crisp is hard at it. Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, is expected to be there also. To-night ex-President Harrison fulfilled his promise to make one speech for Morton by appearing at Carnegie music hall. He was escorted thither from the Fifth avenue hotel by half a dozen Republican clubs, and a big crowd turned out to hear him. An ex-president of the United States can always draw a crowd. Harrison did not arouse any phenomenal amount of enthusiasm, however, and there were none of those scenes of wild excitement which prevailed when Hill spoke in this city and in Brooklyn.

In the pouring rain this morning Chauncey M. Depew started for Jersey City to make his tour of the lower tier of counties in his private train. He will stop at numerous small towns and cross roads to make speeches for Morton. He will be gone four days, and the program calls for 43 speeches. His first two stops to-day were at Hillburn and Middletown, where small crowds turned out to heer him.

GREAT RALLY IN PEORIA.

Campbell, Morrison and Stevenson the Speakers.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 31.—Vice-President Stevenson, ex-Governor Campbell, of Ohio, and the Hon. William R. Morrison, were the guests of the local Democracy to-day. They arrived here this morning, and were met at the depot by the reception committee. They were driven to the National hotel, where they made their headquarters, and during the day many of their friends called to see them. This afternoon a meeting was held in the Grand opera house, 1,700 people being present. Frank Quinn, assistant state attorney, was chairman, and introduced the vice-president, who, for three-quarters of an hour, talked on the tariff and income tax, and showed what the Democratic party had done since coming into power.

Mr. Morrison followed with a lengthy address, and ex-Governor Campbell briefly responded to loud calls. To-night there was a parade nearly a mile long, delegations being present from Lacon, Pekin, Hanna City and other places. This demonstration was followed by another meeting at the Grand opera house, ex-Governor Campbell being the principal speaker. He was followed by others with short addresses.

TWO LIBEL SUITS.

Congressman Hines Sues a Hazleton Paper for Detraction.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 31.—Congressman Hines, who is the Democratic candidate for re-election in the Twelfth district, brought his political enemies up with a sharp turn to-day. He brought two suits against the Hazleton "Sentinel," which is the organ of his Republican opponent, John Leisenring. One is a civil suit for $100,000, and the other criminal.

Alvin Markle and State Senator C. N. Kline are among the names as publishers of the "Sentinel." Leisenring is worth $2,000,000, and Markle about the same. Hines says his political enemies, finding they cannot best him with all their money, are trying to pull down his character by the aid of the press.

A REVIEW OF THE OUTLOOK IN THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

SIPE'S FINE PROSPECTS.

The Elements He Has Attracted to His Support.

ACHESON JUST AS WEAK AS EVER.

Special to The Pittsburgh Post.

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 31.—There have been marked changes in political conditions in Fayette county within the past 10 days. Democrats who were apathetic and indifferent but recently are thoroughly aroused and intent upon winning now, and the Democratic strength is increasing daily.

The first pronounced advance in the Democratic lines immediately followed the Hastings meeting held here 10 days ago. It was not a great success from a Republican standpoint, and as soon as it was held Democrats who had taken no part began falling into line, and the party has become aggressive, and there is a determination to win.

The Democratic cause was aided greatly by the visit of Colonel Singerly last week. The audiences which greeted him here and in Connellsville were large and enthusiastic, and composed of representative Democrats from all parts of the county. These went home from the meetings encouraged and full of fight. They have been active since, and their good work is felt in all parts of the county. Daily the number of workers increases, and all indications point to a Democratic majority in the county.

Congressman Sipe, in the beginning of his campaign, had opposition which seemed formidable. It came from the large number which was disappointed in the distribution of the patronage. It looked for a time that he would lose a large number of votes, but most of those who were disappointed are thorough Democrats, worthy of office because of their fidelity to Democratic principles. Such never scratched a Democratic ticket, and they will not do it now when a great battle is being waged for Democratic principles.

Not one in ten of those who opposed Mr. Sipe three months ago is opposing him now, and the number will grow smaller [illegible] this until election day. [illegible] ave been classed as Demo- [illegible] l vote against him are very [illegible] number who feel too much [illegible] ppointment to vote for [illegible] vote against him. They [illegible] voting for anyone. [illegible] e disappointed, as a [illegible] enough to know that [illegible] n the principles of [illegible] at stake, and [illegible] oo well to stab it, [illegible] ke one man. All [illegible] e county favor [illegible] are many Re- [illegible] of McKinleyism [illegible] so. This latter [illegible] to make up to [illegible] vill loose from the [illegible] eekers.

[illegible] ources from which [illegible] gth. The old sol- [illegible] rests he has been [illegible] he has aided, will, [illegible] m. They feel that [illegible] soldier, and because [illegible] e political faith as the [illegible] e can be of more serv- [illegible] n Mr. Acheson could [illegible] ow willing the latter [illegible] by the desire for free navigation of the Monongahela in this county. That would greatly benefit many of our people. They know Sipe favors a free river. They are also informed that C. L. Magee, the Pittsburg leader, opposes a free river, because many Republican politicians hold stock in the navigation company. They believe that Magee owns Acheson and that the latter could not favor a free river if he desired to do so, because of the opposition to it on the part of Magee. Mr. Sipe will profit by the unholy alliance between Magee and Acheson.

As a rule, Mr. Sipe's appointments in this county have been good. Unfortunately he did not have enough offices to reward all the deserving Democrats who applied to him. But no matter how good the appointments a congressman makes, they are a source of weakness rather than strength when the number of applicants largely exceeds the number of offices. In other directions Mr. Sipe has greatly strengthened himself and it looks as if his majority in Fayette this year will nearly or altogether equal that of 1892, when he had 600 over Mr. Acheson. The latter lost no votes in Fayette in 1892 on the Jobes issue, and he cannot poll as many votes as he polled in his former race.

The other candidates upon the Democratic ticket will run up with Mr. Sipe in this county, some of them ahead of him. H.

ACTIVE AND VIGILANT.

Washington County Democrats Never in Better Trim Than Now.

Special to The Pittsburgh Post.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 31.—The Democratic party of Washington county is well organized and will poll a very large vote. The reaction has set in, and the apathy which has marked some other parts of the state has never reached here. The registry lists show 20,000 voters enrolled, and of these the Republicans claim but 9,000. The indications are that they will not have over 7,500 and that Hon. W. A. Sipe will have a majority over Acheson. Mr. Sipe is personally known and well liked by the majority of the committeemen. He is popular with the labor element, whilst Acheson is unknown to the unions, save as their opponent.

It is said that during the past two years every union printer has been weeded out of the Washington "Advertiser" office, and the members of the typographical union are not backward in making the fact known to other labor organizations.

During his incumbency Mr. Sipe has won the regard of the old soldiers by diligent attention to their interests, and they will vote for him. As boss of the county Acheson has so distributed the county patronage that no old soldier has been appointed mercantile appraiser, commissioner's clerk, janitor or fireman, although several applied for each position. This, combined with the forcing of his cousins on the county ticket when old soldiers who were better qualified were seeking the nominations and were thrust to one side, will lose him many votes which will go to the Democratic nominee.

In this county the Populist strongholds are located in districts previously Republican. The accessions by the growth of Charleroi and other new towns show Democratic majorities on the poll.

Mr. Acheson has advocated a new court house, an additional law judge and other schemes which would increase taxes upon farmers. When they compare their state and county rate of 3¼ mills with the 1 mill county tax levied in Allegheny county, they say, "No more Acheson in ours." So far as we can learn, every wager offered by a Republican that Acheson will be elected has been promptly covered, in some instances Republicans taking the Sipe end against the Acheson adherents.

The large circulation of "The Post" and the Washington "Democrat" throughout this county cannot fail to be of great advantage, not only to Mr. Sipe, but to the whole ticket.

WILL POLL A LARGE VOTE.

Lethargy No Longer Prevails in Staunch Old Greene County.

Special to The Pittsburgh Post.

Waynesburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—I have been taking some interest in politics in this county for the last 30 years or more, and I never recollect having witnessed a quieter or less interesting campaign than the present until within the last two or three weeks. Our Democratic majority is so large and so reliable that after the primaries are held and county candidates determined upon, the successful aspirants deem it unnecessary to make any further efforts to secure their success in November. This tends to make our campaigns quiet and less interesting during the summer and fall. But the present season this has been more than ordinarily the case.

Within the past week or ten days, however, the Democracy appears to be arousing from their lethargy and putting themselves in readiness for the coming battle. We have the best and most reliable Democracy in the state, and though they sometimes appear lukewarm or indifferent during the campaign, they make it a rule to do their duty on election day. They are a little singular in another respect—with very few exceptions every man who calls himself a Democrat and participates in the Democratic primaries, feels in honor bound to support the regularly nominated candidates of the party with the utmost integrity.

And as a rule the few exceptions of which I speak, are men who have fattened upon the suffrages of the Democratic party, and have come to think they really own the party, and are badly disgruntled whenever they cannot dictate all nominations and have everything their own way. The chances of Mr. Sipe for re-election appear to be growing brighter every day. A month or two ago I could hear of an occasional disappointed Democratic officeseeker, who was disposed to vote against Mr. Sipe in consequence of disappointment, but this, as far as I can learn, has mostly disappeared, and the very men who were disposed to do so for this cause, seem to have discovered the bad policy, and injustice of it, and have resolved to stand by the nominee of the party.

Again, the old soldiers of the county very generally entertain a high regard for Mr. Sipe, because of his marked kindness and prompt attention to their wants and interests. Besides this, Mr. Sipe is personally liked by our people without respect to party. He is looked upon as a straightforward, frank and highly companionable man, who entertains a high regard for the people of Greene county generally, while the exact reverse of this is true in regard to his opponent, Mr. Acheson. It is my belief, therefore, that there are many Republicans of the more conservative and thoughtful class, who will vote for Mr. Sipe, and that he will run considerably ahead of his party ticket in Greene county. P.

CHAS. A. O'BRIEN'S VIEWS.

He Thinks Sipe's Prospects Are Most Encouraging.

Attorney Charles O'Brien, of Pittsburg, who is managing Mr. Sipe's campaign, is hopeful the latter will win out. He is conducting an aggressive contest, and is a very busy man these last days of the canvass. In speaking of the matter yesterday he said:

"It was thought at the time Mr. Sipe was nominated, that the prospect of his election was very poor, and that there was a great deal of dissatisfaction throughout the district among those who had supported him in 1892 that would militate against his success; but many things have occurred since then to give assurance not only that his canvass is not hopeless, but also that there are reasonable expectations of a repetition of his victory of 1892. Such dissatisfaction as may have existed in some portions of his district has been appeased, and the candidate is receiving the hearty support of all his Democratic constituents. In fact, the nearer we approach election the more the true party spirit appears, and the Democrats, whatever their differences may have been, see the necessity of making their best effort to hold the district for the incoming congress, and they are doing noble work in the district.

"Acheson, who has been foisted on the Republicans for the second time against their will, is necessarily weaker than he ever was, and is certainly no more acceptable now to those who refused to support him in 1892 than he was in that year. He has placated none of his ancient enemies, and has made few friends since he went down two years ago under a crushing majority.

"We have every reason at this time to believe that the success of Congressman Sipe, in his present campaign, is well assured, and that the Twenty-fourth district will be represented by a good, straight Democrat in the Fifty-fourth congress."

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

William Green's Experience With a Gas Fixture in the Dark.

New York, Oct. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Green, of White Plains, had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation early this morning. At 2 a. m. Mr. Green arose to open the door for a boarder. When he returned to bed he struck the gas fixture in his room with his head, but thought nothing of it. The blow turned on the gas.

In the morning Mr. Green's daughter knocked at the door, but received no reply, and, smelling the gas, she quickly aroused her two brothers. When they entered the room they found it full of gas. Both Mr. and Mrs. Green were unconscious. Mr. Green was soon restored to consciousness. Mrs. Green did not recover until late in the afternoon.

A Card.

Subscribers representing from six to seven-tenths of the surplus fund in the hands of the G. A. R. entertainment committee have ordered the applications of their shares to the establishment of Grand Army scholarships in the Western University of Pennsylvania. Only about $24,000 of the original subscription have not been heard from. Parties who have not yet signed their orders to apply their shares of the surplus in this way, and who approve of the plan, are requested to do so at once, and return the orders in the stamped envelopes which they have received from me. If you subscribed $1, your share of the surplus will be about 14 cents. If you subscribed $5, your share will be 70 cents. Do not fail to sign and mail me the order because the amount to be returned is so small. "Every little helps." This is the popular movement. Respectfully,

WAGES AND THE TARIFF.

THE NEW LAW HAS NO EFFECT ON THE IRON AND STEEL WORKERS' INCOMES.

WHAT LABOR LEADERS SAY.

Big Crowd Going to Fairmont Saturday to Help Wilson.

IN THE LOCAL POLITICAL FIELD.

If all the facts were known, there are legions of workers in the iron and steel trades in this section who are not the high protectionists they are commonly supposed. The men take a practical view of the matter, and in considering the results of the Democratic tariff reform, and comparing the conditions before and after, are beginning to see plainly that the new tariff law is not going to produce the evils predicted by the manufacturers, who see a portion of their enormous profits lopped off.

This was illustrated by a discussion at the headquarters of the Amalgamated association yesterday.

"The Republicans are doing a very bad thing in sending John Jarrett into West Virginia to speak against Wilson," said a labor leader. "Jarrett in the early 80s was president of the Amalgamated association. He is now the agent of the manufacturers, and is employed to work against the interests of the very men whose cause he espoused years ago. Under such circumstances, how can the voters of West Virginia swallow what he says? The Republicans are making a very feeble attempt to advance their interests by sending Mr. Jarrett to bolster up their cause."

"The truth of the matter is, the Wilson bill isn't half as bad as people suppose," said another.

"Is it not a fact that no reductions in the iron and steel trades have taken place that can be attributed to the tariff, barring the subject of tin plate?" was asked.

"It is true."

"And is it not the case that the workers had assurances from the manufacturers after the schedule was known that reductions were not necessary?"

"Yes," was the reply. "The tin-plate manufacturers were the only ones that requested any reduction, and as that is not deserved, we don't mean to allow it. By their own admissions they had a clean profit of $20 per ton before the passage of the new bill."

For those who desire to go to Fairmont, W. Va., next Saturday, to participate in the Wilson meeting, the Baltimore & Ohio has made a rate of $2 for the round trip. The tickets are good returning on Sunday. The Randall club special will leave at 7:40 a. m. The time for the departure of the regular train for Fairmont is 7:20. The Randall club expects to turn out 200 strong, not including the band which will accompany them. P. N. Guthrie will be the marshal of the parade. The members of the club assembled at 7 a. m., in full uniform—white hats, mackintoshes, badges, white gloves and canes—and will march to the station. All members whose place of residence makes it inexpedient for them to report at the clubhouse can join the club at the station. If Marshal Guthrie is notified the train will stop at stations to take on members. All members of the club who do not intend to participate in the meeting are requested to turn in for the use of others the uniforms in their possession. There will be a special meeting of the club to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of making final arrangements for the trip. Tickets will be for sale at this meeting to all members of the club.

The County Democracy, the Woods Run escort club and the Young Men's Democratic club, of the Eleventh and Thirteenth wards, will send good-sized delegations to Fairmont.

There will be a mass meeting of the Democrats of the Monongahela Valley at Charleroi Saturday. It is expected there will be a great crowd present to hear the issues of the campaign discussed. The speakers will be Hon. W. A. Sipe, Charles A. O'Brien, John Marron, William J. Brennen and William Walls, of this city, and Robert J. Irwin, J. M. Branden and Charles Arbogast, of Washington, Pa., John C. Bane, chairman of the Washington county committee, will preside. The speech-making will commence at 2 p. m., and the tariff, as affecting coal, wool and glass, will be freely discussed. Excursion rates on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston, and the Pittsburg, McKeesport & Belle Vernon, roads have been secured. The upriver boats also will carry passengers at excursion rates.

D. F. Patterson, John Marron, J. J. Miller and Charles A. Fagan will address a Democratic meeting at old Turner hall, Lawrenceville, this evening. All the indications are that the meeting will be a rousing one.

Another meeting booked for to-night is the one to be held in Lutz's hall, Perrysville. It will be addressed by John D. Watson, J. F. Miller, A. P. Burgwin and James E. O'Donnell. The attendance is expected to be large.

Another meeting that will attract seekers after political truth will be held to-morrow evening at Shapira hall, Fifth avenue and Chestnut street. The speakers will be John R. Braddock, J. F. Miller, F. C. Osburn and Jere Doherty.

To-morrow evening also the Democrats will hold a mass meeting at Adams's hall, Six Mile Ferry.

M. P. Condon, of West Elizabeth, has addressed the following self-explanatory communication to Charles A. Fagan, chairman of the Democratic county committee:

"I have been accused, and probably justly so, of being an anti-Sipe Democrat, but upon mature reflection, looking at the matter from all standpoints from which it can be viewed by a true-blue Democrat who desires the success of Democratic principles, I have arrived at the conclusion that this year in particular, while our principles are on trial, all Democrats should stand up and show their colors and vote the full Democratic ticket, and I hope that all my friends who were with me will see it in the same light that I do. The office of congressman is the most important one to be voted for this fall. 'I am a Democrat.'"

The Democratic meeting in the Riverside schoolhouse, West End, last evening, which was addressed by W. J. Brennen, John Marron and Dennis A. Behan, was well attended. The speeches were logical and well-delivered and were well received by the appreciative audience.

A large delegation of Braddock Democrats will go to Fairmont next Saturday for the purpose of attending the great Wilson meeting to be held there. Some Braddock Republicans expect to go to Morgantown the same day.

A Populistic meeting will be held in the Sixth ward, Allegheny, this evening. It will be addressed by County Chairman J. H. Stevenson, Secretary S. D. Karns, M. P. Carrick and William A. Carney.

John Kearns is making a gallant and winning fight for re-election to the legislature in the Fourth district. Mr. Kearns is a great favorite in his district, he having made a first-class official record.

There are some districts in the county which have not yet sent to the Democratic county committee the names of the watchers. The county committeemen from such districts are requested to send in the names immediately.

The Democratic county committee headquarters is thronged daily with Democrats from all parts of the county, and the liveliest interest is being displayed in campaign work.

J. G. White, Esq., was in Clarion county last week campaigning for the Democratic ticket, and delivered a number of effective speeches.

The Sixth ward Democrats are thoroughly organized, and will make a good showing at the polls next Tuesday.

FOR TIN PLATE AND GLASS.

Proposition to Build Works for Their Manufacture.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 31.—W. H. Parrish stated to a meeting of interested parties that certain Pittsburg capitalists, at whose head was Augustus H. Heisey, of Idlewood, a well-known glass man, had secured an option on the Ellsworth farm, and proposed to build thereon a four-mill tin plate plant which would employ from 200 to 300 persons, and a glass factory for the manufacture of tableware which would employ about the same number of men. This on condition that the people of Washington agree to purchase 400 lots in the Ellsworth farm at $200 a lot. A committee of five has been appointed, to canvass the lot subscribers and it is believed the project will succeed.

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—The Greensburg steel works, now owned by J. C. Jamison, of Pittsburg, will be put into operation in a few weeks. A new crucible furnace of 12 pots has been added to the works. It is the intention of the new company to make its own steel, as well as hammer the same. Several hundred men will be given employment.

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 31.—The pots are being set and repairs finished which will enable the Uniontown glassworks to start up next week. They have plenty of orders on hand. The Thompson glassworks is running double turn, with enough orders to run the plant full until the end of the year.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 31.—Almost every manufacturing establishment in Erie is running to its full force and hours, and many of them have extended their hours. A few are running night and day, among those being the Watson paper mills, Balck & Germer stove foundry and Bauschard's planing mills. The Union iron works has taken a contract for a battery boiler for a big tin mill to be erected at once in Indiana.

BARNES GOES FREE.

Queer Business Methods Get Him Into a Peck of Trouble.

C. L. Barnes, of Rebecca street, Allegheny, accused of embezzlement, had a hearing before Alderman Gripp yesterday. Mr. Barnes had been, up to last Saturday, in the employ of W. W. O'Neil, the Wood street lumber dealer, as agent and collector, and on that day failed to account for collections to the amount of $400 credited to his care. O'Neil had him arrested. He was committed to jail, and is said to have been put in the dungeon for four hours for refusal to comply with the rules. The hearing yesterday developed that the collector had given receipts for bills he really had not collected. As no dishonesty was shown he was acquitted.

Blaze on Penn Avenue.

Fire destroyed the stock of Mrs. R. A. Goolan's clothing and furnishing store at 2640 Penn avenue last evening. The owner estimates her loss at $7,000, with $4,000 insurance. Two alarms were turned in. The store had been open a little over a month, the stock having been moved from Johnstown to Pittsburg.

Brushton Ordinance Signed.

Mayor McKenna signed the Brushton annexation ordinance yesterday. The new addition to the city will become the Thirty-seventh ward December 1.

NECROLOGICAL RECORD.

James Hanlin.

James Hanlin, aged 81, died yesterday. He was born in County Down, Ireland, and was in the grocery business in Allegheny 50 years. Mr. Hanlin was sick the last two years of his life. A widow and 11 children survive him. The funeral will take place at 136 Sheffield street, Allegheny, the home of his son-in-law, T. D. Casey, of Liberty street.

Obituary Noted.

Mrs. Mary Ann Layton died Tuesday at 251 Wylie avenue, aged 81. Her husband was a well-known inventor.

Mrs. Rowland S. Wilson died at 225 Lehigh avenue, East End, of peritonitis. Her maiden name was Belle McMasters, and she had been well known as a teacher in the Grant street school.

George J. Harr, a Baltimore & Ohio railroad employe, died at Glenwood yesterday of typhoid fever. His family connections are prominent people.

Mrs. Cyrus Marks died in Hazelwood, Tuesday evening, of pneumonia, aged 27. Her mother, Mrs. Nicholson, is thought to be dying of the same disease.

Mrs. Henry Eicher, mother of Wilson Eicher, a Pennsylvania railroad engineer, died of paralysis yesterday.

Mrs. William R. Hamilton, aged 80, died last evening. The funeral will take place at 208 Sandusky street, Allegheny, at 3 p. m. to-day.

The Real Standard Piano of the World Is at Kleber's.

The real standard piano of America is made not in New York, but in Baltimore—the Knabe pianos. The Knabe pianos are conceded to be head and shoulders above all rivals, as is conclusively proven by the testimony of the two greatest piano players of the world, viz., Dr. Hans von Bulow and Eugene d'Albert. Both of these great artists had been persuaded to use the best New York made pianos, but becoming dissatisfied, they took up the Knabe piano in preference as better suited to their genius.

Persons desiring the standard piano of the world will please apply at H. Kleber & Bro.'s, 506 Wood street, and buy a Knabe.

FUN ON CABBAGE NIGHT.

THE BOYS, BIG AND LITTLE, TURN OUT FOR AN OLD-FASHIONED TIME.

FROLIC AT NEWSBOYS HOME.

Stone Throwing a Feature on the Downtown Streets.

HALLOWEEN WELL CELEBRATED.

All Halloween had its familiar observance last night. Through the cities and out in the suburbs the young folks enjoyed the usual festivities, founded upon the superstitions associated with this anniversary, though they themselves are thorough agnostics as to the verities of the much rehearsed folk lore. All the venerable methods of divination were essayed and jollity reigned.

At the Newsboy's home there was a notable period of horse play. The gymnasium was opened and the juveniles were permitted to don the boxing gloves and pummel each other to their hearts' content. The rings and swings and all the other athletic appointments were freely placed at the service of the paper venders, and the heartiness of their appreciation furnished a great fund of good will to the spectators. In the big bathroom tubs had been placed and the lads made to scramble for nickels tossed beneath the water. Apples were floated in regulation style, and no feat recorded in the Scotch tales of the border was omitted. E. Z. Smith, the Sunday school teacher of the home, was carefully watching all the funny business of the night, and the limit of play and seriousness was carefully demarcated.

About 9 o'clock a motley array of prankish young men donned fantastic female apparel, with grotesque masks, and proceeded along the lower avenues. There they affected to enjoy the queer pleasures of stoning the windows of houses classified as in the disreputable columns. The police conceived the notion in the index that it was October's last night, and official blindness was a proper excuse.

In Allegheny the fun was rampant. So many homes are centered there that it was not attempted to repress young America in his successful endeavor to make the welkin ring on one of the few accepted occasions of the year when all laws are nullified. The usual annoying gate performance was enacted to perfection, and by 10 o'clock several sedate citizens were away from home on the trail of portions of their domiciliary fence. Their careful inspection of lampposts was quite suggestive.

On Wylie avenue the colored persuasion were particularly Scottish in their recognition of the night. They marched like a cloud by day down the broad street, and ignored all consideration of private property.

The spirit of the moss-grown festival pervaded the bars. Many citizens not of the spring-chicken brand seemed to pervert the derivation of the name "Hallow e'en" into "Hollow," and strenuously endeavored to fill their vacuous stomachs. Later they hallooed.

The regular balls and functions held are too numerous for cataloguing. Over in Allegheny, the Cecilia Maennerchor, the Royal hunting club, the Melrose club, the Turn Verein, and other organizations danced to the sentiments of the night.

The consumption of nuts was extensive. Their flavor had imparted a mysterious delicacy weirdly added by the romance of a festival whose annals ap- [illegible]

COULDN'T OR WOULDN'T.

Pantomime of a Stricken Gentleman in a Broadway Car.

When this gentleman got aboard of a Broadway car at Forty-second street he must have been one of the cheerfulest creatures in New York, says the "Sun," of that city. He was excellently well dressed, was about 35 years of age, and had evidently passed a good deal of the summer in the free wind and the hot sun.

He waved a hand blithely to some male friends standing at the curb, and then, with a smile that lit up his face like a heliographic signal, put the same hand in his pocket and drew out a letter. It was large and square, and as he opened it the odor of orris root filled the car as though someone had taken out the stopper of a big jar of sachet powder.

The note was evidently not a long one, for he had read it and torn it into a hundred pieces while the conductor was ringing in his fare. Then the heliographic signal was cut off, and even the fleeting summer's ruddiness seemed to fade. Every line of his face that had gone up came down, his collar grew loose, and his nerveless cuff slipped down over his hanging hands.

And everyone in the street car knew that she couldn't or wouldn't.

Tom Johnson's Active Campaign.

Special to The Pittsburgh Post.

Cleveland, Oct. 31.—Hon. Tom Johnson is out with a sweeping denial of the charges that he has been colonizing voters in his district, and pours hot shot into the opposition. Of course everybody understands the animus of such charges, but the Republicans are carrying out the bluff by having warrants issued for the arrest of certain of his employes on the charge of colonization. Johnson has challenged McKinley to debate the issues of the hour with him on the stump.

Paper by Father Sheedy.

At the monthly meeting of the Academy of Science and Art at Carnegie library, Allegheny, to-morrow night, Rev. Morgan M. Sheedy will read a paper on "A Study of Socialism." It will be an exhaustive discussion, dealing with the origin and causes of socialism, defining what it is, treating of individualism and capitalism, and the revolt against capital, and the various schemes of socialists.

Cutting Down Offices.

Yesterday closed the existence of the office of assistant president of the Amalgamated association, which it was decided to abolish at the last convention, and P. H. McEvey, who has been in office since the position was created two years ago, left for his home in Youngstown. He will engage in the shoe business. Mr. McEvey still remains a vice-president of the Amalgamated, with jurisdiction over the sixth, or Ohio district.

But He Had a Razor.

Joseph Henderson, colored, is temporarily in jail. His wife did not open the door promptly upon his advent, and he made a razor assault upon one Emanuel Clark, a boarder, second story rear. He likewise kicked Mrs. Henderson, on suspicion, into a comatose condition. Squire Drenan, of Collins township, sent Henderson to jail for good behavior.

Encampment at McKeesport.

The state encampment of the Union Veteran Union of Pennsylvania will be held in McKeesport to-day and to-morrow. The annual election of officers, a street parade, a camp fire and a ball are among the attractions.

MRS. DRAYTON'S ANSWER.

She Denies Her Husband's Charges of Marital Infidelity.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 31.—The answer in the James Coleman Drayton divorce suit was filed at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Drayton denies the charges of infidelity made by her husband, and accuses him of having deserted her without cause. The answer was filed in her behalf by E. V. Lindabury, of Elizabeth. Mrs. Drayton in her answer, which is brief, admits her marriage to her husband in New York city on October 20, 1879, where they resided until 1886. Then they removed to Bernardsville, N. J., where they continued to live until October 1, 1891. After that they traveled in Europe until some time early in 1892. She denies that she left her husband while they were temporarily sojourning in London in January, 1892, but he left her through cruel and unjust suspicions as to her marital fidelity.

Mrs. Drayton makes specific denial to each and every allegation in her husband's bill charging her with intimacy with Hallett Alsop Borrowe, and says that she was never guilty of intimacy with Borrowe, or any other person whatsoever, either in New York, London, Bernardsville or any other place. "The charges," she says, "are wholly untrue and a most cruel and unfounded imputation."

The next step in the proceedings will be the formal joining of issue on the part of the petitioner, for which 30 days is allowed. After this the chancellor will refer the case to one of the vice-chancellors or to a master-in-chancery, to take testimony on both sides and make a report, which will be taken as the basis for a decree which the chancellor alone can grant.

No Decision Until Monday.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 31.—In the Santa Fe hearing before Judge Foster in the district court to-day, Eugene Ware consumed the entire morning for the defendant directors who are opposing the cumulative plan of voting. Robert Dunlap, representing the Santa Fe company, presented his argument this afternoon. Judge Foster will render his decision on Monday.

She Kicked the Blazing Lamp.

A slight fire in the house of Mary Phillips, at 412 Bingham street, last night was caused by a lamp explosion. Mrs. Phillips tried to kick the lamp under the grate, and the flames ignited the lambrequin.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present to their easy-going doctor, separate diseases, for which he prescribes, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have promptly cured the disease.

MRS. HARRY TAPPAN, of Reynolds, Jefferson Co., Neb., writes: "For two years I was a sufferer. A part of this time had to be carried from my bed. Was racked with pain, had hysteria, was very nervous, no appetite and completely discouraged. A few bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' effected a perfect cure." Sold by all dealers in medicines.

NOT THE BAKER BALLOT.

FOR DEBT INCREASES BOROUGHS MUST PROVIDE SEPARATE TICKETS.

JUDGE MAGEE ON BAD BOYS.

Judicial Cognizance Is Taken of the Aldermen's Society.

AVALON COUNCIL IS CALLED.

A question that has bothered a number of the cities and boroughs of the state was settled in an opinion handed down by Judge Ewing yesterday morning in a mandamus proceeding brought by Samuel Eades, burgess of the borough of Millvale, against the county commissioners. The question at issue was the manner of printing the ballot when a vote was to be taken on a proposed increase of indebtedness. It was held that the ballot should be printed on a separate ticket, and as stoutly maintained that it should be printed as a part of the Baker ballot. Both plans were used in different parts of the state, and suit was threatened several times on the question of the legality of the vote. In Allegheny, when the vote was taken on the $2,500,000 increase, a separate ticket was used. One million of these bonds have been issued and there is talk now of equity proceedings to prevent the further issue, on the grounds that the vote should have been taken on the Baker ballot. The same question arose in Allegheny common council last Monday night, when a new loan was under discussion, and City Solicitor Elphinstone again decided in favor of a separate ballot, but not to the satisfaction of all the councilmen.

The Millvale case, which brought out Judge Ewing's decision, is based on a comparatively small loan. The borough is to vote next Tuesday on issuing a loan of $7,000 for water works purposes. The borough officers expected the county commissioners to have a separate ticket printed, but the commissioners took the opposite view, and said that all the bond sales in the county had been on the Baker ballot. R. H. Jackson, the borough solicitor, thought the separate ballot correct, and as the commissioners would not give it to them, he brought the mandamus proceedings in Burgess Eades's name.

The arguments were made yesterday morning, and Judge Ewing decided in favor of the borough. At the same time he handed down an opinion which is the first in the state dealing thoroughly with the question.

Judge Ewing further ruled that the commissioners are not under any obligations to furnish ballots for the debt vote, and issued an order directing the commissioners to furnish the borough with ballots, omitting any reference to the question of the increase of indebtedness. This decided the matter in accordance with the separate-ballot theory and left the borough to furnish the tickets.

The importance of the opinion rests [illegible] the fact that a number of boroughs [illegible] issued bonds on authority granted [illegible]ections when the Baker ballot was [illegible] and the legality of such votes is [illegible] thrown open to litigation.

[illegible] was an interesting discussion [illegible] Magee's branch of the Crimi[illegible] yesterday on the merits of [illegible]atories. The disposition of [illegible] always a perplexing [illegible]

[illegible] hardened [illegible] Judge Magee's [illegible] were on this line, [illegible] Hon. A. C. Robertson something to think of in answer to the latter's argument.

[illegible] King, John Quinn, Frank Coyle and Thomas Laughlin were charged with breaking into Baltimore & Ohio freight cars and committing petty larcenies. They pleaded guilty, and were called for sentence. Their parents were present to say that the boys had never been in trouble before and to plead for leniency. Mr. Robertson appeared for the boys, and when Judge Magee talked about sending the boys to Huntingdon, Mr. Robertson objected. He thought reformatories were very bad institutions for boys who had committed their first offense.

Judge Magee agreed with this view, but said he did not know what else to do with the boys.

Mr. Robertson—My observation has been, your honor, that a very small percentage of boys sent to these places are ever reformed. I sometimes think we should not have these institutions.

Judge Magee—Then, Mr. Robertson, when you were in the legislature it might have been a good idea for you to have opposed the appropriation of state money for their support.

Mr. Robertson—Well, I have recently made some inquiry into the matter, and have given you my views.

Judge Magee finally decided to suspend sentence upon payment of costs, but told the boys that if they got into any more trouble he would be very severe with them.

Judge White took occasion to express his opinion on the aldermen again. Morris Roach was charged with the larceny of a dog worth $1 from J. F. Dunn. Judge White said: "I see that the aldermen of this city are taking steps to have their powers enlarged. This means greater outrages to be perpetrated upon the people. In this connection I do not mean all the aldermen, but about 8 or 10 of them." The defendant was acquitted.

A rule has been granted on the members of the borough council of Avalon to show cause why they should not be attached for contempt of court. Judge Ewing made an order requiring the council pass an ordinance levying a tax for borough purposes. On October 26 Milton J. Steele, Lewis D. Mitchell and E. F. Heckert tried to have an ordinance passed providing for a five-mill levy. They say H. L. Kallenbaugh, J. S. Daily and W. J. Parker objected. Another meeting was held the following night, but the ordinance was not passed. The rule is returnable Saturday.

A bill in equity was filed by H. Du Puy and David Shaw, surviving partners of Anderson, Du Puy & Co., against the borough of McKees Rocks to prevent the opening of a road through the plaintiff's property. The plaintiffs own a mill through which the viewers of the borough have located a road. It is claimed it will cause the stoppage of their works.

STEAMBOAT AND RIVER NEWS.

The Wharf a Scene of Busy Activity.

Hundreds of Empties Will Be Brought Up on the Rise.

For the first time in many months, the Pittsburg wharf was a scene of activity yesterday. The favorable symptoms for a rise in the rivers have put rivermen in a happy frame of mind. Most of the coal companies sent word to their crews to be on hand yesterday, and a large number of them were sent to various points down the river. This year is just the reverse of last year, when the harbor was full of coal ready to ship to lower points; now nearly all the towboats are stuck in the sand near Blennerhasset and places lower down. Hundreds of barges are there also, and instead of coal going out in immense quantities, empties will come in with the first rise, and make haste to the pools for loads. Nearly all the companies have a few thousand bushels on hand, but nothing compared with the millions that departed with the late rise last year. All the packet companies are preparing to get their boats out, and will be ready to resume business the last of this week. Stores for the craft have been ordered in large quantities.

At Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Oct. 31.—River 4 feet 2 inches and stationary all day, a decline of 3 inches since last night. Weather cloudy, cold and very windy. There were six arrivals and four departures. Business has been very good all day. There is a better feeling among rivermen regarding the outlook for navigation. It is already so improved between this city and Louisville, that the mail line has resumed the old schedule of a boat a day each for Madison and Louisville. Captain John Barrett, of the Independent line, after a long conference at the Gibson house with a committee of Paducah merchants, decided to organize a regular line of boats from Cincinnati to Paducah and the Tennessee river. Superintendent Frank Ellison, of the Pittsburg line, arrived from St. Louis this morning. He is ill and confined to his bed.

At Louisville.

Louisville, Oct. 31.—The river is rising, with 2 feet 11 inches in the canal, 9 inches on the falls, and 3 feet 4 inches at the foot of the locks. Business is good, and the weather is clear and pleasant. The Cincinnati boats are running through now, and will continue if the present swell holds out. The Big Kanawha resumed her regular trips to Madison and Carrollton to-day. The Carrollton has taken her old place in the Cincinnati mail line trade.

Ripples From the Rivers.

The work on Captain Bradley's new towboat is progressing rapidly at Howard's shipyard.

Several Washington officials visited the office of the United States inspectors of steam vessels yesterday.

Captain John Carvey, who has been ill for some time, is improving, and hopes to be out in a few days.

The steamboat inspectors yesterday examined the James G. Blaine, and will inspect the Nellie Bly to-day.

The steamer Mayflower took the Elks to McKeesport last evening. It was the occasion of their annual reunion.

The Gwendoline will be off the docks [illegible]urday. Captain Perchment is [illegible] springs for two weeks.

[illegible] gives a pr[illegible] [illegible] night at the [illegible] members have invited friends. Prizes will be offered.

The Olivette, which has been aground at the Sisters for several days, will probably be floated on the present rise. She will bring part of the Pacific's tow here. Captain Kitchell is in command.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam was 3.1 feet last evening, and it is predicted that there will be 8 feet of water here by Saturday. There are rains all along the rivers, and the water is rapidly rising.

The following licenses were issued yesterday: Orlande Robinson, his third as master and fourth as pilot; Ganniel Y. Anderson, his tenth as chief engineer; Thomas R. Duffy, his seventh as chief engineer.

The Pittsburg and Cincinnati packet line is preparing to resume operations. The steamer Scotia will leave this port for Cincinnati on Saturday. The company has expended nearly $18,000 fixing up its boats during the summer.

The Blanch Edmundson, which has been on the docks undergoing repairs, will be off to-day. The boat has been made 12 feet longer, and a new cabin is among the improvements made on her. Captain Jones leaves for New Orleans Monday.

The R. M. Blackburn, Captain Elsie, arrived from Industry yesterday morning, where the boat has been tied up for a week. It got only as far as Wheeling on the return trip, but a slight swell in the river enabled her to get as far as Industry, and the recent rise brought her home.

At Other Points.

Morgantown—River 5 feet 6 inches and stationary. Weather cloudy and cold.

Greensboro—River 6 feet 3 inches and stationary. Rainfall .65, and the weather is cloudy and cold. The James G. Blaine is due up and down Thursday.

Warren—River 1 foot 1 inch and rising. Weather clear and cold.

Steubenville—River 2 feet 10 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and cold.

Gallipolis—River 2 feet 10 inches and rising. Weather cloudy, with a high wind, and very cold.

Parkersburg—River 1 foot 4 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and cold.

Wheeling—River 3 feet 6 inches and stationary. Clear and cold. Arrived—John Wayles, Pacific and Stella Horen. Departed—John L. Lowery, for Matamoras, at noon.

PACKER HELD FOR COURT.

ONE OF THE DISCRETIONARY POOL MEN FAILS TO GAIN HIS FREEDOM.

THE DEVLIN CASE DISMISSED.

Settlement Made by the Accused Syndicate Manager.

SOME DIVIDENDS MAY BE PAID.

John P. Packer, who was arrested a week ago on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon by Magistrate Donahoe. He was charged, together with Washington Force and Gebhart Mauch, with accepting $150 from Mrs. Stella Durr for speculation in the Consolidated stock and produce company. On demanding a return of it she was refused, and the information was made. Packer was the only one of the defendants found, Force and Mauch having, it is said, left town.

When the case was called yesterday Attorney J. A. Wakefield asked that the suit be dismissed, as the prosecutor was not present. Judge Donahoe decided to hear the witnesses. Edward Mahan said he knew Mr. Packer and had invested $25 with him, and got a receipt signed by Washington Force. He understood Packer to be one of the firm. Frederick Conner said he gave Mr. Packer $100 to invest. Detective Fitzgerald said Packer acted as if he was one of the proprietors of the syndicate.

Judge Donahoe held Packer for court in $1,000. Attorney Wakefield and Daniel Kelly went on the bond and Packer was released. Fitzgerald was instructed to find the prosecutor, Mrs. Durr, as the magistrate thought the defense knew why she failed to appear.

Alderman Anderson yesterday dismissed the case of Anthony Daluca against F. H. Devlin for alleged conspiracy. Devlin is the Pittsburg representatives of the American syndicate company, of Chicago, and Daluca alleges that Devlin conspired to defraud him of $50 which he paid to become a member of the syndicate. At the time called for the hearing yesterday afternoon Attorney J. A. Wakefield appeared with the prosecutor and gave him a check for $50. The case was then dismissed on payment of the costs of the suit.

Quite an interest was taken in the discretionary pools yesterday, owing to the fact that a dividend period is at hand, and there were many anxious inquiries. The managers of several of the syndicates said that dividends would be paid to-day. Manager C. W. Smith, of the Pittsburg syndicate, said that a profit of 9¼ per cent had been made within the last 15 days, making a total for the month of 17 per cent. The clerk was busy writing out checks, and Smith was equally busy signing them. These will be sent out to the investors to-day, said Smith. He said that the flurry caused by police interference had had its effect, and the profit was not as large as usual. His business was progressing, and he expected a large increase.

Manager Dudgeon, of the Traders syndicate, said a dividend had been declared by the main office in Chicago, but he did not know its amount. He would pay it at the local office either to-day or to-morrow. Manager F. X. Devlin, of the American syndicate, said the same thing. A. D. Lloyd, of Smithfield street, refused to say whether a dividend would be paid or not, as he considered his business private, and a matter about which none outside of the investors had a right to know. The in[illegible] [illegible] to the results of this month's investments be said.

No one was in George M. Irvin & Co.'s office, in the Ferguson building, when the reporter visited the place, save three investors. It is not known whether a dividend will be declared or not, although it has been said his losses were too great to pay a profit.

It was intimated yesterday that Manager Delaney, of the Public exchange, was keeping quiet, and giving his prosecutors plenty of rope. When the time comes it is said Delaney will spring up with the books, showing where investments were made, and make it warm for somebody.

MAY CHOOSE MR. CLEVELAND.

Brazil and Italy to Settle Their Dispute by Arbitration.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Minister Mendonca, of Brazil, has not been advised as to the reported purpose of Brazil to submit her differences with France and Italy to arbitration. The trouble with Italy resulted from riots in Brazil in which a number of Italians were killed. Italy has demanded indemnity, and arbitration has been suggested by Italy, but until now without the consent of Brazil. If the countries agree on arbitration it is possible that President Cleveland may be chosen arbitrator, although he declined to act as long as the subject had a belligerent aspect. The reported arbitration between France and Brazil is thought to relate to the northern boundary of Brazil, as that is the only pending difference between the countries.

Postoffice Figures.

The postoffice statistics for the month of October has some interesting elements. The domestic money orders issued aggregated $36,927, and those of the same class paid were $109,752. The volume of business done in money transmission was $223,757. The orders sent to Italy amounted to $1,359, as against $3,168 forwarded to British dominions. To Germany was sent $1,504, to France $73, and to Hungary only $67. From Germany came $1,647, and from Italy $57.

Lead palsey, from which some residents of McKeesport are suffering, is attributed to the impure water.

PUBLIC SALE.

SALE OF LAND by the United States at Pittsburgh, Pa.—Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the secretary of war be, and hereby is, authorized and directed to sell and convey to the purchaser or purchasers all the right, title and interest of the United States in and to all that certain parcel of ground, belonging to the United States, situate in the city of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, at the northwest corner of Penn avenue and Garrison alley, in the Fourth ward of said city, fronting one hundred feet on west side of Penn avenue and extending northwardly along the west line of Garrison alley, preserving the same width, to low-water line of the Allegheny river, subject, however, to such public easements as exist thereon and thereover. Depot Quartermaster's Office, Washington, D. C., Oct. 11, 1894—Under the provisions of the above quoted act of congress, approved May 21, 1890, and by direction of the secretary of war, I will offer for sale, at public auction, at the chamber of commerce room, Germania bank building, corner of Wood and Diamond streets, Pittsburgh, Pa., Thursday, Nov. 8, 1894, at 11 o'clock a. m., for cash, the property described in said act, together with such improvements thereon as belong to the United States, subject to the conditions set forth in said act, and subject also to the terms and conditions named in the printed circular of this date, copies of which will be furnished on application to the undersigned, or to the acting assistant quartermaster at Allegheny arsenal, where also a plat of the ground can be seen. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, or to accept any bid or bids, subject to the conditions prescribed in the circular referred to. A deposit, by certified check, of not less than five per centum of the purchase price will be required of the successful bidder at the time of sale, in default of which the property will then and there be reoffered for sale. Payment of the remainder of the purchase money must be made upon delivery of duly executed deed or deeds for the property purchased, or the property may be resold, without further notice, at the risk and cost of the defaulting purchaser. The sale will be made subject to confirmation by the secretary of war, and if not so confirmed the check or checks deposited will be returned. The cost of all conveyancing will be borne by the purchaser. Geo. H. Weeks, Deputy Quartermaster-General, U. S. A. John D. The estimate of one of the ablest statisticians in the Union on economic questions, Mr. Jacob Schoenhof, who has been the American consul at various important European manufacturing points, is that the Wilson law, in its woolen schedules, will save the American people the first year of its operation $163,534,000. And further, that with this saving will come a revival of woolen manufacturing such as has never been witnessed in this country.

[illegible] ional committees have [illegible] rk at Washington ex- [illegible] r of claims. The Re- [illegible] tee claims 196 Re- [illegible] atives, to 160 Demo- [illegible]. There is a long con- [illegible] on this issue, but the Lib- [illegible] will win in the end. It may be [illegible] by making the peers elective, [illegible] dropping the hereditary feature. But that would be an ending of the house of peers as it has always existed. The Radicals in England, as elsewhere, are in favor of one chamber, but that will not obtain. The best judgment and experience of the world is in favor of two legislative chambers.

We mentioned some days ago, referring to McKinley's denunciation of the bond issue imposed on the Cleveland administration by Republican extravagance and legislation, that in the closing days of the Harrison administration his secretary of the treasury, "Charley" Foster, had ordered the preparation of bonds for issue. The plates so ordered, it happens, were the ones used by Secretary Carlisle in his bond issue some months ago. Foster having denied the statement, the copy of his official order directing the preparation of the bonds is forthcoming. It is in the nature of a crusher on "Calico." The point is not of much importance save to show that the Republican administration, on its own admission, had reduced the country to the necessity of a bond issue before Cleveland took hold. This was a very different financial condition from the splendid one that existed when Cleveland turned over the government to Harrison on the 4th of March, 1889. It was the difference between bankruptcy and a big surplus.

"The Republicans of this country," says Senator Quay, forgetting his domain only extends from the Schuylkill to the Ohio, "should not permit Mr. Wilson to be returned to congress." But suppose the people of the Second West Virginia district send Mr. Wilson back, as they are most likely, what will Senator Quay do about it? Will he resign in a huff like Conkling and Platt? We have a notion that just because Mr. Quay ordains that Wilson shall not be sent back his majority will be the larger. "PUT UP ENOUGH MONEY," says the senator, and the district can be saved to the McKinley party. We do not believe the senator, firm believer as he may be in the gospel of Walpole, can raise enough money to defeat William L. Wilson. The Mountain Democrats are a different stock from the merchantable human commodities in the slums of the Third Philadelphia district. They are not on sale. They will know how to resist Senator Quay's autocratic ways. Still we advise them to be on the lookout.

Although of quiet and unobtrusive nature, there were few in banking and financial circles in Pittsburg of more positive character than Mr. James Herdman, whose death is announced this morning, and who has been president of the Dollar savings bank since 1870. Mr. George Albree was president from its origin, 10 years before, and these two men of mark directed its growing and extensive operations for the long period of 34 years, in which time from small beginnings it came to be one of the strongest savings banks in the Union. Much of this was due to the careful and well-considered policy of Mr. Herdman. No one ever guarded a trust more rigidly, or with better business judgment, than he did the interests of the depositors of the Dollar savings bank. His aim was absolute security, rather than the temporary gains of hazardous investment. His judgment was of the best as to securities, and it was rare indeed that he erred. Mr. Herdman belonged to the noble minority of Democrats in Allegheny county, and never wavered in his devotion to the principles of the party and the needs of its organization. In all the relations of life he was a most estimable citizen. He was prominent in Masonic circles, and held high positions in the order. But it was as president of a leading banking institution for a quarter of a century that he made his deepest impress on the varied business interests of Pittsburg and Allegheny.

A LESSON IN SUGAR.

The McKinley law claimed to give the people free sugar. It did nothing of the kind. It admitted raw sugar free of duty, but on refined, which is the sugar of universal consumption, it imposed a duty of 60 cents the hundred pounds. That was for the trust. The Wilson bill put a duty of about a cent a pound (40 per cent) on raw sugar, and a duty of one-eighth on refined in addition.

The McKinley bill collected from sugars imported a revenue of only $163,956 for the last fiscal year. On the same importations the Wilson law will return a revenue to the government of $40,000,000. The McKinley law gave the sugar growers a bounty last year of $12,000,000. So it will be seen it cost the government a total loss of revenues of $52,000,000. That made the bond issue a necessity, about which McKinley is berating the Democratic party.

The great fact to which we call the attention of our readers is that with this gain of $52,000,000 in revenue the American people are not paying as much for their sugar to-day as they were a year ago, before the Wilson bill was formulated.

The market price, by wholesale, of standard granulated sugar in Pittsburg on the 31st of October, 1893, with McKinley's alleged "free sugar" tariff in operation, was $5 38 the 100 pounds.

The market price of standard granulated sugar, by wholesale, on October 31, 1894, was $4 44 the 100 pounds, and this with the Wilson law in operation.

This rate of $4 44 the 100 pounds was the Pittsburg market quotation yesterday. It shows a decline of nearly a cent a pound, or, to be exact, 94 cents on a hundred pounds under the Wilson tariff as compared with the McKinley law.

But that is not all. We desire to especially impress on the intelligent observer that while the McKinley tariff not only returned no revenue (only $163,000) to the treasury on sugar, and paid out $12,000,000 in sugar bounties, the Wilson law insures $40,000,000 revenue, and by repealing that bounty saves $12,000,000, which, with the $40,000,000 from sugar duties, makes the government better off by $52,000,000.

And it does this not only without increasing the cost of sugar to consumers, but reducing it nearly a cent a pound. What about the relative statesmanship of the West Virginia professor and the Ohio attorney for the sugar trust?

With these facts of record, the fable-tongued McKinley talks of the Wilson tariff being the creation of the sugar trust. It is rather harsh to say, but it is a good deal like a knave talking to fools.

LOGIC OF BETTER TIMES.

The "Gazette" should state things fairly. We have not said that workingmen "are prospering beyond all precedent as a result of the new tariff." We do say things are improving from the low ebb left by the McKinley law. And further, that the reduction in cost of the necessaries of life is equivalent to an addition of wages. That is a conceded economic truth. It is the reason some grades of English labor are better off than American. They can buy more for their wages. The "Gazette" claims we give no figures of reduced prices or increased wages. We have given some figures, but not many as to increased wages. They await a revival of demand for products, now fairly under way. The "Gazette" certainly knows the old rule, that with three days' work for two men wages go up, while with three men for two days' work they go down. There has been an extraordinary revival in the woolen trade, because of free wool. This is solely due to the Wilson tariff. Thousands of men are at work in this industry who were idle a few months ago. They are making wages now, and that is certainly an increase from nothing.

As to reduced prices, we have given ample authority for our statement in interviews with leading Pittsburg merchants. This is true particularly as to woolen clothing, blankets and carpets. The people of Allegheny county consume not less than $15,000,000 worth of woolens a year, and a leading merchant of Fifth avenue is our authority for the statement they have fallen as a result of the Wilson tariff not less than 33 per cent as he is now selling them over his counter. Here is a saving to the people at the rate of $5,000,000 a year. We say without fear of contradiction that there is not a "shopping" woman in Pittsburg, not a working woman or society woman but has realized the great reduction in the price of woolen fabrics. It is also true as to men's clothes. All this is because of the free wool schedule of the Wilson law. And the further fact is important, that it has been accompanied by an extraordinary revival in woolen manufacturing—more men are employed—wages are better, vastly better than no wages—and mills, idle under McKinleyism, are loaded with orders beyond their capacity in many staple lines of goods. All this is very easy to understand. It is the logic of cause and effect. Here are some comparisons which show the workingman how much difference there is between the tax on a dollar's worth of woolen goods under the McKinley law and the Wilson law:

	McKinley tariff.	New tariff.
Blankets	$1 00	$0 30
Dress goods, women's and children's	1 69	50
Flannels for underwear	1 04	30
Hats of wool	1 04	35
Knit wearing apparel	94	40
Shawls, woolen or worsted	1 30	35
Carpets, brussels	81	30
Carpets, cheap	78	30
Wool, class 1	66	Free
Wool, class 2	56	Free
Wool, class 3	32	Free
Woolen or worsted cloths	1 63	50

These reductions are not matters of the future. They are here now, and after the first of January, when the reduced tariff on woolen goods goes into effect, they will be more pronounced. Present reductions are on account of free wool, and in anticipation of the woolen schedule going into effect two months away. Merchants are naturally anxious to clear off their old stocks and get ready for the era of lower taxes.

If, as the "Gazette" says, the "wage workers were badly fooled in 1892," by tariff reform, which has come to stay, why don't we hear from some able-bodied Republican a demand for the re-enactment of the McKinley law? Not a word in that line. But on the contrary, Czar Reed, Allison, Clarkson, even John Sherman and Harrison, steer clear of such an issue, as if it were "pizen," while Chauncey Depew says the Wilson law is good for 10 years. McKinley does not venture to advocate before the American people the re-enactment of his law.

DALZELL EXPLODES.

We find this characteristic specimen of the demagogical bosh Congressman Dalzell, that horny-handed son of toil, deals out to the workingmen in a report of his speech at Carnegie:

> The Democratic party is a friend of the laboring man. Under its bill it has provided that he can wear velvet trowsers and keep off the flies with an ostrich feather, both of which articles are admitted free, but it does not provide him an opportunity to earn money to buy any of these things, and sometimes not even bread.

From all parts of the Union come reports of reviving manufactures and commerce under the Wilson law, although it has been in operation only two months. The country is getting out of the slough of McKinleyism. Labor and the products of labor are in demand. Wages are on the ascending scale from where the McKinley law left them. The workingman can buy more of the necessaries of life with his earnings to-day than he could a year ago. Dalzell in congress championed a hundred per cent tax on the woolen clothing, the blankets and carpets of the toilers. The Democrats have reduced that tax two-thirds, and no workingman can go into a dry goods store for his winter purchases without finding out that the Democratic tariff has made it easier for him to live. Of course this is of small concern to Congressman Dalzell, as he is just home from pleasuring in Europe, and, like the generality of Republican tourists, no doubt brought back enough of fine woolens to last him for a year or two, and saved the duty. That is the way of those gentry.

A GREAT SINNER.

"Hereafter all great events," says the Pittsbugh "Times," "will be dated from the time the Democratic revival struck the town, and 'The Post' went on the rampage." And, it should have added, from the day the "Times" was caught deliberately forging a speech for William L. Singerly, and having been caught in the act, 'fessed up, like Topsy, and wants to change the subject. It said Mr. Singerly had abused the members of all secret societies as assassins. That was falsehood, not based on common rumor or report, but deliberate and wicked invention by the "Times." Having set it agoing among the people who are trying to send preachers to the holy land or to heaven on the coupon plan, the "Times," virtually admitting the lie, has not the manliness to retract. The first thing these elected preachers should do is to engage in missionary work in the "Times" office. If "The Post" had said that Mr. Magee in his recent speech had denounced the Methodists as hypocrites, the Presbyterians as dishonest, and the Catholics as infidels, it would have uttered a calumny not a whit more atrocious than the one the "Times" deliberately set agoing about Mr. Singerly. Its cheap attempts at mournful wit will not divert attention from the ugly record it has made. There must be confession and repentance before absolution. The "Times" is wanted at the mourners' bench and not in the pulpit.

DISASTROUS WRECK.

One Hundred and Thirty-Four People Reported Drowned.

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 31.—The Union line steamer Wairarapa, bound from this port for Auckland, N. Z., was wrecked Sunday night on Great Barrier island, off the northeast coast of New Zealand. The steamer had a large number of passengers, and 134 people were drowned. The number of the saved is not positively known, but among the rescued are some of the passengers.

The night was very dark, and the officers and lookout on the steamer were ignorant of the proximity of land until the steamer struck on the rocks. Captain McIntosh, the master of the Wairarapa, was on the bridge at the time. He, together with most of the crew, was lost.

Australian Railroad Collision.

Sidney, N. S. W., Oct. 31.—Two passenger trains were in collision to-day at the station at Redfern, a suburb of this city. Seven persons, including a Catholic dean, Father McCarthy, lost their lives in the accident. Thirty persons were injured. Most of those who lost their lives were scalded to death by steam from the engines, which were almost completely wrecked.

ALONE.

The sunshine shimmers through the same tall trees,
The blithe bird-lovers warble out their bliss,
The same shy wild-flowers flutter in the breeze
And tremble 'neath the butterflies' coy kiss;
The same soft shadows slumber on the sward,
The brooklet glimmers with its old-time sheen,
The cliffs still rear their bosoms gray and scarred,
But something's missing from the peaceful scene.

How drear it looks! How desolate and still!
Fair fern leaves wreathe the old cliff's rugged brow;
I hear the wood dove's plaintive love-song thrill,
And the sad wind sigh through the aspen bough;
I see the fragile water lily bare
Her golden bosom to the sun's caress,
But something's vanished that I looked for here,
A joy that nevermore my life shall bless.

My yearning eyes peer down the vista green,
Thinking, perhaps, to see a laughing face
Steal round that gnarled old oak that stands serene,
Majestic, in its old familiar place.
But mocking shadows greet my yearning gaze,
The wraiths of forms Time's hand cannot restore,
And the loved voices of those buried days
Shall break this calm, green solitude no more.

MURDERED BY ROBBERS.

JOHN COUSE, AN OLD MAN, SHOT DOWN WHILE DEFENDING HIS HOUSEHOLD.

THE VICTIM WAS NO COWARD.

Deed Committed Before His Horror-Stricken Family.

SEARCH FOR THE MURDERERS.

Butler, Pa., Oct. 31.—The whole countryside in the region around Evans City is wild with excitement to-night over a most atrocious murder committed this evening, and searching parties are out in every direction in pursuit of the murderers. Up to midnight there are no reports of the capture of the assassins.

John Couse, an aged citizen of Forward township, where he lives on his farm, 1½ miles east of Evans City, in this county, was at home this evening with his wife and daughter. The little family was sitting in the kitchen soon after 6 o'clock, when the door was suddenly flung open, without knock or warning of any kind, and two masked men stepped in on the startled inmates. "Hand over your money, old man," said one of the robbers. He held a pistol in his hand, but the brave old man was not daunted, although taken by surprise. "I have no money," calmly replied Couse. "You have come to the wrong place for it." The old man stood up and faced the armed robber. They looked at each other a few moments, when the companion of the ruffian who had spoke made a move to approach the terrified women.

Then the old man showed his manhood. At the first step toward the woman he turned to where a heavy poker stood against the wall. The robber who had demanded his money saw the motion and menaced him with a curse, but the old man stooped and grasped the poker, ready to make a fight in defense of his household. As he stood up with the poker in his hand, before he was fairly standing erect, one of the men cruelly shot him, standing so close that the pistol almost touched his body. The old man fell without a sound before his horror-stricken wife and daughter. The shot penetrated his heart, killing him instantly.

The robbers had gotten off before the alarm was given, and the pursuit, although hot, was not started in time to get the robbers in the immediate vicinity, unless they have hidden and thrown the hunt off the trail. The women shocked into utter prostration by the horrible affair, and the feeling is such that the robbers, if caught, may not be brought to jail.

The Allegheny police received word from Callery of the Couse murder, and detectives were placed on the case. It was said the murderers had boarded a Pittsburg & Western freight train bound for Allegheny. As these trains come no farther than Bennett station at night, Assistant Superintendent John Glenn and Detectives Steele and Zimmerman were detailed to that point.

At 1 o clock this morning no word had been received from them by the captain at police headquarters, Allegheny.

Of the aged citizens [illegible] have passed their four score years, [illegible] gregate ages being 1,4[illegible] years, an average of over 85 years.

Those over 90 years of age are: Thomas Hall, 99 years; John Hall, 97 years; Sarah Dickerson, 93 years; Eber Mulford and Mary Baker, each 92 years.

A remarkable feature respecting the aged citizens of New Garden is that the majority of them are yet active, the women doing housework and the men engaged on the farm. Eighty-five years finds one man so fond of horses that he is the noted colt-breaker of the neighborhood.

It is a common sight to see many of these aged people attend meeting on first-days, some of them ministers giving counsel to the generations below them in matter of years and experience. Not all of these people are stay-at-homes, and despite their years they frequently journey to conventions and religious assemblies miles away.

SCHEMING FOR REWARDS.

Alleged Plot to Swindle the Railroad Company.

Toledo, O., Oct. 31.—Passengers on train No. 15, the Boston and Chicago special on the New York Central and Lake Shore line, report a supposed attempt to rob the train at 1 o'clock this morning, at Lakeview, N. Y., near Buffalo. Obstructions were on the track.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 31.—Farmer George Burch and his hired man, who found the large pile of stones on the Lake Shore track at Lakeview and flagged train No. 15 with a switch light, were taken to Buffalo to-night. It is believed now among the trainmen that there never was any intention to wreck the train, and that the obstruction was only a scheme on the part of Burch and his man to play the part of saviors of life and property, and work the railroad company for rewards.

Salty Dose for Anarchists.

Paris, Oct. 31.—Five anarchists, Jacques Elisee, Reclus, Poste, Martin, Duprat and Pouget, were to-day sentenced in their absence to 20 years' imprisonment. They were found guilty of belonging to a criminal association.

MAY CAMPAIGN IN WINTER.

Chinese Roads Good, and the Japs Can Do Effective Work.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Rev. Maurice J. Walker, who has been stationed in North China by the English government for the last nine years, passed through this city to-day on his way to London to make his report. The Rev. John K. Robson, a missionary from Tienken, accompanied him. They left Pekin about a month ago. Speaking of the war, Mr. Walker said:

"Japan was obliged to engage in foreign warfare to prevent a repetition of the revolution in 1871 in her own domain. For years she has been preparing herself; not only that, but she has carefully laid out her campaign in China. I have been over the road at Moukden at all seasons of the year. It is impassable only in fall and spring. In winter it is in perfect condition. If the Japanese can cross the mountains before cold weather and capture Moukden, which is the key to the whole situation, the conquest is theirs. The 500 miles of good road from Moukden to the great wall at Shan Kwan can be covered within a month."

London, Oct. 31.—A dispatch to the Central News from Tien Tsin says: "The Pekin 'Mercury' learns that the emperor is intensely angry at the existing condition of things, and is determined to learn why a small country like Japan cannot be exterminated."

Up to noon to-day the Chinese legation here had received no confirmation of the reports that the Chinese army had been defeated at Chinlien-Cheng, or even that there has been any fighting.

New York, Oct. 31.—A special dispatch from Shanghai confirms the report that the young Empress of China has committed suicide. She was rebuked by the emperor, who slapped her face, whereupon she took poison.

DENIAL FROM SOVEREIGN.

He Made No Effort to Disfranchise Canadian Knights.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 31.—J. R. Sovereign, general master workman of the Knights of Labor, was seen to-night in reference to the dispatch of to-day from Toronto to the effect that the Sovereign party in the general assembly soon to meet in New Orleans, intends to disfranchise the Canadian K. of L., and deny them representation to the general assembly meeting in order to weaken the Powderly opposition to the Sovereign party. Mr. Sovereign said:

"The report is absolutely absurd. The Canadian Knights of Labor, if they are in good standing, not incurring penalties for non-payment of dues, cannot be disfranchised. If they have five local assemblies, so as to be in position to form one direct district assembly, they are bound to be accorded representation at New Orleans. As to antagonism between myself and Mr. Powderly, that is all sensationalism. There are no differences between us personally or our respective friends. We are each doing what we can in our way to promote the interests of organized labor, and the report from Toronto is the work of some enemy of organized labor. I presume the reference to trouble between myself and Mr. Powderly has A. Wright, of Toronto, as its author. It reads just like what he would say. He is sore because of my attitude toward his old assembly, which was 19 months in arrears for payment of dues."

IN THE WRONG BED.

He Took a Neighboring Husband's Place by Mistake.

Pottstown, Pa., Oct. 31.—A warrant is out for the arrest of George Fryer, who is accused of malicious trespass. He had evidently been lingering last night too [illegible] the flowing cup. George [illegible] at home that to his eye there was a great similarity of front doors, and by mistake he opened Frank Harbauer's, on Franklin street. Mr. Harbauer was absent, hence the door was not locked. Fryer went in, deposited his boots snugly under a bed, whose strange surroundings did not impress him, and then tumbled in for the night. Mrs. Harbauer, however, was not so easily deceived. It required but a brief time to discover that the intruder was not her husband. She leaped from the bed and rushed out upon the street, clad only in her night robes, and cried for help. The commotion aroused Fryer, and he hastily decamped, and has not been seen since.

BY A PARTY CAUCUS.

An Interesting Contest for Senator in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 31.—The nomination of a United States senator by party caucus will be a new feature in Georgia politics. The presence of 50 Populists in the legislature makes this necessary. The seat vacant is that of the late Senator Colquitt, filled temporarily by Hon. Patrick Walsh. The candidates before the legislature are Hon. A. O. Bacon, Hon. H. C. Turner, Hon. L. F. Garrard and Hon. Patrick Walsh. Deadlock is almost certain to ensue in caucus, in which event Speaker Crisp is likely to stampede it.

Four announced candidates have been addressing the legislature nightly since Friday night, when Walsh spoke, Monday night it was Bacon, Tuesday night it was Garrard, and to-night it was Turner. All had large audiences. Walsh, Bacon and Garrard have declared themselves advocates of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1. Mr. Turner to-night declared his adhesion to Mr. Cleveland's entire program. There is some talk of bringing Governor Atkinson into the race in case of a deadlock.

SHOT BY A BOY.

He Was Trying to Frighten the Lad by Playing Whitecap.

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—John R. Englebert, a civil engineer, was shot in mistake for a "whitecap" by a boy whom he was trying to frighten at Rife, Dauphin county, Pa., last night.

Englebert approached the house of Uriah Koppenheffer, at Rife, last night, and asked to be allowed to enter. No one was home save Edward, Mr. Koppenheffer's son, and he told Englebert he could not enter. Englebert insisted, and was told he would be shot if he attempted to get in. During the controversy the door opened. Englebert had a cap on made out of a white handkerchief, and rushed in head first, crying, "I am a whitecap." Edward fired as he entered, the shot taking effect near the left shoulder, killing him instantly. Koppenheffer supposed Englebert to be a burglar. The deceased leaves a wife and two children.

Another Resignation Announced.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—The semi-official "Cologne Gazette," which was the first paper to announce the resignations of Count von Caprivi and Count zu Eulenberg, now states that Herr Heinrich von Heyden-Cadow, Prussian minister of agriculture, domains and forests, has tendered his resignation to the emperor, and that his majesty has accepted it. The paper adds that Her von Heyden-Cadow will receive another state appointment.

Johnson to McKinley.

Cleveland, Oct. 31.—Hon. Tom L. Johnson, the Democratic candidate in the Twenty-first district (Cleveland), to-day wired Governor McKinley a challenge for a joint meeting and debate on political issues, to be held in this city next Saturday evening.

To Name a New Cabinet.

Madrid, Oct. 31.—The queen regent has charged Senor Sagasta to construct a new cabinet to succeed the one that resigned yesterday. The negotiations that Senor Sagasta is carrying on point to the new ministry being more of a protectionist one than was the last.

ON THE DEBTOR'S TRAIL.

RELENTLESS EFFORTS OF A MAN'S CREDITORS TO COLLECT A JUDGMENT.

MUCH TRANSFERRED CASH.

Process-Servers Were Never Able to Locate It in Time.

AFTER A VERY ELUSIVE LEGACY.

New York, Oct. 31.—Old William Adams, who made $500,000 out of the manufacture and sale of mosquito netting, died within a year, after leaving an estate of about $300,000 for his children. One of his sons, William, used to have a big plumbing establishment in the Ninth ward, but failed 15 years ago, and has never gone into business in his own name since, because he had a number of judgments entered against him. His father knew this, and so in his will he left William' share of the estate as a trust fund, the interest of which was to be paid to William junior. But in the will there was a final clause providing that, if after all the provisions of the will had been carried out there should happen to be anything left, it should go to William junior.

When the executors—John Showall and Robert Adams—had settled up everything they found the old man had underestimated his wealth by a little over $7,000. They held back between $500 and $1,000 as a precaution against any small bills coming in, and paid over to William Adams, Jr., about $6,000 in cash. Now, the several men who had those judgments of so many years' standing against William Adams, Jr., were watching for this settlement of the estate, and as soon as they heard of the residue of $7,000 they descended upon William. But they found that he had transferred the cash payment of the executors March 27 to his son, W. Franklin Adams, "for love and affection" and no other consideration.

This W. Franklin Adams is bookkeeper for the "Churchman," the great Episcopal magazine, and is a great light in Dr. Houghton's little church Around the Corner. You may see him there in his robes as server almost any Sunday and often of a week day.

He paid it over April 26 to his sister, Annie Estelle Adams, then a young women of about 29 years, for five years engaged to the Rev. Harry Baumann, the second assistant rector of the Trinity chapel, in Twenty-fifth street, between Broadway and Sixth avenue. This transfer was made "for love, affection and gratitude."

Soon after this the creditors of William Adams, Jr., served him and afterward his son, W. Franklin Adams, with papers to appear before Referee Thomas F. Byrne in the Bennett building, and give an account of the $6,000. About the same time Annie Estelle Adams drew the money out of the Second national bank and went down to New Jersey to spend the summer with her uncle, who lives at Plainfield. The creditors soon discovered that the money they were after had been passed on to her and had their subpena servers on her track. But they were never able to catch her in New York, and therefore within the jurisdiction of the court.

September 3 she was in New York, however, and on a very important mission. The engagement of five years' standing to the Rev. Harry Baumann was on that day brought to a happy end in the little Church Around the Corner, in the presence of the father and brother of the bride and a few friends of the bridegroom. They departed on their wedding journey and did not return until a short time ago. The subpena-servers have been most diligently searching for them, but did not get them successfully located until last Thursday afternoon.

There was to be a service at the Trinity chapel at 4 p. m., and they had two servers and a female detective on hand. The female detective went into the church to "spot" the Rev. Harry Baumann. She happened to take a seat next to his wife.

"Who is leading the service?" she asked the bride.

"Why, that is the Rev. Dr. Baumann," was the reply.

Pretty soon the female detective went out and put the subpena-servers "on to" the bride and bridegroom.

They waited outside, ready to jump when the pair appeared. When the service was over they approached the Rev. Harry Baumann and his wife, who were about to enter Patterson's tailoring establishment, opposite the church. After some words Mrs. Baumann agreed to accept service of the papers.

Yesterday they appeared before Referee Byrne, in the Bennett building, and were questioned by Lawyer Frank H. Gray. Dr. Baumann said that he was sick, and so the chief part of the examination was of the bride. She was highly indignant at some of the questions asked, and raised her voice stormily in protest against the insinuations that the transfers were fraudulent.

"My brother transferred the money to me out of gratitude," she declared. "He owed me a great deal. I gave it to Dr. Baumann as a marriage settlement two months before we were wed."

The creditors are going to try to get hold of it and to show that the transfers are invalid. The case before Mr. Byrne is Tragesser, the chief creditor, against William Adams, Jr. When it was asked of Dr. Baumann to explain about the case he smiled a feeble little smile, kept close to his wife's skirts, and begged to be excused.

Monday afternoon next, before Lawyer Pollock, Mr. Goff's partner, Dr. and Mrs. Baumann will appear again, with several other members of the Adams family, and a high old time is expected. Mr. Pollock is referee in the action brought by the creditors of William Adams, Jr., to recover from the estate of William Adams, Sr., the small sum of the residue the will gives William Adams, Jr., which they are holding as a precaution for the payment of any small debts of the estate that have not been sent in as yet. The creditors claim that this money belongs to them, and the executors are resisting the claim.

But the chief interest centers in Dr. Baumann's marriage portion, whether he will be allowed to keep it or will have to give it up after having the pleasure of holding it in his name a few months. Dr. Baumann and his bride live at the Victoria hotel.

SLEW HIS FATHER.

When Caught the Murderer Took a Dose of Morphine.

Milan, Ala., Oct. 31.—William Milford, a young farmer, disappeared from home several days ago. His aged father was also missing. Yesterday the old man's corpse was found in the woods near his home, with his head flattened out by a club and his pockets rifled of several hundred dollars, which it was known he had started to take to a neighboring town to put in bank.

Officers were put on his son's track, and this morning they found him hid in a deserted log house 20 miles from home. He confessed the murder of his father, gave up the money, swallowed a bottleful of morphine and whisky mixed, and soon died.

MORE QUEER BUSINESS.

A Philadelphia Firm Tries Bulldosing by Circular, Too.

Punxsutawney, Pa., Oct. 29.

To the Editor of The Post:

Apropos of your article in to-day's "Post" relative to certain Pittsburg lumber dealers trying in a business toway to influence votes against the Democrats in West Virginia, I inclose a circular letter issued by a Philadelphia fruit house and sent broadcast to the trade for a similar purpose, but which I think has failed of its object, at least in this particular instance.

The last paragraph of the circular reads:

> An important cargo of Malaga lemons was sold at auction on Tuesday last; the quality of these is an improvement upon former seasons, and presenting a nice new appearance, are meeting with favor with all customers. The demand for all lines of goods at present is very moderate, and trade, we expect, will simply jog along until the November elections. As the people generally are coming to their senses, it is expected that Republican victories will be the rule, and that this will indicate Republican ascendency at the next presidential election, and with the return to proper economic principles usher in the beginning of good times, which will be very welcome, for a more miserable period than the four years of President Cleveland's reign has never been experienced in this fair country—it is to be hoped that the like will never occur again—and again we say this is not politics, but business. As all businesses have been so demoralized by the false economic theories that have prevailed, it is necessary that one should speak out. Very respectfully,
> C. WILKINSON'S SONS.

The circular was handed the writer by one of the members of the largest grocery house in this section, whose trade the "calamity howler" who sent it has enjoyed to a considerable extent in the past, but whose orders in future will fall to some reliable and honorable firm who don't insult their trade in this way.

FAIR PLAY.

WEIGHT OF DOLLAR BILLS.

Guessing Contest in Which Several Gained Knowledge of Gravity.

Several customers were chatting in a Lafayette avenue grocery store one evening recently, says the New York "Herald," when the grocer pointed to a half barrel of small beans and asked how many of them it would require to make a bushel.

Various estimates were offered. One man recklessly put the number down at 50,000, which occasioned a laugh from all the others, who had guessed a much lesser quantity, ranging all the way from 5,000 to 20,000.

"Well, gentlemen," remarked the grocer, "you are all wrong. There are approximately 119,000 beans in a bushel."

No one was inclined to believe him until he showed them that it took 50 beans, selected at random, to weigh half an ounce. The rest of the calculation was simple.

"Now, then," said one of the party, "since we are engaged [illegible] tests, how many doll[illegible] take to weigh as much [illegible] party."

One said [illegible], another [illegible] grocer, who knew all about [illegible] the figures at 200.

"All wrong," remarked the [illegible]. "It takes just 2[illegible]." This was proven to be the case by experiment. [illegible]

CARE OF GLASS.

Delicate Ware Should Receive Delicate Attention, to Last.

Glass does not often meet with the delicate attention it deserves, says the "Gentlewoman," and this notwithstanding that really brilliantly burnished glass makes a most striking show upon any table.

Warm, but not hot, water should be used for glass. A wooden bowl is safer than a china one, and should be kept scrupulously clean with rinsings of soda and hot water. Every cloth wherewith to rub the glass must be as soft as soft can be—and as dry. Unless the polished cloth be really dry the glass does not take any brilliancy, rub as you may.

Ammonia, rock salt and tea leaves put into a decanter with some warm water, and vigorously shaken up and down, are effective in dispelling the offending stains. If the shaking does not prove sufficient the decanters or bottles should be left to stand all night, filled with water and ammonia.

Long, narrow champagne glasses, flower (especially specimen) glasses require more frequent ablutions than the open form of glasses.

Gas globes require an especially drastic treatment, and are only cured—sometimes—of an obstinate dimness by being placed in a saucepan near, not on the fire, with a liberal supply of patent soap powder or soda thrown into the hot water.

Servants who put their glass on the table at the last moment are wise if they wear soft wash-leather gloves.

WHISKY IN COFFINS.

A Rum-Selling Undertaker in Kansas at Last Brought to Book.

Emporia, Kan., Oct. 31.—Richard Brisco, of this county, runs an undertaking establishment at Allen, and has several times been arrested charged with running a "joint," but always discharged for lack of evidence. To-day, however, his storehouse of intoxicants was discovered to be in the coffins, which were arranged with false bottoms. He was placed under $500 bond, charged with violating the Murray law.

Beech Creek Wreck Victims.

Phillipsburg, Pa., Oct. 31—The fourth victim of yesterday's wreck on the Beech creek railroad, died to-day. The four victims are at Howard Bros.' undertaking establishment in this city, awaiting identification.

The population of the German empire is increasing at the rate of 500,000 a year.

PERSONALS.

There are many unpublished sermons of the late Rev. C. H. Spurgeon as will require 10 years to get out.

Tailor Dowe, who wanted $1,000,000 at first for his bullet-proof coat invention, has offered it to the Swedish government for $18,000.

Sir Henry Bessemer, who is in his 84th year, has nearly completed his autobiography, on which he has been engaged for some time past.

Sir Watkyn Williams Wynn owns 137,025 acres of land in Wales, and has manorial rights over 180,000 acres more. Of the land he owns 112,000 are occupied by Welsh-speaking and 25,000 by English-speaking tenants.

The busiest man in New York takes a more active part in this campaign than any politician in it. He works steadily from 7 a. m. until 11 p. m., and he eats six meals a day. This man is Dr. Parkhurst. In addition to those things spoken of in one day, it frequently happens that he replies to 100 letters, he receives 100 callers, he writes from 3,000 to 10,000 words, he attends a session of the Lexow committee, he attends from one to three committee meetings, he makes from one to four speeches. In addition he finds time to transact a vast amount of business which cannot be explained briefly.

RUNYON'S VIEWS.

He Forcibly Expresses Them to the German Foreign Minister.

London, Nov. 1.—A dispatch to the "Standard" from Berlin says that the prohibition by Germany of the importation of American cattle has led to a lively exchange of views between the Hon. Theodore Runyon, the American ambassador, and Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, the German foreign minister. Mr. Runyon characterized the order as severe, unjust and unnecessary retaliation against the duties imposed by the United States on German beet-root sugar. These duties, he had been advised by President Cleveland, congress would be certain to annul.

Baron von Bieberstein in reply admitted the severity of the order, but not the other epithets employed by the ambassador. He said that Germany would not barter the soundness of her cattle for a prospective lowering of the sugar duty. The incubation period of Texas fever, he added, was six weeks. Therefore, cattle leaving the United States in an apparently healthy condition might afterward be attacked and spread the infection. Mr. Runyon disputed this claim, on the ground that the contagion is propagated by insects, which are non-existent in Europe. He also argued that dead meat cannot convey the Texas fever germs.

STAPLES AND FANCIES.

An Object Lesson to the Woman Who Purchased for Herself.

Two women were shopping. One had a pile of goods on the counter which the clerk was checking off, and when he had finished he told her the bill was $7 50. She produced a modest little purse, paid the amount, left her address, and walked out of the store.

The other woman had been watching her with a good bit of interest, says the Detroit "Free Press." When she was gone she turned to the clerk and said:

"I don't understand it. That woman got so much more for her money than I did for mine. Here I have a small package that I can hold in one hand, and it cost me $7. One of us doesn't know how to shop, evidently."

"She bought staple goods," remarked the clerk, indifferently.

"But what are staple goods?"

"Oh, domestics, sheetings, towelings, children's warm knitted garments, hosiery and such. You see, she buys for a family, and purchases only the essentials."

"Oh, and I buy for myself, I see." And the woman who had paid $7 for a lace flounce went away with a new idea in her head.

Cause of the Spanish Cabinet's Fall.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Senor Muruaga, the Spanish minister, says the resignation of the Spanish cabinet was due to differences in relation to the new Spanish bill, and prospective commercial arrangements with foreign powers. The ministers who have resigned represent the element opposing low duties. Premier Sagasta favors freer trade relations with the outside world, and as his colleagues did not share this view they resigned.

Matrimony in Alaska.

Mr. Newstraum and Miss Tasco[illegible], maid of the forest, were married on Sunday, July 1, at the government schoolhouse, the Rev. Mr. Warne officiating. After the ceremony a grand feast was served in Chief Don-a-Wa[illegible] house, according to the Juneau "Mining Record." The bill of fare was: Tomato soup and dried halibut, ham and herring eggs, salmon heads and candle fish oil, wild celery and dried sea-weed, mufmonberry shortcake and coffee.

Protest From Sibley Republicans.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 31.—A delegation of Sibley Republicans from Meadville and Crawford county came here to-day to enter a protest against the visit McKinley is to make here this week as a bracer for Hon. Matthew Griswold, the Republican nominee for congress against the incumbent, Hon. J. C. Sibley. The whole Crawford contingent threaten to bolt the Republican ticket in Crawford county.

Guatemalans Invade Mexico.

City of Mexico, Oct. 31.—Miguel Torruco is the owner of a large timber tract called Egypto, near the Guatemalan frontier. Quite recently the authorities of Peten, Guatemala, arrested and took away six Mexican subjects who were employed by Torruco. The Guatemalans have occupied both sides of the stream Agua Azul, and have planted their flag on its bank. This is an invasion of Mexican territory.

Sold for Four Millions.

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—The sale of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road to the stockholders' reorganization committee was formally confirmed by the district court to-day, and $4,000,000 in cash changed hands. The directors of the reorganized company arrived to-day and the election will be held Friday.

Life Sweet to Hill.

The action of the pardon board in recommending a commutation to life imprisonment in the case of James Newton Hill was announced to him yesterday morning. His condition has been seriously affected by his anxiety, although he says he has never doubted for a moment the outcome of his case. He expressed great pleasure.

Twenty-One Men Drowned.

Milford Haven, Oct. 31.—The steamer Tormes struck Crow Rock near Milford Haven last night. Twenty-one men, including the captain and officers, were drowned. Seven of the crew were saved.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Last evening was filled with Halloween gaities, and many of the young people of the city took advantage of the peculiar nature of the day to arrange a unique entertainment for the evening. The old-fashioned and popular "taffy-pull" was not forgotten, and several were given, but ghost parties, fortune tellings and shadow dances were among the novelties indulged in. Among the most pleasant Halloween affairs was the party by Miss Jessie Walsh, of Allegheny, to a club of which she is a member, and which was recently formed at the home of Miss Swan, of Allegheny avenue. Among those present were Miss Jeanette Swan, Emma Lindsay, Annie Waddell, Bessie Holyland, Ida Gill, Bessie Stevenson, Margaret Gordon, Miss Degelman, Miss Armstrong, and Messrs. McCullough, Morris, Clarence Stevenson, Roy Lindsay, Gibbs Degelman and Cartwright. Another entertainment especially suited to the character of the day was at the home of Mr. Nicholas, of Oakmont. The invitations for this affair were noticed some weeks ago for their amusing character, which represented the event as a "pow-wow," and were couched in Indian terms, speaking of the home of the host as the wigwam of Rain-in-the-Face Nichols. Miss Fannie Agnew, of Sewickley, also contributed to the general merriment by a most enjoyable taffy-pull, and Miss Martha McNiell, of Allegheny, gave a regular old-fashioned country Halloween party, where charms were tried, apples, nuts and taffy consumed in enormous quantities and predictions for the year made with great solemnity. Miss Lide Boardman, of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, gave a delightful little affair at her pretty home, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all the guests, and altogether the evening was not in the least lacking in the proper observation.

The home of Mrs. James Anderson, of Fremont street, presented a gay appearence yesterday afternoon, and the rooms given up to the display of articles for the children's bazaar for the benefit of the Allegheny day nursery were so bright and attractive that the visitors expressed great admiration of the efforts of the little ones. Fancy work of all kinds and degrees was sold. Some beautiful table scarfs were shown, and did not wait long for purchasers. Other articles of household adornment were plentiful, including a large number of [illegible], some of which were worked by the little managers themselves. The pretty bits were displayed on long [illegible], and the other things sold were [illegible] arranged in alluring style. Lemonade, candy, cake and ice cream were [illegible] by dainty little aids in pretty [illegible], with tiny white aprons and caps. [illegible], elaborately dressed, was raffled [illegible] the close of the afternoon. [illegible] sense articles were not wanting [illegible] held [illegible] [illegible] McCormick had charge of the [illegible] booth, which had [illegible] conventional touch of yellow in its draperies. The little girls, who have been working hard for several weeks for this entertainment, did not incur a cent of expense, as all the necessities were donated, so all the proceeds were clear profit, and it will amount to quite a satisfactory sum. Master Park Miller made an efficient doorkeeper.

The Keystone bicycle club took a prominent part in the festivities of last evening, and the pretty club house was the scene of a most enjoyable gathering of members and friends. All the time-honored customs of the night of witches were observed, and the refreshments partook of the same character, being apples, nuts, taffy and like edibles. Some thrilling stories were told by venturesome members, and not a few charms for revealing the future were tried.

Thursday and Friday of this week there will be an exhibit and sale of handiwork from the Women's exchange, Buffalo, N. Y., at Hotel Anderson, from 9 to 6. Miss Grace Carew Sheldon, well known in literary and social circles here, will be in charge. She has been instrumental in establishing the exchange and in helping it maintain its popularity. The work displayed will include all kinds of needlework, begun and finished, and also some dainty art novelties.

The exhibition of work made on Tuesday and yesterday by the pupils of Mrs. C. L. Lake at the decorative art rooms, Fifth avenue, was greatly appreciated by the guests who attended, and as quite a large number of cards were issued there were many visitors. The exquisite pieces shown attracted the admiration of all, and a great many compliments were paid the teacher who can develop such taste and skill in those under her care.

The annual gathering of the Needlework guild will take place at the Third Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, on Tuesday, November 13. The guild asks [illegible] two new articles of clothing or [illegible] linen, and the need is so great this winter that the ladies hope that the contributions will be general. Everyone can give a little, and every little helps. The annual election of officers will take place on the same day.

A general reception will be held tomorrow evening at the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. on Fourth street. The occasion is the opening of the building containing the gymnasium and the cooking school, both of which features have attracted attention from the prominent women interested in the good of the members. The reception will be quite an interesting event.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dudley, of Hill [illegible], Wilkinsburg, gave a Halloween party last evening which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of guests. It has become an annual affair for Mrs. Dudley to entertain on this date, so the affair was eagerly anticipated by her guests, who spent the evening in [illegible] Halloween amusements.

A [illegible] Halloween party was given by the ladies of St. Stephen's [illegible] church, Wilkinsburg, for the benefit of several charities which the [illegible] have in charge. The hall of the [illegible] building, which was used, was decorated with grotesque pumpkin [illegible] and several tables were [illegible] refreshments suitable for [illegible]

The annual Halloween reception given by the [illegible] society of Allegheny [illegible] parlors on Federal [illegible] number of guests at [illegible] entertainment and many outside friends were also present, making a merry assembly. The evening was spent principally in dancing.

The Young Men's Hebrew association gave an elocutionary and musical entertainment at the Eighth street temple last evening. The entertainers comprised Prof. George Sleeth, elocutionist; Mrs. Elsie Warren-Mechling, soprano; Mr. A. Baernstein, basso, and Prof. Carl Ritter, organist.

This afternoon the reception and donation day of the Deaconness' home will be celebrated at the home on Fifth avenue.

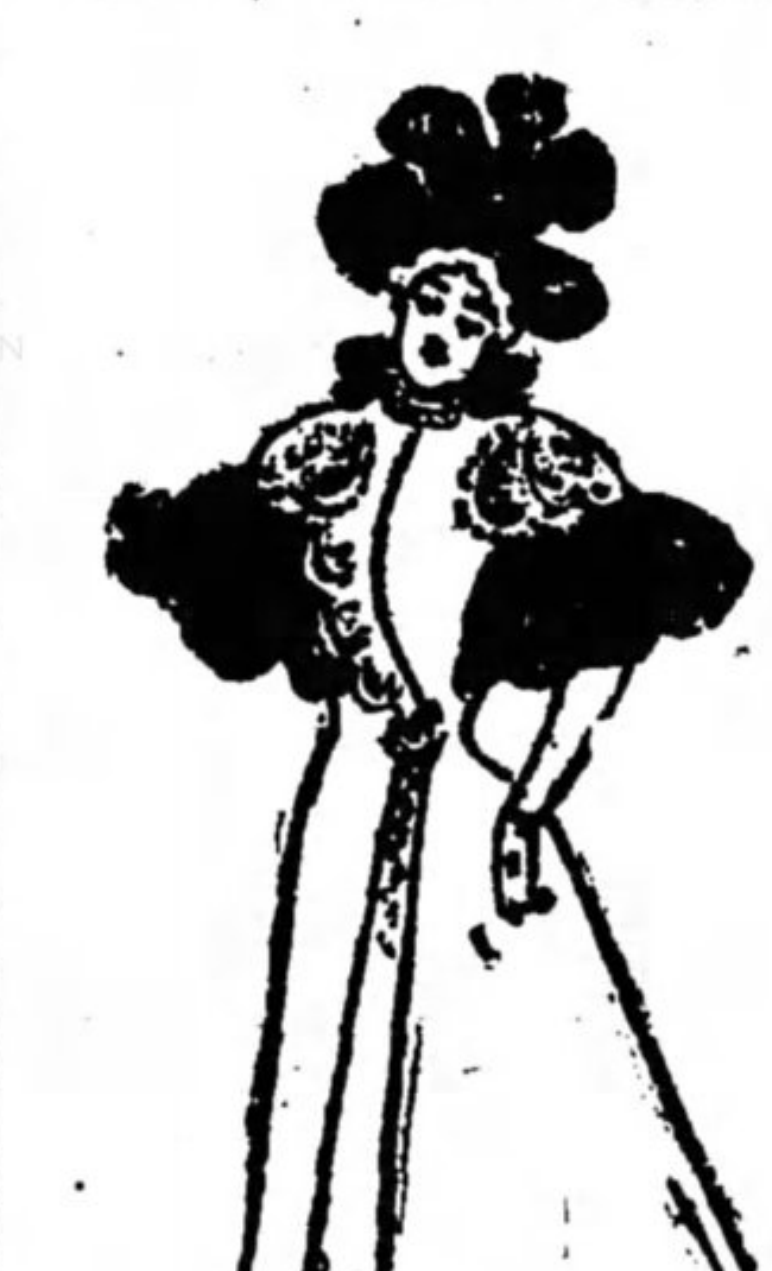
Mrs. John R. McGinley, of Oak Knoll, Shadyside, gave a tea yesterday afternoon to a few friends.

FOOTBALL FROCKS.

In Preparation for the Onlookers in the Games to Come.

The interest in outdoor sports is still lively and will continue to be until somebody plays football with somebody on Thanksgiving day. The Yale boys seem determined to eat their turkey and pumpkin pie in the good old-fashioned way, without any distractions in the shape of broken collor bones and twisted knees. This might give Harvard a chance if she only had men enough left to make up a team.

At any rate the girls are beginning to plan their dresses with a view to the college colors. I know one rosy-cheeked, auburn-haired lassie who is going to wear cornflower blue of a deep shade when Yale plays. "That's close enough to their color," she says, "and very becoming—and of course that is the main point."



In Gray Cloth.

It would be an interesting psychological problem to analyze the effect of an emblematic color upon one's feelings. How our hearts thrill at the sight of the red, white and blue of our native land! Watch the Harvard men when the crimson flag is raised; or the Princeton swain when he sees the colors of old Nassau tied in with the lace and finery that his sweetheart wears.

Speaking of football reminds me that there are some rapidly developing giants in the west who will, before many years roll by, be sending a challenge to the champions of the east to play the game with them. [illegible] the gowns that are in [illegible] the Thanksgiving game [illegible] a matter of course on [illegible] as much as the turkey or [illegible] we eat). The one shown above is partly dress and partly wrap. It is very warm, being of the heaviest cloth, because football games are always cold. The shoulders are cut very long, and round over the top of the arm in good old-fashioned style. The capelets are of velvet, edged with fur. The garment is embroidered down the front, and fastens diagonally to the waist, whence it hangs loose and folds back to the bottom, which is edged with fur.

The neck is adorned with stock collar and buckle, but in place of the usual rosettes two ostrich tips are set in on each side.

PUBLIC EXPENSES.

A Demand That They Should Be Largely Reduced.

To the Editor of The Post:

"Do unto others as you would like others do to you," is a maxim which will apply equally to the city's employes as well as between man and man. Do the employes of the city of Pittsburg carry out this maxim in the government of the city? Alas, no! In these times of depression is it fair, is it right, that the employes should draw larger salaries than the employers? In this respect the "cart is before the horse." Should not the salaries of the city and county be diminished, thus relieving the taxation of the employes? I think yes by all means. Every laborer is worthy of his hire, and this means no more should be paid one employe than would be paid another who would do the work equally well and satisfactorily.

Could not the delinquent taxes be collected cheaper than they are? Would a business firm pay such an exorbitant price for doing the same work? Is not $41,000 an exorbitant price for doing the same duty? Let us in the government of Pittsburg cut down expenses, like any wise business firm would do, and does during these times of depression. There ought also to be a pruning of salaries in the county's employes. I want to say if the taxes of the city of Pittsburg are not diminished there will go up a great howling of taxpayers next year. These remarks will apply also to the city of Allegheny.

A TAXPAYER.

MISS THOMPSON'S MARRIAGE.

The Ex-Congressman's Daughter Wedded to Wm. Leonard Davis.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Secretary Carlisle's handsome residence on K street was the scene to-day of the most brilliant society event of the fall season, the marriage of Miss Mattie Thompson, of Kentucky, and Mr. William Leonard Davis, of Colorado. Miss Thompson is the daughter of Colonel Philip B. Thompson, a prominent Kentuckian and ex-member of congress, and Mr. Davis, who was for several years vice-president of the New York "World" publishing company, has extensive mining interests in Colorado to which he devotes his time. The ceremony took place at noon. The service that of the Episcopal church, was led by Rev. Dr. Mackay Smith, rector of St. John's church. Only members of the two families, Carlisles and a few intimate friends were present.

Planned Death for All.

Merrill, Wis., Oct. 31.—Wholesale murder and express robbery was the motive that inspired the recent train wrecking on the "Soo" road. Two men charged with the murder of the man who lost his life by their work were given a preliminary hearing here to-day and were held for trial. One of the prisoners has confessed. The robbers planned a wreck which would kill every person on the train.

Killed His Little Brother.

Charles O'Neil, aged 9, died at Mercy hospital yesterday from injuries received while he and his brother Robert, aged 11, were scuffling in the yard of St. Bridget's school, last Friday, for possession of a knife.

SO THEY WERE MARRIED.

A MOTION TO ARREST JUDGMENT WILL BRING A LICENSE DECISION.

LAWYERS SUPPORT REARDON.

General Misconception of What the Blunder Really Is.

HAD BETTER GET A PERMIT.

It is a readily understood trait in a good lawyer not to give an opinion offhand for newspaper publication upon a legal point he has not thoroughly investigated, but concerning the apparent absence of any statutory requirement of a marriage license, the dominating idea among them is that the issue made by William Reardon in the McGuirk case is correct, and that the legislature of 1893 in its attempt to amend the license act of 1885 so bungled the matter that not until October 1, 1895, is there necessity for obtaining a marriage license. But at the threshold it may be better to add the general advice of all attorneys that expectant brides should demand a license, and not tolerate too economical grooms, nor enter into so sacred a relationship with any precarious ignoring of all formalities and publicity. There might be a difference in the morning.

Only "The Post," the "Only," seems to have correctly announced what the legislative error was. It was not the mistaken transcription of "1895" for "1893," but of "1895" for "1885." The year "1893" has nothing to do with the case. The constitution prescribes that, when a law is amended, in the new act both the amended law and the law as it is to read after amendment are to be set forth. Now, the legislature in 1893, in endeavoring to amend the marriage license act of 1885, which set forth that "On and after October 1, 1885," such procedure, etc., should be in force, did reproduce this original act, and then provided that it "should read as follows," etc. It was this second repetition of the act of 1885 to which the real amendment was attached, and in this second repetition of the unamended portion that the date "October 1, 1885," was not correctly copied, and "1895" written in lieu thereof. Thus it was that the act of 1885 disappeared from the statutes, and the new act was engrafted, made to be become operative in 1895.

It was clearly the legislative intent to cause no interregnum whatever in the marriage license regulations, but only to add to them. That the blunder was not the change of 1893 to 1895 is evident from the fact that the amendatory act was approved May 1, 1893. Had the legislature intended to create any hiatus in marriage license laws it is just as reasonable to assume that it would have established one lasting until October, 1895, as to have made one between May 1 and October 1, 1893, which it manifestly did, if 1895 was intended for 1893.

It has been stated that the point made by Mr. Reardon will not come before Judge Magee, as James McGuirk was acquitted in the case where this was interposed. It is true that McGuirk was acquitted on the charge of perjury in stating falsely the age of his affianced wife, when he applied for a license, but the jury found that he should pay the costs.

To the layman it seems queer that a man acquitted of a criminal charge should yet have to pay the court costs of the acquittal. But a "Pennsylvania law" bestows the power upon a jury to thus [illegible] costs upon an innocent man [illegible] the accusation is a misdemeanor. And furthermore, though perjury generally all over the civilized world is a felony—that is, an offense punishable by penitentiary imprisonment—in this state perjury in reference to a marriage license is a misdemeanor, though the maximum penalty is five years in the penitentiary. It was herein the jury found authority to make McGuirk pay for acquitting him of overstating the age of the woman he married.

Mr. Reardon will, on Saturday, argue before Judge Magee on motion in arrest of judgment to save his client from payment of the adjudged costs, and then this entire question of the present existence of a marriage license law will confront the court. He will contend that there never existed any offense, that the indictment should never have been found, or at best quashed, and hence all accumulated costs are an illegal imposition on the acquitted person.

Attorney Reardon claims no especial credit for the plea he entered in the McGuirk trial. He found it in Purden's Digest. The general view of the barristers is that the statesmen at Harrisburg blundered, and whether the enrolling or engrossing clerk made the mistake, or as in duty bound merely copied what some wise legislator introduced, is unanswered.

Carroll Saved His License.

Proprietor Michael Carroll, of the Commercial hotel, Braddock, which was sold Tuesday at sheriff's sale, has set up a bar in the office of the hotel. When Sheriff Richards seized the place for debt the license was removed from the barroom. The license says that he is privileged to sell liquors at Nos. 1007 and 1009 Braddock avenue, and as No. 1007 is closed by the sheriff, he is operating at No. 1009.

DESTINY DEFIES DANGER.

It Was Believed by Napoleon Bonaparte That He Was Intended for Great Deeds, and He Shaped His Life Accordingly.

His remarkable career as a soldier has no equal in history, and

THE PITTSBURGH POST

Is confident that the publication of a serial account of the deeds of the conqueror of Europe will be of absorbing interest, especially at this time when a

NEW NAPOLEONIC ERA

Has come and all the world is reading about the little Corsican.

On Monday, November 5, "THE PITTSBURGH POST" will print the first installment of a splendid article by Montgomery G. Gibbs, dealing with the remarkable campaigns of the great general. It will be entitled

MILITARY CAREER

—OF—

NAPOLEON THE GREAT,

And will run daily until completed. Everyone should read about the man who rose to an imperial throne from the most humble circumstances. Remember the date,

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5,

And the paper,

READY FOR THE TOURNEY.

ATHLETIC CLUBS REPRESENTED BY THEIR BEST BOXERS AND WRESTLERS.

M'KEESPORT'S BIG TEAM.

Lafayette Scores Against the Strong U. of P. Kickers.

ALL THE LATE SPORTING NEWS.

The first contest of the A. A. A. boxing and wrestling tournament will begin at 8 o'clock to-night. A good time is promised all who attend. The entry list yesterday omitted the name of Paddy McGrath, of the Nonpareil A. C., the champion boxer, who will appear in the 115-pound class. Thomas Mitchell, the West End Gym boxer, is entered in the 115-pound class. By mistake his name got among the 135-pounders. Two of the entries will not be allowed in the ring on account of a professional taint. They are George Plante, in the 145-pound class, and J. T. Maloney, in the 125-pound class. The committee has decided to bar both men. Maloney went against Bobby Dobbs at the Academy of Music some months ago, for which, it is alleged, he received remuneration. Plante, as all know, fought to a finish with Jim McCoy, the well-known local professional. Contestants will be compelled to weigh in from 6 to 7 o'clock this evening. All are requested to be on time to avoid delay.

Much interest is taken in the McKeesport delegation of boxers. There are nine men entered from that city, all strangers except two—Connelly and Gibbons. They are reported to have been in preparation for the tournament for some time, and ought to be in the pink of condition. Seven of them are from the Young Men's Lyceum club, and two from the Athletic club. Neil O'Donnell, the 158-pounder, is said to be a fine boxer, and is expected to take the laurels from John Finnegan.

A. A. A. has nine men entered, four boxers and five wrestlers. Its wrestlers are among the best local athletes, including, as it does, John Hilliah, Marshall, Conlon, Finnerty and Sam Hickey. The Emeralds and Oakleafs each have seven men on the list. The Oakleaf delegation will consist of six boxers and one wrestler. The Bedfords, who made quite a reputation last season, have two boxers and three wrestlers entered. The boxers are Joe Quinn, the champion 135-pounder, and Phil Baker, entered in the same class. Its wrestlers are Barber, Griffin and William Hilliah. Joe is the captain of the Bedfords, and will very likely be in the corners of all his men.

The Nonpareils are in line with six entries, all of them top-notchers except Cinzer, a new man, who is in the 125-pound wrestling class. The Woods Run escort club will be represented by Mike Creedon, who knows how to use the mitts, and two new men.

P. A. C. has the best of its talent in the tournament. John McGrew and Joe Schmucker ought to repeat their successes of last season on the mat, while Salmon will take care of himself in the ring. It will spring a new man in Gray in the 135-pound wrestling class.

The West End Gyms will have three sturdy men to uphold their reputation. They are all boxers, and good ones at that. Hennegin, Friel and Mitchell will make things hum in their respective classes.

PENNSYLVANIA'S WEAKNESS.

[illegible] Went Through Its Line [illegible] Near Scoring—Barclay's Splendid Runs.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—Two thousand people saw the Pennsylvania football team defeat Lafayette on the local college grounds this afternoon by the unsatisfactory score of 26 to 0. The Eastonians went through Pennsylvania's line like water through a sieve. Twice Barclay, their left halfback, passed the entire team, with the exception of Brooke, and only the slippery condition of the grounds prevented him scoring. The red and blue's line was particularly weak at guard, both Wharton and Woodruff being laid up, and their places filled by Stannard and Hancock, who put up a very inferior article of football. Williams played his first regular game at quarter for the 'varsity, while Knipe looked after left halfback. The work of the former was excellent, his tackling and passing being well-nigh faultless. Knipe's work, however, was disappointing. Time and time again he was sent against the line, and just as surely was he hurled back, for no gain, and often for considerable loss. The only members of the Pennsylvania team who showed any snap or vigor whatever were Gelbert, the new left end; Osgood, Brooke and Williams. Osgood was the best ground gainer, and made a number of brilliant runs in which Williams's interference was a marked feature. Pennsylvania was able to score but one touchdown in the first half, made by Brooke after about 10 minutes' play. No goal resulted. Lafayette had been playing a hard, aggressive game, and the wearers of the red and blue were much worried over the result at this stage of the contest.

Pennsylvania, however, braced up in the second half, and, although it was 10 minutes' shorter than the previous one, managed to roll up 22 points, Brooke, Osgood, Knipe and Gelbert making touchdowns, while Brooke kicked three goals out of four attempts in the half.

Barclay's two runs, for 40 and 50 yards, through the left side of Pennsylvania's line, were the features of the game. They were both made on an old gag, which the Lafayette boys sprung on the Quakers, Sigman, the fullback, dropping back on a fake attempt to kick, while the stocky little halfback took the ball and speeded though Pennsylvania's line, and down the field.

Williams and Brooke were the only men that showed to advantage in the interference, and there was little semblance of anything like team work. The teams lined up as follows:

U. of P.—26.	Position.	Lafayette—0.
Hancock	Left guard	R. Jordan
Bull	Center	S. Jordan
Stannard	Right guard	Rhinehart
Farrar	Right tackle	Lee
Upton	Right end	Jones (Vincent)
Williams	Quarter back	Attix (Vincent)
Knipe	Left half-back	Barclay
Osgood	Right half-back	Zelzer
Brooke	Full back	Sigman (Reese)

Touchdowns—Brooke 2, Osgood, Knipe, Gelbert. Goals—Brooke 3. Referee and umpire—Dr. Chas. Schibb and H. A. Mackey, alternates in halves. Linesman—A. F. Delabarre.

CUNNING STANTON ABBOTT.

He Fools Charles Gehring Neatly and Easily Knocks Him Out.

Baltimore, Oct. 31.—The fight between Stanton Abbott and Charles Gehring last night took place at the Academy of Music. Referee H. Lee Clarke announced that it would be a six-round go. From the start Gehring began to force the fight, and the 1,000 spectators applauded every time he landed a blow. Abbott protected his face with his hands, and the body blows he got were when he was retreating. The first two rounds looked like honors would be even. At the end of the sixth round Abbott was waiting for an opening to get in his right, and led Gehring on. At the beginning of the third round, he got the opening he wanted and landed a staggering blow on Gehring's neck. Gehring then became a little more cautious, and again Abbott became apparently careless. He led Gehring on and when he got the opening he wanted he made a half-right arm swing and caught Gehring under the ear. Gehring fell, but was up again in eight seconds. Abbott measured his distance and again [illegible] This time he caught Gehring on the point of the jaw and Gehring went down and out.

Gehring won the amateur championship in New York city, Madison square garden, last March, whipping four men in two nights.

IN SPITE OF THE RAIN.

P. A. C. Reserves and H. G. C. Have It Out on the Gridiron.

Notwithstanding the torrents of rain that fell yesterday afternoon representatives of the first and second teams of the Holy Ghost college donned their suits to tackle the P. A. C. Reserves. Two lively 20-minute halves were played, during which Johnson, for the P. A. C. R., scored a touch-down, and Miller and Kearns, for the college. The H. G. C. boys shoved their opponents over the line for a safety, thus increasing the score 10 to 4 in their favor. Wolf, Diebold and Miller played a good, aggressive game for the college, and Romig, Johnson and Paisley showed up well on the defensive. The teams lined up as follows:

H. G. C. (10.)		P. A. C. R. (4.)
Murphy	Left end	Romig
Krauss	Left guard	Rogers
Smith	Center	Vandegrift
Wall	Right guard	J. Rogers
E. Kearns	Right tackle	Hamilton
Diebold	Right end	Johnson
B. Kearns	Quarterback	Batchlor
Wolfe	Left half	Alexender
McCarthy	Right half	Jordon
Miller	Fullback	Paisley

RACING AT M'KEESPORT.

Speedy Local Horses to Start for Charity Next Wednesday.

A number of owners of speedy horses in McKeesport have arranged for a local race meeting next Wednesday, the proceeds to go to the city hospital service, particularly to buy an ambulance. It is to be a mixed trotting and pacing race, open to all three-year-old horses in McKeesport only, best three in five one-mile heats. The owner of each horse entered is to deposit $10 the winning horse to take one-half the purse, the second horse two-thirds of the remainder and the third horse the balance. The gate receipts are to be donated to the hospital fund. The entries for the race will close next Friday, and the admission fee to the park is to be 25 cents. The following horses have already been entered: Billy Kid, John Morgan, Jack, J. O. Eyman, Maud, William Chisholm, Gold Hal, W. M. McGregor, Ben Boy, Jr. and L. Richardson.

Results at Washington.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Three odds on favorites finished first at St. Asaph today. Little Field made his first appearance, and had two successful mounts. A sloppy track prevented fast time.

First race, ½ mile—Samaratan won, Edna May second, Sabina, filly, third. Time, :52¼.

Second race, ½ mile—Tartuffe won, The Scalper second, Iroglen, gelding, third. Time, :54¼.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles—Prig won, Baroness second, Illume third. Time, 1:58¼.

Fourth race, 5 furlongs—Reynard won, Wah Jim second, Lorimer third. Time, 1:07½.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs—McIntyre won, Melody second, Repetition third. Time, 1:22¾.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs—Owlet won, Doggett second, Sallie Woodford third. Time, 1:21½.

Pittsburg Selected by Brewer.

Kansas City, Oct. 31.—J. A. R. Elliott, the local wing shot, who recently signed articles for a shoot with Dr. Carver, today received a letter from John L. Brewer, of New York, declining to shoot five races for the championship of the world, but accepting Elliott's proposition to shoot five races for a money consideration. The first two races will be shot at Kansas City, to follow with one at Pittsburg, Pa., and the other two on some grounds near New York city. Messrs. Brewer and Elliott will meet in Chicago within 10 days for the purpose of signing contracts.

For the Sculling Championship.

St. Louis, Oct. 31.—Captain John Crotty, manager of the Austin great annual international regatta association; J. A. St. John and Mr. Scmaub planned a match race for the championship of America, to take place in Austin, Tex., when that city's water, light and power system, now nearing completion, is finished. The proposed race is to be between Thos. Sullivan, champion of England; John Teemer, Henry Peterson and Jake Gaudaur.

Lehigh Defeats North Carolina.

Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 31.—Lehigh defeated the University of North Carolina in a hotly-contested football game here this afternoon by 24 to 6. Lehigh's superb interference won the game. Guyon for the visitors made a phenomenal run of 80 yards, while Trafton and Thurston's playing for Lehigh behind the line was excellent. Lehigh's eleven is much stronger than it has been for weeks. The visitors put up a strong, rapid game, but the line showed lack of training.

Jack King After Tim Scanlan.

Jack King, a heavyweight pugilist of St. Louis, is in town. He would like to get on a match with Tim Scanlan, Pittsburg's champion. King has heard of Tim's powers, but thinks he can hold his own against the Pittsburger in a glove contest. Nothing definite has been done yet, but a match may be the result if King can show the "color of his coin."

Rifle Shoting at Bridgeville.

To-day the Bridgeville rifle club will hold its first annual tournament on its range at Bridgeville. Shooting will begin at 1 o'clock this afternoon and continue until dark. Every effort has been made to make the event a success. All the best shooters in this part of the state are expected to participate. The event will be a ticket match, off-hand, at 100 yards. Five prizes will be given.

Slavin and Daly To-Night.

Buffalo, Oct. 31.—Jack Slavin and Jim Daly are in excellent trim for their 15-round go to-morrow night. There will be no draw if either man is to be believed. They will fight at catch-weight for a purse of $1,500. The preliminary bout will be a 10-round go between Jack Harley and Jim Perry.

Matches Postponed One Day.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—The meeting of the crack horses at Point Breeze has been postponed until Friday, upon application of Monroe Salisbury, the owner of Alix. The reason given was the desire of horsemen, who are anxious to witness the meeting, to be present to-morrow at the sale of Leland Stanford's stock in New York. The scheduled events will come off on Friday and Saturday.

Big Money by Big Men.

New York, Oct. 31.—The sales of the boxes of the annual horse show was held this afternoon at Madison square garden. Fully 500 representative New Yorkers attended. The bidding was somewhat slow. The first box was knocked down to George Gould for $500. The sale netted $34,270, and averaged $350 a box, as against $30,000 last year. Among the more prominent purchasers were: Wm. C. Whitney, Frederic Bronson, A. J. Cassett, W. E. D. Stokes, W. L. Strong, John M. Bowers, Henry Sloan, C. Oliver Iselin, W. Stewart Wedd and F. De Hauteville.

Robert J. in Philadelphia.

Buffalo, Oct. 31.—The king of pacers, Robert J., has been shipped to Philadelphia to participate in the special match with John R. Gentry to-morrow.

Rain at McKees Rocks.

The races at McKees Rocks yesterday were prevented by rain. The program will be taken up to-day and finished as rapidly as possible. The card for yesterday will be followed to-day.

Is Tommy Ryan a Hebrew?

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Tom O'Rourke, of Boston, has bet Frank O'Brien, of Chicago, $1,000 even that Tommy Ryan, the pugilist, is a Hebrew. Mr. O'Rourke, by the terms of the wager, must prove within 60 days that Ryan is a Hebrew or lose his money. A committee of five local sporting editors has been agreed upon to decide the question.

Kicked Two Goals From Field.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 31.—The Volunteers, of New York, were badly defeated by the Yale team this afternoon. 42 to 2. Butterworth did not play, and Lemon was put in his place, at fullback. He played a fine game, ran well and kicked two goals from the field.

Sullivan Signs With Boston.

Boston, Oct. 31.—James Sullivan, the pitcher of last season's Providence nine, has signed with the Boston league club.

Sporting Notes.

Yale will not play Cornell this year.

There is a letter in this office for Fred Hartman, the ball player.

Frank Shugart umpired a game at Sabula, Pa., on Saturday. The Sabulas beat the Rocktons 16 to 5. Shugart's work pleased both sides.

The winners at Oakley yesterday were O'Connell, John Keeler, Pittsburg, Katie G., Vernon and Hollywood.

Pittsburg won the third race at Oakley yesterday in a driving finish by half a length from Back Line. The distance was seven furlongs and was made in 1:32½.

Tickets for the A. A. A.-P. A. C. football game next Tuesday were placed on sale at Pratt's yesterday, and began at once to be disposed of. A run is expected to-day. Carriage space is being rapidly bought.

To-day Robert J. and John R. Gentry will meet in a match race at Philadelphia. To-morrow Alix, Fantasy and Directly are scheduled to go against time.

Amherst was not able to play yesterday, and its game with Yale has been declared off.

At the Seaside athletic club's tournament on Monday Young Griffo, who was drunk and noisy, was pitched out of the building by the police.

President McMullan, of the Atlantic association, A. A. A., contrary to expectation, will not attend the boxing tournament. He left for Philadelphia yesterday.

George Plante has given up his attempt to break into the amateur ranks again. He made the usual rounds yesterday, offering to meet any local man at 135 pounds.

DANFORD UNPOPULAR.

Many Republicans Will Vote for the Democratic Candidate.

Steubenville, O., Oct. 31.—The Democrats in this district are working hard. There is no rush, as has been given out, on the part of Democrats here to get into the Republican column, but if anything they are standing by the old party more firmly than ever. The Germans, who are supposed to be solid for the Republican ticket, are now placed in the doubtful column, especially as far as the congressional candidate is concerned, as some years ago, at Cadiz, Danford made a speech in which he bitterly assailed the Germans and Irish. The recalling of this speech has lost Danford many voes already.

The statement of Captain Danford in his Steubenville speech—"I do not want anybody who favors free coinage of silver to vote for me, as I would not represent his ideas on that question in congress"—is operating very strongly against him, and will lose him votes of those Republicans who feel that the silver question is the main issue. Mr. Barnes, the Democratic congressional candidate, has made a thorough canvass of the district, and his logical arguments on the silver question remain unanswered by the Republican candidate. A great many Republicans have signified their intention to vote for Mr. Barnes.

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE.

Arrangements for Traction Postal Cars Are Completed.

The street railway mail service will go into effect here November 10. The mail to and from the East Liberty office will be carried on the Duquesne line, and in case of any accident to the line it is understood that the Fifth avenue line will transfer the mails.

President Nathaniel Holmes, of the Citizens line, yesterday agreed for that company to carry the mails to and from Lawrenceville. He is taking a great interest in the subject, and has offered to place regulation boxes on all the cars, so that residents along the line of the road might hand letters to the conductors and have them brought down town or taken to the East End and mailed immediately at the general office. Nothing will be charged the government for these boxes for a year, but after that time if they work successfully a small compensation for their use will be asked. President Holmes also agreed to furnish free transportation for the special delivery boys, commencing November 5.

President George B. Hill and Fred Gwinner, of the Pittsburg, Allegheny & Manchester and the Allegheny traction companies, called on Postmaster O'Donnell and Assistant Superintendent of Mails Masten yesterday for the purpose of discussing arrangements to carry the mails to Allegheny. President Jennings, of the Birmingham line, says that road will enter into agreements the same as the others.

The street railway employes who will look after the mails will not be regarded as government employes, and will not be entitled to come under the provisions of the government rule which prescribes eight hours as a day's work.

Pittsburger a Director.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The Niagara river and land company, of Buffalo, was incorporated to-day with a capital of $250,000, to carry on a real estate business, to construct and maintain docks and piers, to maintain ware and store houses. The business is to be located in the town of Grand Island, Erie county. The directors are: E. M. Rutz, Pittsburg, Pa., and M. D. Detwiler and Robert Snodgrass, Hamburg.

Its Plan of Reorganization.

New York, Oct. 31.—The reorganization committee of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad company has adopted a plan of reorganization which provides that the existing mortgages are to be foreclosed, and the property, rights and franchises purchased under said foreclosures by the committee. It is proposed to form a new company under the laws of the state of Michigan.

William Jones, a wealthy coal operator, living at Silver Creek, Hardin county, O., was struck by a train Tuesday night and killed.

Must Bear a Tax.

Louisville, Oct. 31.—By a decision of the United States board of appraisers of New York, received here to-day, reimported whisky, on which tax had not been paid prior to the new tariff laws going into effect, must bear a tax of $1 10 per gallon, even if it had been reimported prior to the time the tariff law went into effect.

MAIL POUCH TOBACCO. IMITATED, CANNOT BE EQUALED.

THE ROLLICKING TONY.

STUART ROBSON PUTS ON GOLDSMITH'S FAMOUS CHARACTER.

A CURIOUS MIRROR SETTING.

Discloses Actors Before They Appear on the Stage.

ATTRACTIONS FOR NEXT WEEK.

After linking the fortunes of himself and his company of players for the first part of the week to Buckstone's comedy of "Leap Year," Stuart Robson replaced it last night with another comedy, in which the same Buckstone has become traditionally connected as Tony Lumpkin. It is scarcely necessary, after mentioning Goldsmith's famous character, to say that the play was "She Stoops co Conquer," in which, by the way, Mr. Robson's people have been seen in Pittsburg before. The rollicking Tony was, of course, taken care of by Mr. Robson, and differs in no essential degree from its characterization by him in the past. The Robson methods of offering humor are not varied, but they are always infectious. There is the same squeak that endeared the famous Bertie Vanalstyne to the play-going public; that staccato way of picking up his words and dropping them again, and the impressive repetition at slow tempo of an audacious speech which invariably earns a laugh.

It is quite possible that Mr. Robson's Tony is more suited to this part of the nineteenth century than Goldsmith's boisterous youth. There is no doubt the real Tony Lumpkin was very far from being a gentleman, and that the pruning which he has received at the hands of a line of English-speaking comedians brings us to-day to a pale counterpart of the original. The present delineation is in keeping with this doctrine.

The part of Miss Hardcastle was taken by Mrs. Robson, and was dressed charmingly "au natural." Miss Hardcastle was a bit of a spitfire at times, and could give her father a foretaste of the curtain lecture that was as certain every night as the striking of 10 p. m. by the clock. Mrs. Robson shows more of the good-natured side of the heroine, and, in fact, treated the forward Mr. Marlowe to a good humor that he scarcely deserves. Mr. Verance was vastly more pleasing as Marlowe than the somewhat conventional work in "Leap Year" gave hope of. His carrying off of the situation, where Hardcastle catches him embracing his daughter under the guise of her maid, was executed splendidly. Another player who deserves mention is John L. Wooderson, who broke into such spontaneous laughs in his character as Diggory that several people in the Duquesne audience found them rather contagious.

"She Stoops to Conquer" holds the boards to-night and at the Saturday matinee, with "The Henrietta" replacing it the remaining nights of the week.

An old actor, with the leisure of a retired player on his hands, remarked at the Duquesne the other evening: "What a curious angle to choose for the setting of that mirror in the anteroom, or hall, or whatever it is, of which a suggestion is given in the first and second acts of 'Leap Year.' People sitting in the left proscenium boxes, and even down in the pit, or parquet rather, have been afforded an opportunity of seeing the actors as they enter give the final touches to their toilets. Even Dionysius Dimple was not guiltless Monday evening of taking a squint in the glass preparatory to coming on and putting his chrysanthemum into place, just before making his appearance as the simple cousin. A little of the illusion is lost because one should certainly never see the player when he is in the wings, for the better actor he is the more likely he is to lay aside his character during the moment of concealment."

"Our Uncle Dudley," which will hold the boards at the East End theater next week, is said to be one of the brightest and most mirth-provoking of the many farcical comedies that have been seen in recent years. According to reports from other cities, it sparkles with clean, wholesome wit, and is entirely free from that suggestiveness and buffoonery that is offered so often nowadays to replace legitimate comedy. Well-known members of the company are Lena Merville, Augusta Nelson, Minnie Thurgate, Frank Currier, Russell Bassett, J. L. Ottomeyer, Augusta Cook and others.

"The Rising Generation," which was conceded by those who saw it to be a great Irish-American comedy, with William Barry, the happy-go-lucky, fat little comedian, in the star part, will be seen at the New Grand on Monday evening. Lovers of pure, wholesome comedy will once more have an opportunity of seeing that very funny yet realistic poker game. Miss Lydia Barry, the star's pretty daughter, has a number of new songs.

Next week Joseph Jefferson will adorn the Duquesne stage, and will present from Monday to Friday evenings and at the Saturday matinee that classic of comedy, "Rip Van Winkle." On Saturday evening Mr. Jefferson will offer the double-comedy bill, "Cricket on the Hearth" and "Lend Me Five Shillings." Seats and boxes for the Jefferson week go on sale this morning at 8:30.

Next week the Bijou will give its patrons a season of farce comedy when "A Run on the Bank" has its initial production in this city. The new farce, which is especially constructed to suit Ward and Vokes, the farceurs of the variety stage, who made a hit last season as Percy and Harold, two tramps disguised as gentlemen. Their new vehicle, "A Run on the Bank," is believed to give valuable opportunities to the two stars for the display of their virtues as comedians.

The Alvin theater will have for its attraction next week Charles L. Davis and his "Alvin Joslin" company, together with Prof. Kilanyi and the original living pictures. The appearance of Mr. Davis at his own theater is always an interesting event, and this year it will be made doubly so on account of the living pictures which Mr. Davis has secured as an additional attraction for this engagement.

Hyde's comedians, headed by the phenomenal female baritone, Helene Mora, as the stellar attraction, begin a week's engagement next Monday evening at the Academy of Music, the company including this season: The Rays, the brothers Dixon, Filson and Errol, Alburtus and Bartram, Forbes and Quinn, Harris and Walters and the Electric quartet.

A special school children's matinee will take place next Saturday at the Park theater, Allegheny. After the performance every child in the audience will be given an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with little Lottie Briscoe, who so cleverly plays the part of Editha in "The Burglar." Only 10 cents admission will be charged for school children.

Fat women's living pictures are announced as the chief attraction at the Eden musee next week. The eight contesting sprinters of this week have been engaged to pose for the pictures, and the one known as "Big Eliza" [illegible] lected to represent the famous painting "Night." A performance [illegible] merit will hold [illegible]

RECEIVER FOR A CHILD.

Queer Arrangement Growing Out of a Virginia Divorce Suit.

Staunton, Va., Oct. 31.—The first application for a receiver for a child in a Virginia court, so far as is known, has been made and granted here. The parties to the controversy are William B. Gray and Mrs. Ysidora Couts Gray, of San Diego, Cal. The child is a bright, frail lad, nearly 5 years old. Mr. Gray is a native of this city, where his mother and brother now reside. He moved to California eight years ago, and two years thereafter wedded Miss Ysidora Couts, of San Diego. The boy in controversy is their only child. Three weeks ago the father left San Diego and took the boy with him. Anticipating that he would come to his old home with the boy, the mother, accompanied by her sister's husband, Colonel Chalmers Scott, of California, came here and applied to Judge McLaughlin, of the circuit court, for the appointment of a temporary receiver for the child, pending the result of an action in the same court for permanent custody. The petition was granted, and Sheriff Watts named as temporary receiver. Yesterday morning, when Mr. Gray alighted with the child from an eastbound train, the sheriff took possession of the child. At the same time he served Mr. Gray with a summons in a suit of his wife for divorce, instituted in the California courts after his departure. Mrs. Gray in her petition alleges that she has property valued at $40,000 to $50,000, that her husband has never earned any money, that he has long been addicted to drink, is an atheist, and is morally, materially and spiritually unfit to be the custodian of the child.

SOUGHT DEATH TOGETHER.

Singular Tragedy of Japanese Lovers and Friends.

Yokohama, Oct. 31.—A real love story, full of romantic interest and concluding with an unhappy tragedy, finds its way from the interior of the empire. It has been an immemorial custom in Japan for despairing lovers to quit the world either by a simultaneous suicide or by the man killing his mistress and then himself. Such deaths are known as shinju, and have been until recently regarded as rather honorable than otherwise to the principal actors, as significant of their deep love and personal courage.

The graves of such unfortunates used, in celebrated instances, to be made the object of distant pilgrimages, and it frequently occurs that despairing lovers would immolate themselves before the tombs of those whose example had inspired them to take so rash a step.

Taro and Choshi were sweethearts. The former was 20 and the latter 17 years of age. Their parents objected to their marriage, and Taro proposed shinju to his lady love. Taro informed his bosom friend, Isojiro, of his intentions, and it was finally arranged that all three should leave the world at the same time.

The night was chosen, and Isojiro acted as executioner. He first cut the girl's throat, and then Taro's. The girl died at once, the knife having severed an artery. Taro also fell, whereupon Isojiro turned the weapon upon himself. When he returned to consciousness he found Taro struggling to his feet, and very far from being dead. When both men recover, the courts of law will take cognizance of their act.

Answers to Correspondents.

L. G. Lewis, Pittsburg—The full centuries to be leap years must be divisible by 400 without a remainder. The year 1900 is not so divisible, and therefore is not a leap year.

P. J. T.—So far as we know there is no reason why any civilized country should interfere in the China-Japan war. Russia or England may eventually interfere directly or indirectly to further some occult project each may have afoot in Asia, but this does not at present seem probable. [illegible]

Canada—An anonymous writer sends [illegible] a well-written and entirely good-tempered article in reply to the communication of E. H. Sammons, touching the Canadian government policy, printed in this paper Tuesday morning. We have no objection in the world to printing the communication, but think it should be signed with the name of the author. Mr. Sammons wrote over his own name, and in fairness to him challengers of his statements should do the same.

Alarming Rumor in Guatemala.

Guatemala, Oct. 31.—A great fright exists here over the rumor that Mexico is sending a fleet to blockade Guatemalan ports on the Pacific. The government is taking all possible precautions for defense.

LABOR IS REST.

Pause not to dream of the future before us:
Pause not to weep the wild cares that come o'er us;
Hark, how Creation's deep musical chorus,
Unintermitting, goes up into heaven!
Never the little wave falters in flowing;
Never the little seed stops in its growing;
More and more richly the rose heart keeps glowing,
Till from its nourishing stem it is riven.
"Labor is worship!" the robin is singing;
"Labor is worship!" the wild bee is ringing;
Listen! that eloquent whisper, upspringing,
Speaks to thy soul from out Nature's great heart.
From the dark cloud flows the life-giving shower;
From the rough sod blows the soft-breathing flower,
From the small insect, the rich coral bower:
Only man shrinks, in the plan, from his part.

Labor is rest—from the sorrows that greet us;
Rest from all petty vexations that meet
us,
Rest from sin-promptings that ever entreat
us,
Rest from world-sirens that lure us to ill.

* * * *

Rest not content in thy darkness—
a clod!
Work—for some good, be it ever so slowly:
Cherish some flower, be it ever so lowly:
Labor!—all labor is noble and holy;
Let thy great deeds be thy prayer to thy God.

FORECAST OF VICTORY.

CHAIRMAN FAULKNER SURE OF TRIUMPHS FOR THE DEMOCRACY.

NO GROUND WILL BE LOST.

Indications of a Republican Landslide Are Not Manifest.

MR. BABCOCK'S FAULTY ESTIMATE

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, still sticks to his policy of not making any public "claims" as to the number of congressional districts the Democrats will carry next week. This is in striking contrast with the course of the chairman of the Republican committee who has been issuing a "claim" about twice a week for the last six weeks, each of them of a most extravagant nature, based on the assumption that this is to be a Republican landslide year. But this assumption was essential to the Republicans from the first because with a Democratic majority of 80 to overcome it was only by making their claims on a landslide basis that they could possibly keep their courage up to the fighting point at all. Any modesty or conservatism on the part of their leaders in forecasting the outcome of the congressional elections would have meant disorganization from the start in the Republican ranks. And the frequency with which the landslide-based claims of the Republican congressional committee have been put forth shows the necessity they felt of constantly keeping up a vigorous whistling in order to maintain their courage.

As the closing days of the campaign draw near, their predictions of a landslide become more vigorous and more ridiculous, for the boldest and most ingenious of them, when pinned down to cold probabilities cannot for the life of them make it appear in what section of the country the landslide is to take place. If it is to be in Pennsylvania, for instance, then they must assume that the state will give on Tuesday next a heavier Republican majority than it gave Grow in February last, and no one who wishes to be taken seriously ventures to make a claim of this kind. They are aware that the Republican majority in Pennsylvania will fall many thousands short of Grow's majority, and this admission involves an acknowledgment that the Democrats will carry at least eight of the congressional districts, as a brief inspection of the figures will demonstrate. And if no landslide is coming in Pennsylvania, then where is it to be looked for?

Chairman Babcock, of the Republican committee, who has just returned from the west, has given out an interview indicating his belief that Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana will be the scene of one. Senator Faulkner laughed when he read this interview to-day.

"I'd be willing to bet a good cigar," he said, "that Babcock wouldn't look me in the eye and talk that way to me. He couldn't do it and keep from laughing. No," continued the senator, "if there's going to be a Republican landslide it certainly will not be in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana or West Virginia. If the information I have from those states isn't approximately accurate, then it is useless for experienced political observers and campaigners to attempt making forecasts. And my information is that we will, beyond doubt, elect the state ticket in Wisconsin and a majority of our congressional candidates.

"In Illinois we will elect part of the state ticket, control the legislature, thus gaining a United States senator, and will hold our own on congressmen. The men who give me this information are thoroughly familiar with the political situation in those states, and I am certain they are not mistaken in their estimates. In Indiana, too, the situation, as shown by advices from a dozen different sources, is all right, and we will hold our own there.

"The Republican claim of a coming tidal wave in the state is nothing short of silly. They certainly have no means of judging the feeling which are not at our command, and we can discover nothing to make us uneasy."

Certainly there is nothing in Senator Faulkner's manner of talking in public or private which would indicate a fear on his part that the Democrats will come out second best in the great contest of next Tuesday. The senator, of course, may be mistaken, but no one who talks to him can fail to be impressed with the belief that he looks forward to Tuesday's balloting with quite confidence. The fact that he gives no estimate or claim of the number of states the Democrats will carry is altogether without significance. Everyone knows that these claims or estimates are of little value, because they are bound to show a majority for the party making them.

It can be said, however, that the best informed Democrats here, after the most careful canvass of the situation, are confident the Democratic majority in the next house will not be less than a dozen over the combined Republican and Populist strength, while they say that the best that can happen to the Republicans will not give the latter a clear majority of the house.

Worden Confesses His Guilt.

Woodland, Cal., Oct. 31.—In the trial for murder of C. G. Worden, for having caused the railroad accident which resulted in the death of Engineer Clark and four United States soldiers during the recent strike, C. J. Stillwell, a private detective, to-day testified to a confession, which was produced, in Worden's handwriting, in which the prisoner confessed complicity to the crime and implicated the other men arrested.

Contest for a Priest's Estate.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Father Brady, of the Montgomery Catholic church, died here a few weeks ago, leaving an estate of $100,000, almost all of which he had willed to the church. He died two months after making this bequest, which, it is alleged, invalidates it. He made provision, however, that in case his will were set aside the money should go to Archbishop Corrigan. A brother in Ireland contests the will.

A Hackettstown Miracle.

A RECITAL THAT WILL INTEREST EVERYONE.

Physicians Could Do No More—Relief Found at Last—A Modern Miracle.

From the Hackettstown (N. J.) Republican.

Reports from time to time reached the "Republican" of the remarkable cure of Mrs. Jacob Shields, the wife of our leading coal merchant, who had been suffering from a complication of diseases that nearly resulted in her death. In order to verify these statements, one of our reporters called upon Mrs. Shields and found that the reports in no way represented the great service that had been rendered her by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

The particulars of the case are these: "I was taken sick," said Mrs. Shields, "with typhoid fever, and was delirious for three weeks. When I recovered I suffered untold agony with my back and right limb. They felt as though they would burst. At the same time I suffered dreadfully with my kidneys. Blood would pass from me most of the time. My mother was with me, and a friend of hers called and told her of the sickness they had passed through at her home, and that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had been used by them, and she felt sure I would find great benefit from its use.

"A bottle was purchased, and I hadn't taken but a few doses before it began to relieve me, and in a few days some small, sharp, white stones passed from me. That evening the doctor called, and I told him that I had stopped his medicine, for he had told Mr. Shields the last time he called that he did not know what more to do for me. Some time before this I was taken to the hospital, and then brought home, as was supposed, to die. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was taken just in time. I do thank God from the bottom of my heart that he ever sent that lady here to tell me of Favorite Remedy, otherwise death would have been my doom. Since I have recovered ever so many have told me that it was a miracle I ever got well. I certainly cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

"Many persons are using it upon my recommendation, and it is doing them good. I will cheerfully answer any questions," said Mrs. Shields, "in regard to my illness, feeling that others who may be suffering will be benefited by using Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy."

No tribute to the efficacy of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy could be greater than these words of Mrs. Shields's, who voluntarily tells the story of her remarkable recovery, and that this medicine should be used by persons suffering from diseases for which it is prepared.

Favorite Remedy ranks with the medical profession as the most perfect of blood and nerve medicines. It will cure all diseases of the skin, liver and kidneys, and the weaknesses peculiar to females, and affords great protection from attacks that originate in change of life. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, rheumatism, dyspepsia, all kidney, bladder and urinary diseases, gravel, diabetes and Bright's disease.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is for sale by dealers in medicine at $1 a bottle.

Irene House Seeks [illegible] Multiplying [illegible]

Trenton, N. J., Oct. [illegible] Mercer county criminal [illegible] to work it will have to [illegible] House, one of the most [illegible] New Jersey has ever [illegible] and whose seventh husband [illegible] indicted with her for a murderous assault upon her sixth. The woman has accumulated considerable wealth along with her notoriety, and, until her arrest, has occupied the handsome country residence a few miles above this city adjoining her farm, where, about 25 years ago, she killed her husband, by whose name she is now known, Lawyer Oram House. She was acquitted of the charge of murder and sent to the state asylum for the insane. Since her release, a dozen or so years ago, she has traveled all over the world.

Since House's day the woman is credited with having married six men, five of whom still exist. While she was living in apparent happiness with Paul K. Redmond, or "No. 6," she met and at once fell in love with Harry Corson, an operator in a telegraph signal station near her home. She loved him "because," she said, "he looked so much like William Penn." Though she is 50, and Corson only 28, the telegrapher became her captive, and they went through the marriage form. When they went up to the country residence and the woman announced that she had brought home a new husband, Redmond objected. For his temerity he was terrifically beaten with a club, and he caused the arrest of the woman and her newest spouse, and they will be tried in a few days.

SLEW HIS FATHER.

Little Abner Astrop Did Not Heed Managerial Coaxings.

Ashland, Ky., Oct. 31.—Abner Astrop, the midget, is dead in his mountain home in Johnson county, at the age of 52 years. Astrop never in his life weighed more than 45 pounds, and at the time of his death his weight was but 30 pounds. He was two inches less than three feet tall. Astrop was born in Johnson county, and was one of five children. He was of ordinary size in babyhood, but he grew very little after his fifth year. His strength for a dwarf was remarkable. His parents established him in a small crossroads store when he was 20 years old, and he spent his life in it. Museum managers made flattering offers to him, but he refused them. He died worth $10,000. He never married, and was never outside his native county.

BEARS HAD A TIGHT GRIP

ON GRANGER SHARES, WHICH DECLINED ON PROSPECT OF POOR EARNINGS.

ST. PAUL THROWN OVERBOARD

No Action Taken Concerning the Panhandle Dividend.

COAL STOCKS IN BETTER TONE.

Special to The Pittsburg Post.

New York, Oct. 31.—The professional bear element had the market in a tight grip to-day, but they confined their operations to the granger stocks, all of which suffered a heavy decline, owing to the prospect of poor earnings and to the intimation that the semi-annual dividend on Northwest common may be reduced.

London bought moderately of St. Paul at the opening, but late in the day the arbitrage houses were heavy sellers, on the expectation that when the London stock exchange reopens on Friday morning the St. Paul statement for September, showing a decrease of $161,599 in net earnings, will not be favorably received.

It was argued that St. Paul had reached the end of its rope in the matter of instituting economies, and as considerable maneuvering has to be done to secure passenger business, it is just possible that the October statement will present the most unsatisfactory exhibit of the year. It was upon this theory that the room traders threw overboard their speculative holdings of St. Paul, and this caused a systematic drop in Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

The granger stocks were also unfavorably influenced by dispatches from the west, indicating that the farmers were holding back their grain and that receipts for the next 30 days would show a large falling off at distributing points. Northwest commanded more than ordinary attention from the bear party, because it was rumored that heavy sales of the common stock were being made for one of the prominent officials of the road who is alarmed over the large falling off in gross receipts since June, so that it is barely possible that the dividend for the last six months of the current year will be reduced to 2 per cent. Another depressing feature was the delivery of stock certificates in the name of Cuyler Morgan & Co., a house that has been prominently identified with the controlling interests of the company. It was also reported that the recent selling orders were given out by a firm of brokers in which one of the prominent directors of the board is largely interested.

The coal stocks displayed a rallying tendency on account of the demand to close a scattered short interest, but the situation in the anthracite trade is still very critical, and even the inside parties in Jersey Central, who have not lost confidence in the value of the property, are hesitating to load up with the certificates until the result of the business for November is known.

The threatened disturbance in the coal trade will undoubtedly benefit Reading, which was fairly strong on a limited volume of business. The call for assents to the Reading plan of reorganization has been issued, and is ready [illegible]

[illegible] was a sharp rally after the first hour of business on the report that the decision of the United States appraisers on the beet sugar tariff [illegible] be favorable to the trust, but in the closing dealings the principal brokers of the Havemeyer interests sold freely, and the greater part of the early recovery was lost. The sugar interests are now afraid that congress will take some aggressive step, which will be injurious to the trust, and they are consequently anxious to make as poor a month as possible by the closing of the refineries, and by apparently selling refined sugar below the cost of production. In fact, it is rumored that in order to create the impression that the trust is in poor financial shape the December dividend will be reduced to a mere nominal figure.

Chicago gas was the firm feature of the industrial group, and advanced on purchases by the Benedict brokers, who are working very hard to force the short interest to cover.

Some liquidation of long stock in General electric was noticeable in spite of the announcement that the company was so pressed for space at its Schenectady works to execute an accumulation of orders that an additional force will have to be hired at the Lynn establishment.

Secretary S. B. Leggett, of the Pittsburg, Chicago, Cincinnati & St. Louis, telegraphed "The Post" correspondent from Pittsburg regarding the rumored passage of the dividend on the preferred stock as follows: "You can neither deny nor confirm the report, as no formal board action has been taken."

There was a substantial rise in Lackawanna and Delaware & Hudson, but the advance was fairly well sustained up to the close of business. The Vanderbilt brokers were buyers of Lackawanna, and the execution of their orders came in competition with the closing of short contracts for a prominent room trader, who is now devoting all his time to depressing Northwest and St. Paul.

Richmond and West Point Terminal was in better odor on the announcement that Drexel, Morgan & Co. are prepared on and after November 2, to deliver the securities of the Southern railway company in exchange for their fully paid assented receipts.

The Lawrence-Quintard Ann Arbor plan of reorganization was issued this afternoon. The new company is to have a capitalization of $6,450,000, consisting of $4,000,000 5 per cent non-cumulative stock, and $3,250,000 common stock. The bonded indebtedness will consist of $7,000,000 4 per cent gold bonds, and the fixed charges will not exceed $253,280.

Late dispatches from Topeka, Kan., indicated that the Atchison directors will win in the present litigation with the protective committee, and that a cumulative vote will not be ordered by Judge Foster.

Foreign exchange was a trifle steadier this afternoon, but there are no positive indications of gold shipments, as the business is too contracted to enable gold exporting houses to sell bills to advantage.

Pittsburg & Western preferred closed at 28 to 28½; 100 shares sold at 28½, and [illegible] at 27½.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Oct. 31.—The "Evening Post's" London cablegram: The stock markets were steady to-day on the whole, being very little affected by the sad news from the czar. Americans were rather better on purchases against options, but Louisville and St. Paul closed [illegible]. Mexican rails broke sharply again on forced sales of pawned stocks. The Paris bourse keeps very firm. It is believed that the bear speculation in Russian ruble on the Berlin bourse may result in serious difficulties, if not [illegible] bear operators there. More [illegible] gone to Paris. A recovery in [illegible] exchange is expected with the [illegible] of the bourse settlement.

CHICAGO 'CHANGE.

Wheat Weakens on an Increase in [illegible] Supply, and Corn and [illegible] Sympathise.

[illegible], Oct. 31.—Weak domestic markets and an increase in the world's visible supply weakened wheat to-day and knocked ⅜c off the price of December. Corn followed, closing ⅛c lower for May, and May oats sympathized to the extent of ⅛c. Provisions were dull, but firm and slightly higher.

Wheat was less bullish at the opening than it was at the close of the market yesterday. It yielded ⅛c per bushel of its price at the start, and after some little buying against puts had caused a recovery of ⅛c, the market sagged once more to its opening price. The easier feeling was due principally to what was expected would be the bearish effect of Bradstreet's visible, but trading upon that expectation was restricted by its uncertainty. The looked-for report of the world's visible in some respects more than satisfied the previous estimates concerning it. It showed a gross increase in the world for the week of 4,356,000 bushels. The selling increased for a few moments. December declined to 52⅜c, with sellers at that, and May to 57¼c. That was followed by a quick but short-lived spurt to 52⅝@52⅞c for December, and to 57⅝c for May, and that in turn was succeeded by as quick a decline to 52⅜c and 57¼@57⅜c. December finished at 52⅜c and May at 57⅜c.

A shade of disquietude with the corn they had bought yesterday was observable in the action of the bulls in that article. May opened at 51⅝c, with sales at the same time at 51@51⅝c, after recovering to 51⅝c. It ruled very weak after that, and became heavier and heavier after a few weak and poorly sustained rallies, selling near the end at 50½c and winding up at 50½@50⅝c.

Following corn in its fluctuations and meeting with a fair sale, the oats market was a very uninteresting one throughout to-day's entire session. May opened a shade easier at 32⅝c, touched 32¾c, and sold down to 32⅜c, where it closed.

In provisions some disposition was shown to cover previous short sales, but advantage was taken of the rallies to renew the selling. The fluctuations were confined to narrow limits. Pork, compared with yesterday's latest, is 2½c higher, and lard is also 2½c higher, with ribs unchanged.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour easy; No. 2 spring wheat, 55⅞@56⅞c; No. 3 spring wheat, nominal; No. 2 red, 51⅞@52⅞c; No. 2 corn, 51½c; No. 3 yellow, 51c; No. 2 oats, 28⅜c; No. 2 white, 32½@33c; No. 3 white, 32@32½c; No. 2 rye, 47c; No. 2 barley, 53c; No. 3, 52@54½c; No. 4, 51½@52c; No. 1 flaxseed, $1 40½@1 41; prime timothy seed, $5 50; mess pork, per barrel, $12 00@12 12½; lard, per 100 lbs, $6 95; short ribs, sides (loose), $6 20@6 25; dry salted shoulders (boxed), 5⅝@5⅞c; short clear sides (boxed), 6⅝@6½c; whisky, distillers' finished goods, per gallon, $1 23; sugars, cutloaf, 5.18c; granulated, 4.38c; standard "A," 4.38c.

Receipts—Flour, 14,000 barrels; wheat, 104,000 bushels; corn, 155,000 bushels; oats, 188,000 bushels; rye, 8,000 bushels; barley, 99,000 bushels.

Shipments—Flour, 15,000 barrels; wheat, 6,000 bushels; corn, 82,000 bushels; oats, 81,000 bushels; rye, 2,000 bushels; barley, 45,000 bushels.

On the produce exchange to-day the butter market was steady; creameries, 13@22c; dairies, 12@19c. Eggs firm at 17½@18½c.

A MONTH IN SECURITIES.

A FAIR VOLUME OF BUSINESS HAS BEEN TRANSACTED IN SEPTEMBER.

PHILLIE WAS IN DEMAND.

Tractions Steady on a Moderate Request for Favorites.

AIR BRAKE IS STILL ADVANCING.

Wednesday, Oct. 31.

To-day is the last day of October, and while business on the local exchange has not been large as compared with the business of the previous month, it has been very good, and has made a fairly satisfactory increase in volume. The total transactions for the month aggregate 7,902 shares of stock, $20,000 bonds and $234 in scrip, which was distributed chiefly among the natural gas shares, the tractions and the miscellaneous group, with a little trading in the mining and electric stocks. The tone of the market during the month was dull the most of the time, but on occasions an active spirit was noticeable. The best trading day was October 29, when 640 shares of stock, $8,000 bonds and $84 in scrip were sold, and the poorest trading day October 11, when but 10 shares of stock and $50 in scrip changed hands.

The trading to-day was a little better than that of yesterday, but the sales all told amounted to only 378 shares of stock. There was a slight bulge in trading in Phillie, and the first two sales of the day were made in the favorite at 19¼. On the last call a small lot was sold at 19¼, but the closing bid was ¼ lower. Allegheny heating advanced 3 per cent as against yesterday's closing, and closed at 98 bid. Pennsylvania gas was traded in at 11, and advanced to 11 bid on the last call, and was offered down from 13 to 12¼. Wheeling gas was steady at 20½ bid all day, and it was not on the market at any price.

In the traction group Central traction was steady, and 23 was asked until the last call, when it was offered ½ lower. It was steady all day at 22 bid. Pleasant Valley was in moderate demand, and sold at 21⅝@21⅝, and it closed at the top bid of the day. Duquesne traction sold in a small way at 27¾, and was offered in 100-share lots at 27½. The demand for Manchester traction was not conspicuous, but it was traded in in a small way at 38¼@38⅜. Birmingham traction advanced from 13¾ bid to 14⅛, and one transaction was made at 14¼. The stock seems inclined to advance, but a slight upward movement will likely call out more stock.

The demand for Air Brake has caused a rapid advance in the security, and to-day 127 was bid, a gain of 1½ since yesterday. The general list was unchanged, and the market closed dull but steady.

As predicted in "The Post" some time ago the Panhandle company has passed the dividend on the preferred stock. Both the common and preferred stock have been weak for some time, and since yesterday the former declined from 45 to 40⅝, and the latter closed today at 14½.

According to Bradstreet's, 1,117 commercial banks in 122 cities now hold in deposits $510,000,000 more than a year ago at this time, and 250 savings banks hold in deposits $58,000,000 less.

For Central traction 22 was bid, and a block of 200 shares was held at 23, but the final asking price was 22½.

John A. Myler, who represents W. R. Thompson & Co. on the exchange, was on 'change to-day for the first time since his illness.

For 50, 100, 200 and 500-share lots of Birmingham traction 14 was bid on the last call, while for a small bundle of 5 shares 16¼ was both bid and asked.

A reassuring feature in the financial situation is the fact that the treasury gold reserve has increased about $1,000,000 within the past few days, and now stands at over $61,300,000. There is nevertheless talk of a possible government [illegible]

The [illegible] the local clearing house for the month of October, 1894, exceeded those of the same month last year $12,[illegible], and exceeded those of last September $10,907,[illegible].51.

Everybody had the point to sell Northwest, and it is confidently asserted that because of the extraordinary falling off in earnings a reduction in dividend to a 5 per cent, or less basis will be rendered absolutely necessary at the forthcoming meeting of the directors.

The comptroller's October returns show that thus far in the year the national banks of Chicago, Boston, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Detroit, Kansas City, St. Louis and St. Paul have increased their aggregate loan account $35,242,000; yet in the same eight months these very banks have increased their deposit funds in other banks nearly $16,000,000.

J. D. Armstrong & Co., the brokers, are presenting the patrons of the house with a neat and handy pocket book.

The stockholders of the Washington oil company on December 13 will vote upon the proposition to reduce the capital stock of the company from $600,000 to $450,000. About two years ago it was reduced from $1,000,000 to $500,000.

The cash balance in the treasury today was $112,399,963; gold reserve, $61,360,055.

Minneapolis, Oct. 31.—Wheat was moderately firm all day, with some fluctuations, the highest point being shortly after the noon hour; then all wanted to realize on long wheat at once, and prices declined, and closed about ¼c lower than yesterday for futures. Cash wheat prices were maintained. The demand for it was good, and, although the receipts were larger than yesterday, they were not sufficient to satisfy the demands of millers and elevator companies buying for storage. Receipts were 318,720 bushels; shipments, 10,720 bushels; the market closed at [illegible] for October; December, 54⅝c; May, 57⅝c; [illegible]; on track, 58⅝c for hard; northern, 55⅝c; No. 2, 54⅝c. [illegible] in the northwest was unfavorable for large marketings by farmers, but there is sufficient in country elevators now to keep the railroads busy with all they can do until cold weather sets in. The flour market was steady, and the mills were very active; sales were made at $3 15@3 40 for patents and $1 85@2 20 for bakers. Production amounted to 40,000 barrels for the 24 hours; shipments, 22,298 barrels.

Sugar—Raw dull; sales, 500 hogsheads, Muscovado 89 degrees test, at 3c. Refined quiet.

Wool.

Boston, Oct. 31.—The American wool and cotton reporter will say to-morrow of the wool trade: The market is quiet and steady. There is no buying to speak of on the part of large mills, but small purchasers have been in considerable number, and the aggregate amount of all kinds of wool taken by them during the week under review amounts to over 2,000,000 pounds, quite 78 per cent of which was domestic wool. Prices vary little from those of a week ago. The sales of the week amount to 1,788,000 pounds domestic, and 504,000 foreign, making a total of 2,292,000 pounds, against a total of 2,407,250 for the previous week, and total of 3,311,500 for the corresponding week last year. The sales since January 1, 1894, amount to 122,726,585 pounds, against [illegible] pounds a year ago. The sales in Philadelphia aggregate 1,240,000 pounds.

Dry Goods.

New York, Oct. 31.—On the part of the resident representatives of out-of-town houses there was an irregular demand for staple and colored cottons, also fancies for dress wear and shirtings. It has been a slow day, however, as the result of the heavy rain that lasted into the afternoon. On the part of both sellers and buyers there was an expectation of a better late trade. Printing cloths dull at 2⅝c for 64 squares.

Real Estate.

Black & Baird sold to W. F. Walls lot No. 329 in [illegible] plan, Duquesne Heights, for $200. [illegible] sold lot No. 124 in the Alta [illegible] company's plan, for $150.

FRESH EGGS IN DEMAND.

CHICKEN MARKET STEADY AND PRIME GRADES ARE ALWAYS IN REQUEST.

BUTTER SLIGHTLY FIRMER.

Refined Sugar Declines, and May Go Still Lower.

SUGAR PROTECTED BUT LITTLE.

Wednesday, Oct. 31.

The butter market is slightly firmer on prime grades of creamery, and, with a little decline in supplies, would make a considerable advance. Common and medium brands of butter are quiet, and the demand for them is moderate. Good country butter is in fair demand. Strictly fresh-laid nearby eggs are always in request and bring top prices. Cold-storage and packed goods are not in so much demand, and are inclined toward ease. The chicken market is steady on a moderate demand, and prices have not changed to any marked extent as against recent quotations. Prime dressed chickens meet with a ready sale, and live stock is quiet and steady at about recent quotations.

Refined sugar is on the decline, and indications point to a still lower range. The refiners and jobbers are having a little war, and recently have been cutting under one another in a retaliatory spirit. A sugar merchant contributes the following concerning sugar: "The price of American sugar refining company certificates is a reflection of a serious condition existing in the sugar market to-day, namely, an increase of 1,000,000 tons in the beet sugar crop abroad. How much of this increase will be used abroad cannot be ascertained, but it is certain that the surplus hangs as a dead weight over the market.

"This, in connection with the sugar schedule, is the trouble with the market at the present time. Under the old schedule there would be no danger of the foreign sugar coming in, but under the new schedule there is serious danger, and refiners must drop the price of sugar to keep it out.

"The press of the entire country has been against the American sugar refining company, claiming that the sugar schedule was drafted by the company. This is an absurdity. The truth of the matter is that the company has very little protection, but the press will not take back water, and now raises the hue and cry that the price of refined sugar and the American sugar refining company certificates all come about through manipulation. This is simply ignorance on their part and is untrue."

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 31.—The run of cattle was unexpectedly heavy, something like 20,000 head arriving. Naturally a weaker feeling obtained. In common to good grades the weakness amounted to a decline, but the few choice and extra steers on sale were closed out at nearly steady prices. All of the latter were easily disposed of, and the bulk of the lower grades were ultimately worked off, though it was a dragging market from start to finish. The supply was made up of about 10,000 natives, 7,000 westerns and 3,000 Texas cattle. Natives were quoted at $1 00@6 25; westerns at $1 75@4 65, and Texans at $1 25@3 25. Sales were principally at $1 75@5 25 for natives, and $2 15@3 30 for westerns. Receipts since Saturday have been about 5,500 head, more than for the same time last week.

Sellers of hogs secured a good advance to-day. They held them 5@10c above yesterday's prices, and had the satisfaction of seeing the pens emptied at that advance. The demand was strong, being stimulated by the upturn in provisions and the fact that to-day's receipts were several thousand head short of the number looked for. The tone of the market appeared healthier than for a long time, and there was a feeling that the weakest spot has been passed, at least for the present. Shippers and local packers both bought right and left, and if any hogs remained unsold it was not because of light demand. Heavy hogs were wanted at $4 80@4 85, and prime light weights were readily salable at $4 60@4 65, and it was a very poor article that could not be turned off at better than $4 35. However, there were many sales below that figure, the arrivals including a good deal of poor stuff. Sales of light hogs were largely at $4 40@4 55, and the prevailing price for heavy weights—averages of over 250 pounds—was $4 50@4 70. The close was quite 10c higher than Tuesday.

Sales of sheep and lambs were at strong prices. The arrivals were again moderate, and the demand reasonably active, and, although sellers do not get any further decided advance, the trend of the market was upward. Quotations ranged from $1 00 to $3 25 for sheep, and from $1 75 to $4 25 for lambs. Most of the trading was at $2 90@2 75 for the former, and at $3 00@4 00 for the latter.

NEWS FROM THE OIL FIELDS.

The Sutton Oil Company Get a Large Well at Sistersville.

The Craig No. 1 on the Craig farm at Sistersville came in yesterday, and is reported a very big well. It is the property of the Sutton oil company.

The Moore No. 2 on the Moore farm at McDonald met with a slight accident yesterday, and work will be stopped for a few days. It belongs to the Forest oil company.

The Brooklin well at Brooklin, Susquehanna county, is drilled in about 2,000 feet and still far from the sand. It is an experimental well in this territory, and oil is expected from the surface indications of oil and gas. There are no other wells within 30 miles. A New York company is at the back of the movement.

The board of directors of the Washington oil company have called a special meeting of the stockholders on December 13, to be held at their office in Washington, Pa., to vote for a decrease of the capital stock. It is now $600,000, and they wish to decrease it to $450,000. The capital stock was formerly $1,000,000.

RELIC OF BY-GONE DAYS.

A Hunter's Knife Found in a Two-Century-Old Tree.

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 31.—In the heart of a large pine tree, 3½ feet in diameter, James Miller, of Martinette found a knife that was about a foot long and an inch and a half wide. The age of the tree is estimated by good judges to be over 200 years, and the knife was buried in it when the tree was in its infancy, for it was right near the heart, and only about six feet from the base. It was found inclined, as if it had been stuck in there by some one and forgotten. The growth of a century threw its vegetable mantle about the hunter's tool and left it for posterity to discover in such an accidental manner.

Reading Stockholders Assent.

Philadelphia, Oct. 31.—This was the first day for assenting to the new plan for the reconstruction of the Reading railroad company. In round numbers the holders of $2,000,000 general mortgage bonds deposited their securities, and affixed their signatures to the agreement before 3 p. m., the first to do so being ex-Chief Justice Edward M. Paxson, one of the receivers of the company.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

FREIGHT BUSINESS OF LOCAL LINES CONTINUES TO MOVE FORWARD.

MR. CALDWELL'S RECORD.

He Started as a Pennsylvania Railroad Clerk.

WHAT THE LOCAL MEN ARE DOING

Freight business still continues to boom, and cars are getting scarcer. The officials of the eastern and western roads centering in Pittsburg and Allegheny are much encouraged by the good showing of the past several weeks. The month of October has showed a remarkable gain in freight business over previous months of the year. The shipments of coal and iron ore were especially large, and the prospects are that the November shipments will exceed the October record. There remains only two more weeks of the lake season, and the coal and ore shipments are sure to keep up to the limit during that time. It is estimated that the amount of coal sent to the northwest by the lakes during the past three months is greater than at any equal period in many years. This was caused by the strike in April and May, which caused most of the coaling points to become exhausted. Secretary S. P. Liggett, of the Pennsylvania company, in speaking of the present freight business said:

"The ore shipments on the Pennsylvania company lines for October are far ahead of any other month for a long period. The general freight shipments have also made a very satisfactory tonnage. Roads east and west are doing a fine business, and would be doing even better were the cars forthcoming. We are hardly able to fill the orders, but manage it pretty well, considering everything."

Representatives of other roads make similar statements, saying their lines are taxed almost to the limit.

President Newell's Successor.

Mr. D. W. Caldwell, who has been elected to the presidency of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway to succeed the late John Newell, is a former Pittsburger, and has been a railroad man for 44 years. He started at the bottom, first going into the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company as a clerk. This was in 1852, and three years later he became a civil engineer. In 1855 he was made superintendent of the Pittsburg & Connellsville railroad, and in 1859 took the superintendency of the Central Ohio railway. He held that position for 10 years, and then became general superintendent of the Columbus, Chicago & Indiana Central railway. In 1874 he was made general manager of all the Pennsylvania company lines west of Pittsburg, and was stationed here until 1882, when he was elected vice-president of the Nickle Plate. He was also appointed receiver for that line, and on October 1, 1887, he was elected president, which position he now holds.

An Old-Time Track.

When the track of the Mad River & Cincinnati railroad, which was the first constructed west of the Allegheny mountains, was laid, it was composed of cross-ties, and scantling laid along them to which strips of scrap iron were fastened. Only two feet of the track remains. It is part of a siding leading to an abandoned grain elevator in [illegible], O. The Big Four will likely [illegible] place it on exhibition.

Sparks From the Rail.

The passenger trainmen of the Panhandle will appear in their new uniforms to-day.

P. [illegible] Pyle, of the dispatcher's office, Union depot, has gone to visit his friends at Mt. Joy, Pa.

The Atchison road will run homeseekers' excursions to Texas during November and December.

Mrs. A. B. Crouch, wife of Agent Crouch, of the Pittsburg & Western at Butler, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

John McCune, the well-known night watchman at Johnstown, has returned home after a visit of several days in Pittsburg.

Charles S. Bartheld, assistant civil engineer of the West Penn division, is on duty after a three weeks' siege of illness.

Conductor E. K. Bierer, of the Pennsylvania railroad, is again punching tickets, after a three weeks' attack of pneumonia.

A Pennsylvania railroad local freight was wrecked at a street crossing in Latrobe Monday noon, and not a person was injured.

Trainmen on the mountain divisions of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio roads report extreme cold during the nights. Snow has fallen.

Lyman A. Jackson, of Purchasing Agent Evans's office, Pittsburg & Lake Erie, has returned from Sheppler, where he spent his two weeks' vacation.

The Southern Pacific company is spending many thousands of dollars in advertising and fine trains in order to get the cream of southern passenger traffic to California.

Conductor William French, of the Pittsburg & Western, has left for Conneaut Lake, where he will hunt for small game for a few days, and then will go to Virginia for deer.

The Union depot employes were treated to all the attractions of a bench show yesterday. No less than a hundred sportsmen left for hunting grounds, to be ready for the game season, which opens to-day. Nearly every one of them had from one to three dogs.

Robert D. Johnston, station agent at Port Perry for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company the past year, was appointed agent at the Braddock station of the company. He succeeds George F. Fuller, who died last week.

For the first time in many years Depot Passenger Agent John Kelly, of the Pennsylvania railroad, yesterday accidentally met Major Elmer Lowery, of Cameron, Mo. They were former associates in the railroad business in the west. When Major Kelly was with the Ft. Wayne company at Omaha, Major Lowery was running between that place and Cheyenne.

The Proposed Farmer Tax.

Steubenville, O., Oct. 30, 1894.

To the Editor of The Post:

How can the councils of Pittsburg include, in the ordinance to tax farmers selling produce, "farmers from other states?" when the United States supreme court, on the 30th of April, 1894, in the case of I. W. Brennan, plaintiff in error, vs the city of Titusville, decided that "no state can levy a tax on interstate commerce in any form, whether by way of duties laid on transportation of the subjects of that commerce, or on the receipts derived from that transportation, or on the occupation or business of carrying it on." If this decision protects farmers living in Ohio, why should Pennsylvania farmers be taxed?

Judge Furst Will Resign.

Bellefonte, Pa., Oct. 31.—President Judge A. O. Furst, of the Center-Huntingdon district, announces that he will send his resignation to the governor, to take effect November 15. He says the reason he takes this action is that he desires to resume his law practice before the spring term. Judge Furst's term expires on the first Monday of January, 1895. He says a judge in this district has more work to perform than any other judge in the state.

BLESS PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruff Were Restored by It to Perfect Health.

"There is no doubt that the life of most women at the present day is a complex one," says the "Ladies' Home Journal," "and in the large cities the demands made upon time and strength are legion. No wonder so many fall by the way."

Even women of the privileged classes know what fatigue means, and the weariness resulting from overtaxed nerves, that is more intense and more depressing than anything known to tired muscles.

When frequent headaches and neuralgia give warning that the nerve tissues are not being fully repaired after hard work or anxiety, further mischief will be avoided by feeding the brain and nerves with the wonderful nutriment, Paine's celery compound.

Nature is a gentle mother and soothes while she strengthens.

Paine's celery compound builds up the body according to nature's plan.

The human machine must have fuel. This grand invigorator and strengthener is able to restore the delicate nerves to robust health by feeding them rapidly and abundantly with the peculiar elements they find it so difficult to extract for themselves from the ordinary hearty diet. A great nerve doctor, famous in two continents, says that any woman whose nervous strength is at all depleted must either take time to rest at any cost or replace the wornout tissues with Paine's celery compound.

A woman should never be too tired to smile.

Paine's celery compound is to-day busy in its mission to homes everywhere in the land, making sunshine, hopeful faces, and ready smiles where there was sadness and the weary looks of despair.

Mrs. Jennie A. Ruff, whose portrait is given above, writing from her home in Sebewa, Mich., says:

"My husband has had a stomach trouble for over a year, from which he suffered the tortures of a daily death. He could eat scarcely anything, and what he did eat soured on his stomach and caused him to bloat so terribly that life was only a burden. He tried physicians to no avail, and as I was taking Paine's celery compound, he thought he would try it. In a short time he was surprised to find that he could eat anything with no bad effects; the bloating is all gone and his stomach is in good condition.

"I had suffered for years with periodical spells of sick headache; pen cannot describe what I suffered at such times. For the last two years I noticed that my nervous system was getting all out of order; I had no appetite, and was getting to be a mere shadow of my former self. I was nervous, weak, could not rest nights, and felt gloomy and low spirited. Before I had taken one bottle of Paine's celery compound I began to feel like a new person, and now, after taking six bottles, I am enjoying perfect health. I have not had a spell of sick headache in over a year. My nerves are all right, my sleep is like that of a healthy child, and I feel more like one than like a woman of 30. I do all my own work and bless Paine's celery compound for what it has done for me and mine.

"We have used in our family 12 or 15 bottles of Paine's celery compound. Doctors' bills are now unknown in our family."

NAPOLEON'S ESCAPES.

He Seemed to Live in a Charmed Circle, and Went About With No Fear.

In reply to the question in what engagements he considered himself to have been in the greatest danger of losing his life Napoleon once said: "In the commencement of my campaigns." Indeed, if further proof were demanded to show that he did not spare himself at Toulon it is only necessary to add that during the 10 weeks of its siege Napoleon, in addition to a bayonet wound in his thigh, and three horses shot under him; while at the siege of Acre, during the expedition to Egypt, he lost no fewer than four in the same manner.

During the last days of his life, when captivity, disappointment, and sickness had well-nigh completed their work, it is said that the agony of his fatal disease drew from him on many occasions the pitiful cry of, "Why did the cannon balls spare me?"

During his long military career Napoleon fought 60 battles, while Caesar fought but 50. In the early part of his career he was utterly reckless of danger while on the battlefield and this spirit of fearlessness contributed largely to the love and esteem in which he was held by his armies. There was a curious belief among the English in Napoleon's time that he had never been wounded, and indeed the report was current that he carefully, if not in a cowardly manner, refrained from exposing himself. Nothing could be more contrary to the truth, for he was in reality several times severely wounded, but as he wished to impress upon his troops the belief that good fortune never deserted him and that, like Achilles, he was well nigh invulnerable he always made a secret of his many dangers. He therefore enjoined, once for all, upon the part of his immediate staff the most absolute silence regarding all circumstances of this nature, for it is almost impossible to calculate the confusion and disorder which would have resulted from the slightest report or the smallest doubt relative to his existence. Upon the single thread of this man's life depended not only the fate and government of a great empire, but the whole policy and destiny of Europe as well, and "The Pittsburg Post" feels certain that its serial history to begin publication in these columns on Monday, November 5, under the title "Military Career of Napoleon the Great," will attract general attention.

Satisfaction for a Board Bill.

Henry Thoma, an East End hotelkeeper, is under $500 bail for a hearing before Alderman Toole, Monday, on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by Mike Boden. Boden, it is said, is a prize fighter, and was taken to Thoma's hotel after a fight he had with Tim Scanlan at McKees Rocks, on October 18. A few days after, it is said, Boden left without paying his hotel bill, and, when Thoma met him on the street, he struck him on the head and hand with a hand-billy, injuring him badly.

Death in an Open Switch.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—Express train No. 7, on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, northbound, dashed into a freight standing on an open switch at Foster, 27 miles north of here, at 1 o'clock this morning. Three persons were killed, as follows: Engineer James Lynott, Scranton; Fireman Elmer Scull, Moscow; Fireman William Hosey, Binghamton. The train was a through one from New York, and was due in Buffalo at 7:10 this morning.

DAY FOR THANKSGIVING.

THE PRESIDENT ISSUES HIS ANNUAL PROCLAMATION.

What the American People Should Be Grateful For.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The president today issued the following:

By the president of the United States of America.

The American people should gratefully render thanksgiving and praise to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, who has watched over them with kindness and fostering care during the year that has passed; they should also with humility and faith supplicate the Father of All Mercies for continued blessings according to their needs, and they should by deeds of charity seek the favor of the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

Therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November, inst., as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to be kept and observed by all the people of the land. On that day let our ordinary work and business be suspended, and let us meet in our accustomed places of worship and give thanks to Almighty God for our preservation as a nation, for our immunity from disease and pestilence, for the harvests that have rewarded our husbandry, for a renewal of national prosperity, and for every advance in virtue and intelligence that has marked our growth as a people.

And with our thanksgiving let us pray that these blessings be multiplied unto us, that our national conscience may be quickened to a better recognition of the power and goodness of God, and that in our national life we may clearer see and closer follow the path of righteousness. And in our places of worship and praise, as well as in the happy reunions of kindred and friends on that day, let us invoke divine approval by generously remembering the poor and needy. Surely He who has given us comfort and plenty will look upon our relief of the destitute and our ministrations of charity as the work of hearts truly grateful, and as proofs of the sincerity of our thanksgiving. Witness my hand and the seal of the United States, which I have caused to be hereto affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, on the 1st day of November, in the year of our Lord, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and nineteenth.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

By the president:
W. Q. GRESHAM,
Secretary of State.

Three New Postmasters.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The president has appointed the following postmasters: Jesse J. Blue, vice S. B. Welch, at Montpelier, O.; Charles Evers, vice George Russell, at Napoleon, O.; B. Frank Bean, vice A. L. Shomo, at Hamburg, Pa.

Bids for the Free Bridge.

The new Southside free bridge is expected to be finished by November 1 of next year. Director Bigelow has the specifications prepared, and to-day will advertise for bids for its construction. The plans call for a steel structure to cost approximately $400,000. Mr. Bigelow expects to award the contract in two weeks.

The Dishes and the Cooks.

The housekeeper knows the trouble that comes about through the peculiar weaknesses of some kinds of cooks and some kinds of dishes. The cook that never breaks a dish doesn't exist; but the cook that breaks the fewest is a treasure indeed.

Did you ever think that, often, it's the dishes, and not the servant, that are at fault?

We place our experience and advice at the service of our customers in the selection of GOOD DISHES, whether the finest porcelains or the lowest-priced china. But if purchased here it may be depended upon to be the very best of its kind, and in no instance the sort of cheap china that so many department stores are now selling.

It Doesn't Matter

Whether the weather is warm or cool. Ladies know that it MUST get cool soon, and when they see such exquisite, stylish

CAPES and JACKETS

At such low prices as ours, then they're going to buy, and that is what they're doing right along.

Take, for example, FUR CAPES. There isn't one that you can buy here that isn't of carefully selected fur, satin lined throughout, long and with the new wide sweep. In fact, just the cape you want and can rely on.

Long reversed Coney Capes at $6, $8 and $10.

Real Astrakhan Capes at $6.75, $9, $13.50, $18.50 and up.

Fine Electric Seal Capes—a splendid imitation of the genuine, but prices about one-twentieth—$9, $13.50, $16.50 and up.

Marten-edged Wool Seal Capes—an exquisite cape at $18.

Monkey Capes—the rough fur you see so much, $24 and upward.

Then the finer Capes—genuine marten, at $60 and $70, etc. Next, genuine Mink at $75 and $95 and up, and then Real Seal to as high as you wish.

SILK PLUSH CAPES—A few left of those manufacturers' samples of newest Capes that are selling fast at 50c on the dollar.

GOLF CAPES—What kind do you wish? Cloth lined or silk lined? Plaid or fancy? No wish that cannot be gratified here at $6.75, $8, $9, $13.50 and up.

JACKETS—It would take a whole newspaper to tell you about them. You can see more in five minutes than you could read about in five hours. Everything that is NEW and CHOICE and DESIRABLE is here at $3.50, and by easy steps of 50c up to $25.

SUITS—Made in our own workrooms. No two exactly alike. The price is just as low as if you bought one of a thousand fac-similes. Equal in every respect to your dressmaker's work—except the price. That's less than half.

NEW BOOKS!

Round the Red Lamp,

By A. CONAN DOYLE.

The "Red Lamp," the trade mark, as it were, of the English country practitioner's office, is the central point of these dramatic stories of professional life. There are no secrets for the surgeon, and, a surgeon himself as well as a novelist, the author has made a most artistic use of the motives and springs of action revealed to him in a field of which he is the master.

The Lilac Sunbonnet,

A Love Story. By S. R. CROCKETT, author of "The Stickit Minister," "The Raiders," etc.

In this charming idyl the author adds a rare grace and delicacy to the qualities of sustained and dramatic narration which he has shown before. This is his first long novel since "The Raiders," and in the opinion of competent observers it represents his finest work.

Love in Idleness,

A TALE OF BAR HARBOUR. By F. MARION CRAWFORD, author of "Katherine Lauderdale," "Saracinesca," "A Roman Singer," etc. With illustrations reproduced from drawings and photographs. Crown 8vo, cloth, gilt, price $2.

"A FLASH OF SUMMER" by author of "Love Letters of a Worldly Woman."

"THE WATER GHOST AND OTHERS" by author of "Coffee and Repartee."

"POMONA'S TRAVELS" by Frank R. Stockton, illustrated by A. B. Frost.

"LILLIAN MORRIS" by author of "Fire and Sword."

"THE HERESY OF CAIN" by Dr. George Hodges, formerly rector of Calvary church, Pittsburgh.

"WEALTH VS COMMONWEALTH" by Henry D. Lloyd.

"HISTORY OF THE NAVY," VOL. II. (completing the work), by Edgar S. Maclay.

"TRILBY" is having a phenomenal sale and is undoubtedly the book of the year.
